LIVERPOOL NOT HEART STEADY.

Chicago Futures Were Half a Cent Higher.

Wheat Market Responded to Yesterday's Advance in the Former—More Concerning Russia's Evaluative Grain Crop—Very Contradictory Advice—Local Market Prices—Notes and Gossip.

Wednesday Evening, Nov. 9. Liverpool wheat futures opened strong this morning, and, though easier later, maintained yesterday's good gain to a full Paris wheat declined 5 to 15 cents today, with flour off to the same extent.

Chicago partially responded to yesterday's advance in Liverpool, holding strong, with a good cash demand, and showing 1/2 cent advance above the previous daily figures for all deliveries.

Liverpool maize today advanced 1/4 to 1/2 per cent. Chicago corn, after some early weakness, closed with an advance of 1/4 per bushel for the day.

Receipts of wheat at Minneapolis and Duluth for two days, 2564 cars, against 1190 the same period last year.

December wheat puts at Chicago, 65c; oats, 65c. May corn puts, 35c; call, 54c.

During the political excitement, No. 2 red winter wheat advanced 3/4 per quarter in Liverpool between Oct. 18 and Oct. 25. This is equal to 9c per bushel. The advance in Chicago and New York was not quite so large as the grain has advanced in ocean freights.

Argentina—The Corn Trade News reports two failures of 14, 257. Frost has done partial harm, and the weather continues too cold. Advances recurring; reports of crop damage are exaggerated.

France—The Paris correspondent of The Liverpool Corn Trade News, Oct. 22, reports that, owing to favorable weather during interior markets, Millers will not buy more than they actually need, and it is difficult to present it as a matter that the interest in the French affair—real or imaginary—has given way to some extent.

Antwerp, Oct. 22—A steady and considerable business was done until Friday, Oct. 21, when the reaction of the weather checked the trade after that afternoon, and not a single sack of wheat was reported to-day, only here and there some resales of parcels took place.

Austria's official report says: Oats satisfactory in quantity and quality, and the same can be said of the grain harvest generally.

The Corn Trade News reports Canadian news quoted in London at 6 1/2 per 100 lbs. on Oct. 23. On same day, No. 1 Northern spring wheat, which that market at 3 1/2 to 3 3/4 per 480 lbs.

Cas receipts of grain at Chicago to-day: Wheat 457, corn 868, oats 363.

Exports at New York to-day: Flour, 6985 barrels and 19,940 sacks; wheat, 707, 452 bushels.

Bradstreet's World's Visible. Bradstreet's returns showed last week's increase in the world's visible stock supply to have totalled $3,000,000,000 against an increase for the same week of 1897 of $2,100,000,000.

The world's corn visible last week decreased 1,000,000 bushels, and the oats visible 600,000 bushels.

About Russia's Crop. In yesterday's issue was published a Broomball cable giving the estimate of the Russian Minister of Agriculture of this year's grain crop. This estimate, with a comparison with those of 1897, and a comparison with the figures for the figures for the crop of 1897, which was reported last March, the final estimate of the Central Statistical Committee on the grain crops of all the 71 Governments of the country. As the discrepancy between the then and present estimates for 1897 crop is very important, the following table is given in illustration of this:

Table with 3 columns: Crop, Present Estimate, and Past Estimate. Rows include Wheat, Rye, Barley, Corn, and Oats.

It is difficult to reconcile the above estimate for the crop of 1898 with the frequent reports of complete failure of crops and great distress in so many countries producing Governments of the Empire.

Last season we had the same kind of ailment in California, which was attributed to the Government, local, and in our ready seeking for means to keep the peasants from famine. Reuter telegraphed from St. Petersburg that the Government have decided to appeal to the zemstvo's in aid in securing the famished peasants in those districts where the harvest has failed. In Tambov and Kuzne 210,000 is required to partly relieve distress. In an immense territory in Russia, there may be districts of great crop failure, although there may be a good average crop in the Empire as a whole.

The Odessa correspondent of The Liverpool Corn Trade News writes in our issue as well as that of Nikoloff, the harvest of wheat and barley was over the average; in fact, about double the yield obtained in 1897; but growers are not all eager to sell their grain, as they hope to obtain better prices later, and have no pressing need of money. Actual arrivals are relatively small, but the movement may last throughout the season, whilst last season little or nothing came forward after December, and in the spring there was but little business passing, much of it being forgotten.

The very low water level in the Danube and Dnieper, which rendered it difficult to bring down the goods, also our railway does not possess sufficient cars for the transport of grain. The rumors which have been circulated to the effect that the export of cereals from Russia would be prohibited have no foundation at all.

Effects of War on Wheat Prices. The Corn Trade News furnishes several illustrations of the effect of war on price of wheat. In 1852-53, prior to the war with Russia, the annual average price of English wheat was 44s 7d; in 1853-54, 47s 11d; in 1854-55, 70s 1d; in 1855-56, 73s 11d; in 1856-57, 60s 1d; in 1857-58, 47s 8d. In the Franco-Prussian war, which broke out in July in 1870, prices rose about 3s per quarter in the first fortnight, from about 45s 6d to 54s 6d. In the war between Russia and Turkey, which broke out late in April, 1877, the advance took place mostly before the 1st of June, there having been a rise of 10s per quarter in the early weeks of April, followed by a further jump of 21s in the level of 6s per quarter on May 1, 1877. The news points out how phenomenal are the rises occurring from wars in which Britain is engaged.

WALL-ST. STOCKS HIGHER

Considerable Strength on London Buying.

Effects of the Election Not Very Marked—Canadian Securities Still Pretty Dull—Money Rates and Foreign Exchange—New York, London and Canadian Quotations—Notes and Gossip.

Wednesday Evening, Nov. 9. On this morning election day Wall-street stocks have taken no violent turn either up or down. The returns this morning seemed to leave the Republicans still masters of the situation, which was reflected in the London market. Consolidated buying orders were in from London and the list moved upwards from the opening.

Canadian securities continued rather dull but fairly firm. War angle sold up to 250, and Cariboo closed at 115, against 110 at the opening.

London and Canadian Quotations. The market was rather quiet, but the market closed with good gains for the day in most issues.
