

SOLDIERS' COMFORTS COVERS WIDE AREA

Mrs. Van Koughnet Tells of Work Being Done Thruout Dominion

Mrs. Arthur Van Koughnet, who did such magnificent work for the soldiers during the war, is still on duty. Yesterday, when seen by a representative of The World, she had just returned from visiting St. Anne de Bellevue Hospital, where she is in the mental department, under the care of "Soldiers' Comforts," of which Mrs. Van Koughnet is honorary superintendent.

"It is a large airy place about an hour's ride from Montreal, and the thing that strikes one is the work being done in strengthening the patients, both physically and mentally," was Mrs. Van Koughnet's report. "They have had a great many indoor games, which are supplied from Toronto. Now they are arranging to have tennis and croquet. A good deal of the cure is to have all the outdoor life possible. The patients are all under treatment, the house doctors being helped by specialists who come in and out from Montreal. A number of the men in the mental department are able to take up vocational work just as in the other hospitals, and the things they do in basketry and other things are wonderful. My work was to take the sun-rooms were comfortable furnished; that there were a sufficient number of writing-tables, and enough in the way of amusement. This week we were sending a piano for one of the wards," was the way Mrs. Van Koughnet spoke of some of the things she is doing. There are about 200 men in the hospital, some from Quebec, the Maritime Provinces and Cobourg. Others are being added to the number. The soothing influence that the nursing sisters have upon the patients was among the things commented upon by the visitor.

Wide Area Covered. Another institution taken in on the tour was the Prince of Wales Hospital on Dorchester street, Montreal. The library there is particularly attractive. The books with bright red and other colored bindings are all protected by lattice work, painted white, the combination being both cheery and artistic. Belmont House, which is also for the military, was spoken of as an example of the wonderful things that had been done in the matter of transforming private homes into hospitals or for other service needed for returned men.

How "Soldiers' Comforts" caters to a wide area is seen by a list of things done yesterday from the headquarters on King street. Paints and easels went out to Muskoka; indoor games, smokes, pipes, and fruit, went all the way to Regina; quilts, volley balls, basket-balls and four dozen wands went to Westminister Hospital; two tents went to a tubercular home, one for the patient and the other for his family; still another patient received an awning for the verandah, and spinal deck and wheel chairs went to the local military hospital. Two days ago ice-cream and fruit went to Guelph, helping to bring about a very successful band concert. When The World called the whirl of work was still on, with the faithful superintendent still at her task, the assistants had finished for the day and street cars were loading up outside with the city's thousands of tired workers.

JOHN H. PACKER, well-known electrical engineer, of Liberty, Mo., who says that to look at him today no one would ever take him to be the same man he was before Tanlae restored his health. Has gained forty-four pounds.

"For two years previous to the time I began taking Tanlae, I lived principally on a raw-egg diet. During this time I was laid up in the hospital for five months and practically no hope was held out for my recovery. I don't suppose any man had a worse case of stomach trouble than I did, in fact they said I could not live. "Tanlae did not seem to help me much at first, and I had almost made up my mind to give it up, but if I had given it up it would have been the mistake of my life. I stuck to it for a fair test and am thankful that I did, for after finishing my last bottle, I found my appetite was better and I noticed myself improving. "This encouraged me to keep on taking it and in two months I was able to eat a good square meal and digest it as good as anybody. Then it wasn't long until I got so I could go back to my work and at the time I had finished my last bottle, I found I had actually gained forty-four pounds in weight. "To look at me today no one would ever take me to be any man I was when I began taking Tanlae." The above remarkable statement was made recently by John H. Packer, well-known electrical engineer of Liberty, Missouri.

Tanlae is sold in Toronto by Tamblin drug stores and by an established agency in every town.

NEW SONG OF CARUSO.

A new Victrola record by Enrico Caruso is always an event in the musical world. Just now he is singing an English love song, in the English language, entitled, "Love Me or Not"—and he sings it in a manner no different from what music lovers have been so prone to associate with Caruso as to yield an astonishing surprise to those who think they may have measured in full the versatility of so great an artist. This is a 12-inch record, price $2.00, obtainable in the "Victrola Parlors" of 30 Olds Fifth Avenue, Toronto, 123-127 Yonge street, Toronto.

Feisal Said to Have Agreed To French Ultimatum Terms

London, July 21.—A despatch from Egypt to the French authorities here today says it is reported that Emir Feisal, head of the Syrian state, has accepted the terms of the French ultimatum. There has not as yet, however, been any official confirmation of this report, and latest despatches to the British foreign office from Egypt say the French have declared that a state of war exists between the French and Arabs.

