THE HANDSOME GARMENTS AT DANIEL'S FALL OPENING TODAY

The curtain which to all women seems to enshroud the mystery of fashion each season was most successfully lifted today by the display made at the Fall opening of F. W. Daniel & Co., Head of King street. The war certainly does not seem to hinder the making of beautiful garments. In fact these stern times if anything, steadily fashions, bringing out greater beauty of line and eliminating fussiness.

Among the strong style features shown are a beautiful costume of black velvet du nord trimmed around bottom of coat and on cuffs with Alaska sable, a handsome seal plush coat with civil trimmings, then in general the graceful hanging lines and richness of material of the fine broadcloth costumes are well worth coming to see.

Another departure this season is the addition of novelty fur pieces—this is not a usual stock with this firm, but in their search for good things they came across this line of fur of such exceptional value that they could not help introducing them for their fall trade.

"The acme of style loveliness" is an expression that might be used in describing some beautiful new Georgette and crepe blouses that are shown, some having touches of silk embroidery and the finest of guipure edgings. They come in most delicate shades to blend with the darker fall suits. Mention must also be made of the lovely new neckwear, gloves, fancy silk hosiery and other accessories which have been got together for "My Lady's" fall wardrobe.

This fall display continues tomorrow and is certainly well worth a visit from those loving smartness of style and daintiness in dress.

Unless St. John movie patrons see "The Yellow Menace" there will be something very fine missed. It is a striking example of the lengths to which modern producers will go to get out a great serial. "The Yellow Menace" is in sixteen episodes, each leading naturally and logically to the other. In it are starred Edwin Stevens with Margaret Gale and Florence Mahone, supported by the most powerful company ever put on in a serial. Thousands of people take part in scenes of stupendous power.

INDORSERS JEWS WARNING

London, Sept. 13.—The Jewish Chronicle reproduces a circular issued by the anti-Jewish section of the German cabinet in Germany, with the following commentary: "We invite the attention of our correspondents in America to this influential circular, this danger signal of a new anti-Jewish campaign in Germany. If the Russian eagle is to be lampooned what will their crude artistry have to say to the German eagle? The truth is that the warning of German Jewry is really a warning to world-wide Jewry. It is not in the tottering fabric of Russian oppression that the new, arrogant, egotistical and brutal miller of the junkerdom of the country which is a real enemy of our Jewish brethren, but in the field, and whose whole outlook is the very negation of all Jewish ideals.

"If the circular of the Jews of Germany should not open the eyes of our Jewish brethren to this vital truth, the enormous service will be done to the Jewish cause."

Newport, R. I., Sept. 13.—Another record for flying was beaten by Frederick C. Eden of London, using the flying boat of W. Earl Dodge of Newport and New York from City Point, R. I., the aviation camp of Mr. Dodge at the south end of the harbor, covering more than 150 miles in two hours. Mr. Eden, Chester Swift accompanied Mr. Eden, who left at 2:20 in the afternoon and was on the landing at 4:20. The wind was at times fresh from the southwest, which was more or less against the machine.

KINGSTON-McKEOWN

Moncton Transcript, Tuesday.—The home of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. McKewen was the scene of a very pretty wedding at 12 o'clock high noon, when their youngest daughter, Mary Anne, was united in marriage to Paul Stuart Kingston of St. John. The bride entered the parlor which was tastefully decorated for the occasion leaning on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage. She was attired in a gown of cream satin de chene and shadow lace trimmings, with veil and carried a beautiful bouquet of cream roses and maiden hair fern. During this time the wedding march was beautifully rendered by Miss Grace McKewen, sister of the bride. The ceremony was performed by Rev. T. Porter Drum, pastor of the Presbyterian church, assisted by Rev. Kenneth Kingston, brother of the groom. Only the immediate friends and relatives of the contracting parties witnessed the ceremony, after which luncheon was served. The bride's traveling suit was navy blue serge, with a violet colored hat. She was remembered by her many friends with some magnificent presents including silver, cut glass, etc. Mr. and Mrs. Kingston left on the C. P. R. for Fortland, Maine, Boston and other places in Mass. The out of town guests were Mrs. J. B. Sweeney of Campbellton, cousin of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Kingston, parents of the groom, and Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Kingston, brother and sister-in-law of the groom, and Lieut. Ruth Kingston, nursing sister of the St. John Military Hospital, sister of the groom.

