DOM PEDRO ACCEPTS THE NEW ORDER OF THINGS IN BRAZIL.

He will not make a formal Abolition nor issue a Proclamation—He believes the Brazilian People to be Prepared for the Republic, and that they will maintain it.

New York, Feb. 27.—Senator Mendonça the Brazilian minister, recently received a letter from Dr. Morel, the editor of the Nation, of Buenos Ayres, in which he repeats a conversation he had with Dom Pedro. Dr. Morel said it was a matter of considerable difficulty to get the emperor to talk on the subject of his deposition and the formation of a republic.

The following is a translation of a portion of Dr. Morel's letter: "Your majesty has descended from the throne, but you are now elevated above it in the respect of opinion."

Dom Pedro still remained silent and I resolved to go to the bottom of the question. "The matter is not a matter of power in that part of the continent."

Dom Pedro—No. Because Coudry is minister of foreign affairs. You know him very well, and he is the best guarantee of the Republic. He is a man of justice against me, but it is done and remains.

Dr. Morel—It has been said to me, that like all new parties, nothing has taken shape, and consequently the Republic will not be able to govern, without great difficulties, a nation as vast as Brazil.

Dom Pedro—There is a great deal of truth in that observation. Even now the provisional government has been obliged to send some military men from Rio to the northern provinces to organize their administration. There were no civilians to trust with that.

Dr. Morel—Then how will they be able to consolidate the Republic? Dom Pedro—Because the Brazilians are patriots, and I believe they will carry out the Republic in the most perfect manner. I shall serve them in Europe, as long as I live in the Republic, and as long as I occupied the throne. This has always been my thinking and this is my irrevocable promise.

Dr. Morel—But if the Brazilian people, who are so much attached to the throne, react and spontaneously call you to the throne, would your majesty retire?

Dom Pedro—I do not know. I can assure you that I do not desire to be ready to subject myself to the will of the Brazilians, but I will do so, if it will not be the one to proceed, directly or indirectly, intestine divisions and wars.

Dr. Morel—What will become of the throne, and of the other members of the imperial family?

Dom Pedro—The throne will become of the people, and will be the property of the people. I do not know what they may determine or what they may propose to do.

Dr. Morel—Then you do not think there is cause for optimism?

Dom Pedro—There is no reason why I should not be optimistic. The facts are before me, and they are favorable to the Republic.

Dom Pedro—I believe that the Republic will be a success, and that it will be a success because of the patriotism of the Brazilians.

Dom Pedro—I shall not do so, at least for the present. I am a man of actions, not of words.

Dr. Morel—Does your majesty believe that Brazil will maintain the Republic, and will be able to govern it?

Dom Pedro—I believe it, and I have no doubt. For the nation, the fatherland, I shall do all that I can, and I shall do it with a good heart.

Dr. Morel—Then you are sure that the Republic will be a success, and that it will be a success because of the patriotism of the Brazilians?

Dom Pedro—I believe it, and I have no doubt. For the nation, the fatherland, I shall do all that I can, and I shall do it with a good heart.

Dom Pedro—There is no reason why I should not be optimistic. The facts are before me, and they are favorable to the Republic.

SIR JERELAN PAINECOTE'S ANSWER TO AN INTERVIEWER.

There is no Difference of Opinion Between Lord Salisbury and Stanley and Himself. Mr. Tupper is Present at his suggestion.

New York, March 1.—The Herald's Washington correspondent sends the following: Upon showing to the British Minister the report from London asserting his rumored recall and his virtual supersession by Sir Charles Tupper during the remaining portion of his connection with the pending negotiations, Sir Julian said:

"You may give a most absolute contradiction to every word of the statement. 'I am not aware of any difference of opinion between Lord Salisbury and Lord Stanley and myself on any question. I may have the deal with Tupper, but he is not my superior, and as already stated in the press, to assist me in the details of the inquiry now proceeding of a large scale, the behavior was fishy and there is no intention of sending any one else here.'"

"I am sorry that a statement so unjust to Lord Salisbury and myself should be published, should have been sent from London, where the slightest inquiry in the proper quarter would have proved its baseless character."

THE CABLE SNAPPED. With a Loud Report and the Fish of a Ball of Fire.

The first sign of a break was seen at about 10 o'clock, and the water began to rise in the middle of the dam with the bank. This occasioned a loud report and it seemed as if a ball of fire was sent from the top of the tower entangled and it seemed as if the lower dam, containing 90,000 tons of rock, all moved bodily to one side.

It was not until about 11 o'clock that the lower dam, but he failed to do so on account of becoming intoxicated. He has not been seen since.

St. Louis, Mo., March 1.—Mark A. Baren, a Chicago gambler, was shot and dangerously wounded by Charles Hatfield of Henderson, Ky., on an Iron Mountain train, near Dexter, Mo., Tuesday night, about 10 o'clock. Baren and a companion, George Jones, also of Chicago, had stopped in a game of poker with Hatfield and a traveling man named Keller. It was a "skin" game and Hatfield, who looked like a farmer, but evidently was not caught the idea after losing about $700.