Nothing has been received at the foreign office to indicate that Feisal will accept the ultimatum terms.

BUSINESS IS BRISK ON 'HOOTCH' ROUTE

Doings Along Canadian Border
Are Occasioning
Lively Interest.

New York, July 21.—The "hootch" route from Canada to the United States is attracting considerable attention in the New York newspapers of late. One indignant correspondent tells The World what he thinks of conditions in border towns on the Canadian side of the border, which, he declares, are now attracting thousands of thirty cents from the land of the eighteenth amendment.

Writing from Rouse's Point, N.Y., this gentleman says:

As a travelling salesman I became interested in watching the operations of the wet element in obviating the provisions of the 18th amendment and afterwards was appalled by the ease with which it was accomplished.

When I reached the enterprising and well-organized village of Champlain, I saw how easily the bootlegger's thirst was assuaged without apparently violating any law at all.

"The Canadian line is the north boundary of that village (a short mile from the postoffice). There is a roadhouse just over the line fully stocked with all the wet goods known to the trade. On the day of my investigation (which was Sunday, by the way), thirty-seven automobiles were parked close up to the international boundary, and others were coming and going constantly. I found United States customs officers patrolling the frontier, but absolutely helpless in suppressing the traffic, for no one essayed to bring parcels across which might be seized. Each returning automobile had cashed his cargo where nothing short of a surgical operation could reach it. In the procession were cars from towns over a hundred miles distant. I am informed that this performance is continuous, but particularly strong on Sundays.

"The better class of people in these border towns are incensed at these conditions, but no one is able to suggest a remedy. They would gladly return to the old system of a legalized and regulated traffic with stringent provisions for controlling the business."

SHOT IN SHOULDER.

S. Pohorelec, a Russian railroad laborer, was shot in the left shoulder by a robber, who entered a G.T.R. car at the York railway yards early yesterday morning. Pohorelec was awakened by two masked robbers searching for money. Pohorelec attempted to take hold of one of the gunmen and was shot. He was admitted to the General Hospital yesterday. His condition is not serious. A loaded billy, made of the thick part of a billiard cue, was found by Detective Whitelaw on the tracks.

PHILADELPHIA FIREMEN KILLED

Philadelphia, July 21.—Two firemen lost their lives and ten others were injured today in a fire that destroyed a five-story building occupied by Fritz and LaRue, Inc., rug and carpet dealers. A long extension ladder, down which two men trapped on an upper floor had been brought, broke as the firemen were descending, hurling most of them to the ground.

NEARLY ASPHYXIATED.

T. J. Collins, of Lindsay, Ont., was found unconscious at 11 o'clock last night in his room in the House, Simcoe and Front streets. Gas was escaping from a partly turned on jet. Collins was rushed to the police ambulance to the General Hospital. His condition is not thought to be serious. The electric fixture and gas jet are both together, and it is believed by the police Collins turned the gas jet on in trying to light the electric light and did not turn the gas off.

POPULACE IN ROME ATTACK TRAMWAY MEN

London, July 21.—A despatch to the Central News from Rome says a serious clash occurred yesterday between the tramway workers and the populace. The tramway men, who have been on strike, resumed their duties in the morning, but decorated their cars with red flags and Bolshevik emblems. The populace, enraged by this, attacked the cars, tore down the flags, and beat drivers and conductors. Many of whom were seriously injured. As a result, the despatch adds, the tramway service has been suspended.

BITTER OVER LUXURY TAX.

New Westminster, B.C., July 21.—At the concluding session of the British Columbia Retail Merchants' Association resolutions were passed, urging that the luxury taxes be collected from the source of supply, manufacturers and importers, and requesting that the board of commerce be dismissed and a more representative body appointed.

"Give me a little more time, and we'll defeat the government on this luxury tax," declared Dominion President Banfield during a lively discussion.

Asked by Chairman Gregory if he

ONTARIO COMMISSION HOLDS FIRST SESSION

Receive Expert Testimony Regarding Advisability of Replacing Present System.

FOUR WITNESSES CALLED

Four witnesses were called to give evidence before the provincial commission, appointed to enquire into and report upon the best methods of selecting, appointing and remunerating the outside civil service, which commenced its sessions at Osgoode Hall yesterday. The commission is expected to continue all week and will sit at 11 o'clock this morning.