News of Maritime Men In The War

(Frederick Gleason.)

When Private Bart Goodine left here last evening for Valcartier to join the 140th Battalion he did so with the expectation of reaching England in time to go to the firing line with his father, Private James Goodine, with the 119th Battalion.

Private Goodine has two brothers now on the firing line, Private Ben Goodine with the 29th Battalion and Private Fred Goodine, who went overseas with the 12th Battalion and later went to the front in a draft of reinforcements. It is the hope of all four to meet on the firing line in France, if possible.

Besides his father and two brothers, Private Goodine has eleven cousins wearing khaki at present. Three brothers of another family, Edward Burnett, S. Burnett and J. Burnett are all overseas, while Private Harold Kehler is another cousin also wearing khaki and "doing his bit" in this war.

Six For Special Company

A veteran of the Dardanelles campaign, Eugene McKinnon, was one of six men taken on the special service company attached to the Killarney and Fredrickton on Monday. He was with the Canadian Hospital corps, commanded by Lieut. Col. McKee, which spent some time at Lemnos Island, and he contracted typhoid fever there. The others who enlisted were: Walter Presby of the Killarney; Harris Tobin, Auburn, Me.; Albert Hill, Hatfield Point, N.B.; and Isaac Burden, Fredericton. The last named has a son in the Canadian Expeditionary Force now. Lieut. Preston will be assigned for duty in the local recruiting office.

TIRED, ACHING FEET AND LIMBS

Are promptly relieved by applying Absorbine, Jr., the antiseptic liniment. It is soothing, healing and invigorating—puts vim and energy into laded muscles. One of the most enthusiastic users writes: "I received the trial bottle of Absorbine, Jr., all right and at that time was unable to walk without a cane, just around the house. I used it freely and inside of two days could walk without limping, something I had not done in two months. I went to the drug store and procured a $1.00 bottle and today can walk as good as ever. I'll never be without it. I am recommending it to everyone I can, for I am a living witness."

Absorbine, Jr. should always be kept at hand for emergencies.

At drugists $1.00 and $2.00 a bottle or sent postpaid. Liberal trial bottle for 10c in stamps. W. F. Young, P.F.D., 817 Lyman's Bldg., Montreal, Can.

BOSTON BRAVES VERY EXPENSIVE BALL CLUB

The Boston National League club does not exploit the fact in the papers, but it is true, nevertheless, that the club's payroll is probably the largest of any club in the major league.

Percy D. Haughton pulls down the princely salary of president of the club to represent the wealthy Boston men who are associated with him in the ownership of the team. There is Manager George Stallings, formerly of Buffalo, who is with the possible exception of Manager John McGraw, of the Giants, the highest paid manager in baseball.

Last spring Mr. Stallings signed a five-year contract with the club, worth $18,000 a year; Johnny Evers, captain of the team, as everybody knows, is pulling down $10,000 in addition to all his bonuses, while First Baseman Kometchey, ranking next to Evers in salary among the players, is good for $6,000. The entire payroll for the season is probably close to $1,000,000, and is paid semi-monthly pay day during the six months of the season.

DEATH OF ROBERT MITCHELL, BAKER

Many will learn with regret of the death of George Mitchell, who has been a well known baker of this city. He died at his residence in Brussels street. Mr. Mitchell had been in failing health for some years but it was only some months ago that he was confined to his house. He was born in Scotland and came here when he was very young. Since that time he was located in this city and was identified with the bakery business of St. John for a long time. He was seventy-eight years of age and leaves besides his wife, one son, Robert A. E. Mitchell, of Montreal. The funeral arrangements have not yet been completed.
