MINNESOTA BANK HAS SUSPENDED

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 1.—The Merchant's State Bank of Marietta (Minn.), has been closed by the state superintendent of banking, who found that the reserves had been depleted to such an extent that the longer continuation of the institution would be hazardous to the public. The bank has deposits of $500,000.

URGE DUTY ON SHINGLES.

Northwestern Lumbermen Tell Senators Industry Needs Protection.

Washington, Sept. 2.—Reports among Northwestern lumbermen that an attempt would be made to overturn the import duty of 50 cents per thousand on shingles, carried by the Fordney Tariff bill, brought a delegation of shingle manufacturers before the Senate Finance Committee in defense of the schedule.

Representative Johnson of Washington headed the delegation and announced that if there was to be a fight "we want to be counted in" in support of the duty.

George A. Bergstrom of Everett and E. E. Case of Raymond, Wash., were heard in behalf of the rate, which, they said, measured the difference between operation or closing of their plants.

Each of the witnesses maintained that a higher duty than 50 cents actually was necessary, but expressed satisfaction with the rate as provided in the Fordney bill.

Their accounts of conditions in the shingle industry of the Northwest called closely upon the state of mind during the controversy on the subject before the House Ways and Means Committee.

They contended that Canadian shingle makers were driven out of business on this side of the line because of cheaper Canadian production costs.

The committee also heard a protest against the proposed duty of 1 cent a pound on cattle under two years old from J. C. Happer of El Paso, Texas, who spoke for the American Association of Cattle Growers of Mexico. The association's plea, Mr. Happer said, was that border cattlemen be allowed the privilege of getting young stock where-ever it was available and to enjoy the right of obtaining grazing land on either side of the Rio Grande when conditions warranted.

Mr. Happer told of demoralized conditions in the cattle industry, and said the duty provided in the House bill might result in a decrease in the number of cattle in this country. The Southwestern interests whom he represented were not concerned with the loss on beef cattle or other types, Mr.
Happer added, but sought only to be allowed to buy young stock and to grow them to a point where they would be suitable for feeding in other sections of the country.

THE MILLIONAIRE DOORMAN.

James W. Hebron, who was buried Sunday in Calvary cemetery, was the "Jimmie" of the old days at DeLon-go's, reputed to have made a million from tips given him by friendly magnates and through his own livery stable business that for years had the privileges of leading hotels and restaurants. Just how much "Jimmie" made is doubtful.

He once put the total at $700,000.
He was born in Ireland sixty-eight years ago, and studied for the priesthood. He always attributed his popularity with Delmonico patrons to his education that enabled him to converse with them. He went to work first as a doorman at the famous restaurant in 1877 at $1 a day. The big operators of the period, James R. Keene among them, took a liking to him, tipped with prodigal hand, and often "put him in with them" in fruitful speculations. Capital in hand, he opened his cab business and made a success of it, adding two more stables and buying a house at 265 West Seventieth street.

In 1907 his mind gave way and for four years he was incompetent. A fall while crossing a railway track restored his reason and he later brought several suits for accountings of his property, asserting that most of his fortune had been dissipated by mishandling during his illness. Three years ago his health again failed. Recently he had lived with a daughter at 147 West Sixty-sixth street.

EUROPEAN GOLD RESERVES

The following appears in the September issue of Commerce Monthly, published by National Bank of Commerce in New York:

"While Europe sent to the United States more than two hundred and fifty million dollars in gold during the first six months of the current year above receipts from this country, nevertheless a slight gain occurred in that period in the total gold reserves of Europe held by central banks or government agents."

"Only three of the fourteen chief European gold-holding countries showed a diminution in their gold stocks from January 1 to July 1, and these losses were relatively slight, their combined total amounting to less than twelve million dollars. This loss was more than offset by gains among the other eleven countries, the net increase of the fourteen combined amounting to $1,199,000."

"Yet between January 1 and July 1, the gold stock held by the federal reserve banks in the United States increased by $402,601,000, or nearly twenty per cent. of the $2,000,000,000 they held at the end of 1920. It is thought to have come to this country indirectly through various continental countries in addition to those mentioned above. At the outbreak of the war in 1914 the Russian State Bank held $779,750,000 in gold; by the end of 1917, the date of the last definite statement of gold held in the bank, the stock had dwindled to $363, 000,000. It has been reported that this balance has since been largely dispersed and the amount remaining is unknown, but it is thought to be small."

"It appears, therefore, that the United States received, between January 1 and July 10, the equivalent of $106,959,000 of African and Indian gold by way of London, and the equivalent of more than $100,000,000 of Russian gold by way of Continental Europe. These three chief sources account for the fact that Europe as a whole has been able to make substantial gold payments to the United States without further impairing her existing centralized gold stocks."

"An analysis of this gold movement shows that present European gold reserves are not being drained to swell America's holdings, but that the increasments to this country's hoard since the first of the year, in so far as shipments from European points are concerned, are chiefly accounted for by three great streams of the metal, consisting of newly mined supplies from Africa coming by way of London; of gold yielded up by India, also coming by way of London; and of metal thought to have originated from European sources, eventually coming to America through various European countries."

"Europe's centralized reserves were built up subsequent to the outbreak of the Great War far above pre-war figures, and were further increased since the armistice, by concentrating in them as far as possible all gold privately

FIGHT DRUG SMUGGLING

Air Patrols Active on British Columbia Coast.

Ottawa, Sept. 2.—Air patrols have been instrumental in frustrating, to a large extent at least, the efforts of smugglers to land huge quantities of drugs illegally on the Pacific coast, according to reports reaching air board officials from the customs department at Vancouver, where seaplanes have been placed at the disposal of the customs officials in their fight against the dope smuggler.

In a recent patrol a longshoreman was arrested while trying to smuggle about $1,500 worth of opium from one of the vessels traveling between Canada and the Orient. The circumvention of the drug smugglers is a game which keeps the customs officials on the qui vive, as new landing places are tried almost for every shipment, and it has been found that the use of seaplanes is the only method of transportation speedy enough to enable the customs department to meet the situation. In a recent case information was received of a new landing place, and preventive officers were able to reach there before the smugglers had time to remove the drugs from the steamer.

The operations at that point were broken up, and it is stated by the customs officers that the patrol of steamers in and out of port has also resulted in ending the practice of dropping drugs overboard to be picked up by confederates who waited in launches.