W. D. Gregory is chairman of the commission, and other members are: Dr. Horace L. Brittain, Norman Somerville, Albert Howard and Edward A. Pocock. By a separate order in council, J. W. Mallon, inspector of legal and registry offices, was appointed secretary.

The witnesses called yesterday were all examined regarding the advisability of replacing the present registry system by the land titles act. Allen Diamond, provincial law clerk, in addition to outlining the advantages of each system, discussed the advisability of extending the superannuation act to the outside civil service.

Beverly Jones, solicitor for the Canada Permanent Mortgage Corporation, dealt at some length with land titles in the western provinces and England.

He went fully into the English system, explaining the differences between that and the system in Ontario. He recommended that a man be sent to Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta to see what was being done there, and to England to see what was being done there.

Asked by Chairman Gregory if he

Half a Pineapple For One Dessert

In Jiffy-Jell desserts the fruit flavors are abundant. For instance, half a pineapple is crushed to make the flavor for one pint dessert. This is done in Hawaii from fruit too ripe to ship.

All Jiffy-Jell fruit flavors are made from condensed fruit juice. They come in liquid form—in vials—bottle in each package. That is true of no other quick gelatine dessert.

A few cents will serve a real fruit dessert for six people. No artificial flavor, no saccharine. It is the most delicious fruit dessert available, and it comes in ten choice flavors.

thought it would be a good idea to have a staff of men at work in the land registry office changing property from the present system to the Torrens system or Land Titles Act without expense to the owners. Mr. Jones thought it would be an excellent plan.

In outside points in the province, Mr. Jones advocated that all registrars should be made deputy masters of titles to act only as far as the transfer of properties was concerned. They should, he thought, be placed under a master of titles. He did not think that the scheme would be popular in Toronto because of the fact that the board would not stand for doing away with their registry offices.

J. G. Scott, K.C., master of titles in Toronto, compared the registry system at present in force and the Land Titles Act. He declared that it would be a great improvement if the latter system was installed, and pointed out that the cost would easily be covered by the quarter per cent. tax on unearned increment.

