The new mill when completed will IMPROVEMENT SHOWN have a capacity of one hundred thousand feet in ten hours, and will also have every facility in handling, and new wharves for shipipng, as well as kilns for drying.

Wednesday morning a Times reporter was shown over the mill by Mr. Say-ward, who explained the improvements which are being made and the working of the new machinery. The old build ing has been wholly rebuilt and en-larged to accommodate the new mahinery which is being installed.
When the log leaves the water it is handled by a Simason log turner, which pulls and pushes the giant inch opening on the head blocks. When the log has been cut up by the band saw it passes over live rollers to the 72-inch disappearing edger, with a battery of saws. The edgings are taken automatically to the slab slasher, which is situated on the side and cuts all the slabs into four-foot lengths for the low of the passes of the four other nursuses.
