

ITALIAN SOCIALIST HARSHLY CONDEMNS THE KING'S SPEECH

Catholics and Socialists Clash in Chamber.

SPEECH A DEAD THING

Deputy Declares King's Pronouncement List of Everything Left Undone.

ROME, Tuesday, Dec. 9.—Deputy Biondi, Socialist, and Deputy Crispoldi, Catholic, discussed in the Chamber today King Victor Emmanuel's speech from the throne. The former denounced every part of the king's address. He declared that the Socialist group was in favor of a republic, but because of their love of a republic, but in order to insure the triumph of socialism.

Deputy Crispoldi criticized the failure of the king to give emphasis on the development of education, but lauded the speech as a whole. He was much tickled by the Socialists, who objected to his compliments to the king, saying his party had recognized the pope, and not the king as their head, always calling the latter a usurper.

When Deputy Crispoldi spoke favorably of the king, the Socialists, who are in the majority, hissed and shouted: "What we want is a society of peoples."

Not Only Victor. Deputy Crispoldi said: "One thing alone can save us in this critical situation. That is a spirit of Christian resignation." The Catholics applauded, but the Socialists again hissed and shouted: "Shame on you, scoundrels!" The deputy said the object of the Catholics was to bring about a vast economic, social and moral reconstruction. Turning to the Socialists, he declared: "You were not alone the victors in the general election, but we also." The Socialists shouted: "Unfortunates!"

Deputy Crispoldi asserted that governmental institutions must be made more popular among the masses. He urged the Government to protect those who fought for Italy and those who still wore the military uniform. He said his party desired legal recognition of all Catholic organizations. The Socialists interrupted, and the deputy explained that the party desired that this recognition be extended to all organizations without distinction of faith. He praised the Socialists for their work in raising the masses from ignorance. The Socialists retorted: "When we did this your priests were against us." Crispoldi retorted: "The Catholics have not been insensible to the cry of sorrow of the Italians."

Voice of People. Deputy Biondi declared: "We wish a labor representation. Labor cannot find expression in parliament since the parliament is against us." The war emphasized responsibility of constituted powers, even those powers considered irresponsible. The speech from the throne is a dead thing. It has always been the same thing since 1848, when the constitution was granted. Three speeches are a list of everything which has not been done in Italy. The voice of the people has spoken much louder through the elections than the speech from the throne. You all say we were elected through the indulgence of those who did not vote, but even those who remained at home expressed their discontent by not voting. November 10 was a moral revolution, and the triumph of socialism occurred, because the masses desired radical change. You have promised to fight the high cost of living, while prices mount daily. I advise you to add to the answer to the speech from the throne the great voice of the proletariat.

DUTCH DEPUTY SAYS EX-KAISER PROVING MENACE TO HOLLAND

Urges That Question of His Extradition Be Seriously Considered.

THE HAGUE, Dec. 10.—(By the Associated Press).—"If previously we have not regarded him as a danger to our country, he is now proving to be a danger," said Deputy Samens in the Chamber of Deputies today, referring to former Emperor William of Germany. The deputy was dealing with a book written by Carl Kautsky, a German socialist, which Samens declared showed that the former emperor was the cause of the world war. The data in Kautsky's book is said to have been obtained from official archives in Berlin.

Deputy Samens asked the Government to reconsider the question of the return of Emperor William to the question of his extradition.

This incident constitutes the first serious anti-kaiser movement to occur in the Dutch Parliament.