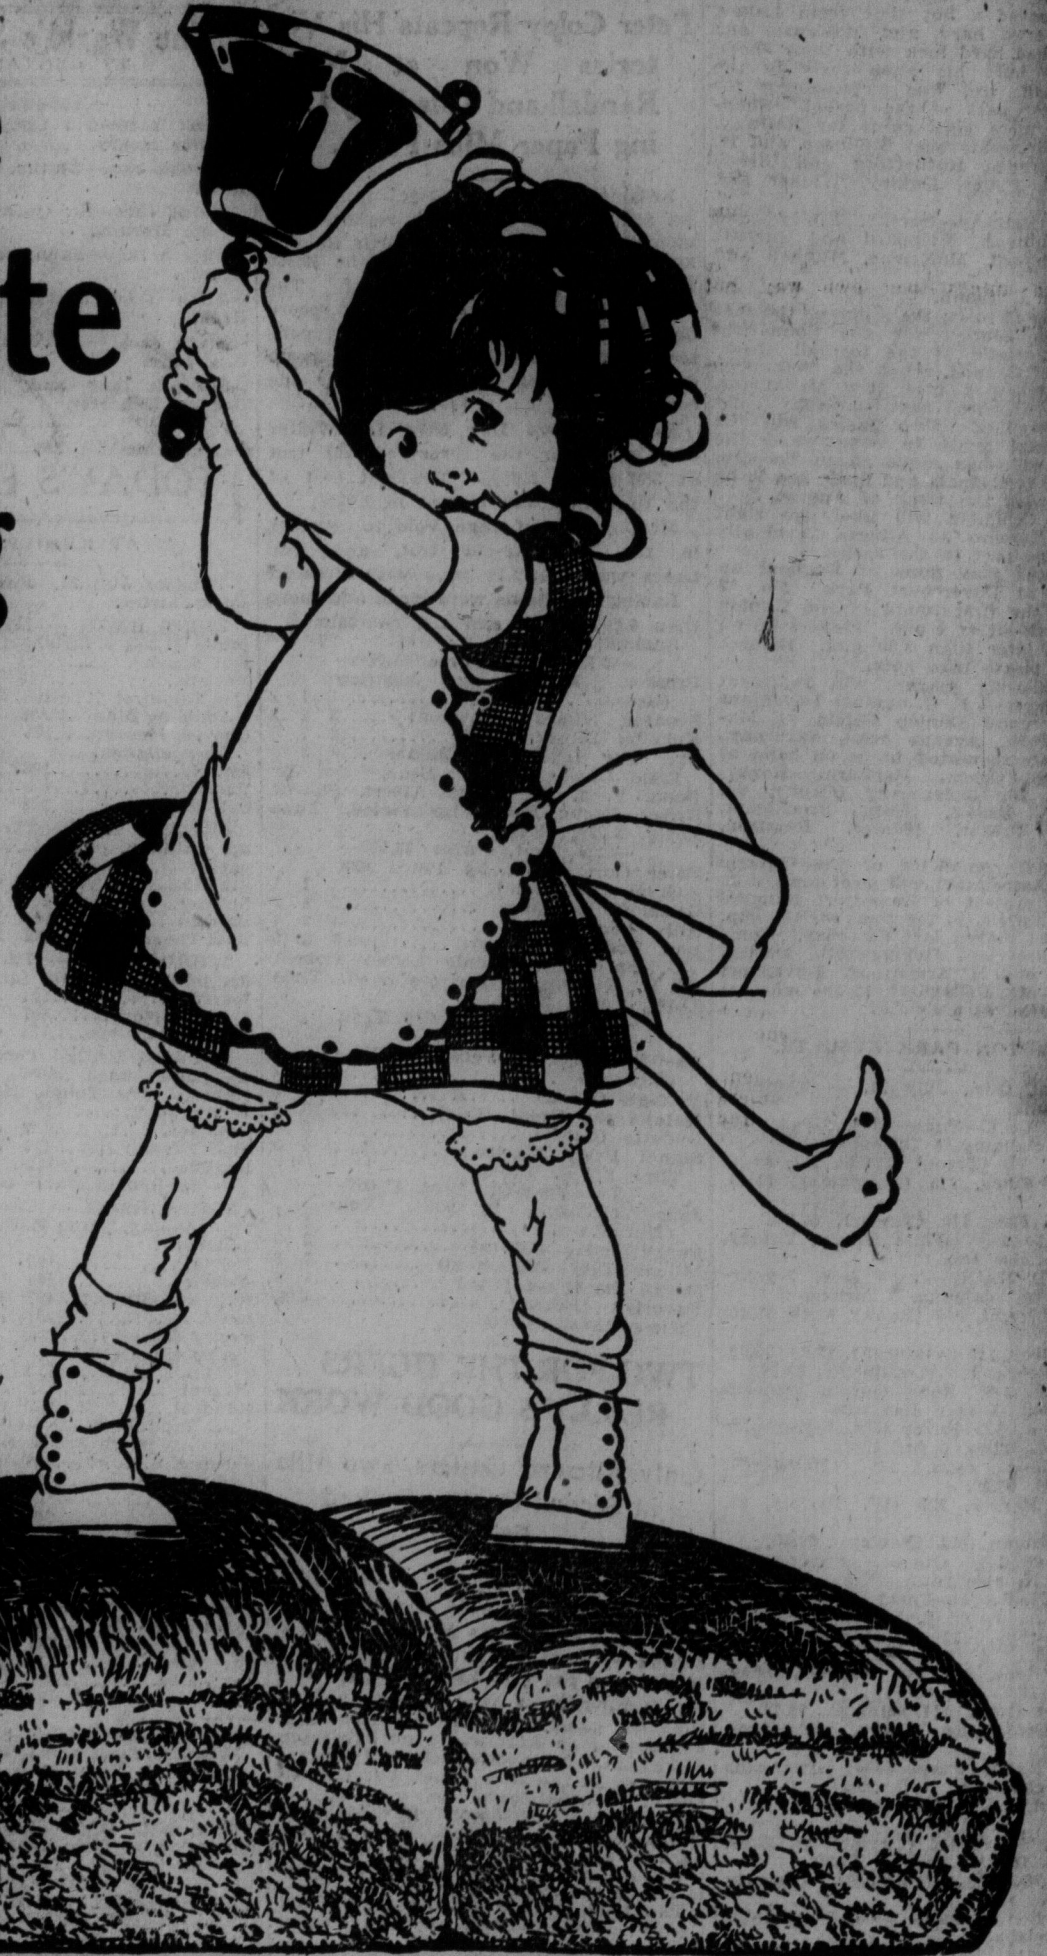

George Campbell, a local solicitor, told of the difficulties experienced in securing titles in the registry office in cases where the contention that it was necessary to retain a lawyer to accomplish the transfer of property.

"Unless you abolish mortgages and trust's you will never be able to do property like merchandise," he said.
