have been looking forward with more at the Princess Theatre with matin ee on Wednesday, in her new play "Glorious Betsy."

The scenes of this play are laid in America and France, and its story deals with the courtship, love and marriage of Elizabeth Patterson Baltimore to Jerome Bonaparte during his visit to America in 1803.

A drama of the mountains of Color-ado is entitled "At Cripple Creek," and will be the closing attraction at the Majestic Theatre, opening with a rratinee to-day. "At Cripple Creek" tells a simple story of pure heart interest, absorbing, dramatic and pow erful. Many novel effects are intro-duced and sensation follows sensation with breathless rapidity.

Shea's Theatre closed for the season Saturday night to reopen on or about Aug. 5.

Altho the weather last week was not the best for park-goers, large numbers visited Hanlan's Point and enjoyed themselves. There is so much to amuse both old and young that one cannot but have a good time. This week the leading free attraction will be Capt. Webb's performing seals and sea lions This noted Arctic explorer was the first to train these peculiar animals.
