

The "new boys"—as Senator Walker would say—did not know Senator Sullivan very well. However, those of us who did get to know him better will recall that he was a kind man: every time a new senator was introduced in the Senate, Senator Sullivan would never fail to greet him personally. I had that experience, as did several other "new" senators.

In addition, he always gave me the impression that he was in good shape, although in fact his failing health prevented him from attending our sittings.

Senator Sullivan stood as an example and a symbol of Canadian life. He was outstanding in all sport, professional, religious and political endeavours, as Senator Roblin pointed out. We are confident that his resignation will not be the end of his career, and we extend to our colleague Senator Sullivan our best wishes for a long and happy life.

Hon. David A. Croll: Honourable senators, I wish the Leader of the Government would give us notice of an occasion such as this so that we can prepare something instead of having to speak off the cuff. We are not all first class at doing that. Sometimes, when we read the tributes, we wonder whether they meant anything at all. The tributes paid today are very good, but instead of keeping the occasion a secret between the Leader of the Government and the Leader of the Opposition, we too should be let in on it.

Senator Roblin: I wish to apologize to my honourable friend. He has an excellent point and I express my regret that he was not informed. It does appear on the Clerk's Scroll, which is available to the leadership of the house, but, of course, my honourable friend has no means of knowing what is on the Clerk's Scroll. So I will undertake, insofar as I can, that I will try not to trespass in this respect in future.

HIS EXCELLENCY JAVIER PEREZ DE CUELLAR
SECRETARY-GENERAL, UNITED NATIONS
ORGANIZATION

ADDRESS TO MEMBERS OF BOTH HOUSES

Hon. C. William Doody (Deputy Leader of the Government): Honourable senators, I move that the address of the Secretary-General of the United Nations Organization, His Excellency Javier Perez De Cuellar, to members of both houses of Parliament, delivered on March 7, 1985, together with the introductory speech by the Right Honourable the Prime Minister of Canada and the speeches delivered by the Speaker of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Commons, be printed as an appendix to the Debates of the Senate of this day.

The Hon. the Speaker: Is it agreed, honourable senators?

Hon. Senators: Agreed.

Motion agreed to.
