

performed by students and professional musicians. At the end of each quarter a grand Quarterly Concert is given in which the more advanced pupils of the Conservatory are allowed to participate. Owing to the large number of such students attending the institution, it is often necessary to supplement these periodical concerts with one or sometimes two similar ones, in order to avoid undue length of programmes. Occasional Artists' Recitals are also given by members of the faculty and visiting musicians. Besides these more important occasions, weekly or fortnightly recitals are given on the plan of the Royal Conservatory of Leipzig, in which Conservatory pupils of all grades, excepting the most elementary are from time to time permitted to take part.

• These exercises are of great advantage to pupils, stimulating them to increased exertion in their studies, and furnishing opportunities for the development of their powers, and the acquirement of that confidence so necessary to a creditable performance in the presence of an audience. The "term card," which all pupils receive on payment of their tuition at the beginning of each quarter entitles them to admission to all Conservatory Concerts and Recitals. They also usually receive, on application at the office, one or more tickets for friends whom they may wish to invite to these entertainments. For the best visiting and local concert attractions, arrangements are frequently made whereby pupils of the Conservatory are enabled to obtain tickets at prices much below those charged the general public.

MUSICAL LIBRARY.

The great mass of musical literature now extant is rendered inaccessible to many students, simply owing to the large expense involved in purchasing books. Yet, to the liberal minded and progressive musician, the literature should be as familiar as the technique of his art. Highly important is it also that students should have access for reference to the full scores of the symphonic, oratorio, and operatic works of the great tone-masters. Many of these works are very expensive, and quite beyond the means of the ordinary student to obtain. The Conservatory Directorate has recognized the needs of its students in this direction by establishing a fund for the formation of a Musical Reference Library. A considerable number of books, Historical, Biographical, Theoretical, Technical, Aesthetical, Elocutionary, etc., have already been purchased, and additions will be made from time to time, until the library is complete in every respect. It is intended for the free use of students during all hours when the Conservatory is open. The leading European and American Musical Journals will also be kept on file in the Reception Room for the use of students.

The Education Department, is of convenience Preparatory ; and not differ from outward regulation

The Academic Department, is of previous knowledge music, leading enter the College fear of having directed efforts. who have not t who desire the and who also Conservatory o with private in period than on

EXAMINATIONS.

Arrangement system of examination Department.

These examinations may or may not They will pupil's progress forwarded to t