ECLIPSES OF BOTH SUN AND MOON IN JUNE

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 30.—Two interesting spectacles in the astronomical world will occur the coming month. These events will be eclipses of the moon and sun, the former on June 3 and the latter on June 17. The moon will rise totally eclipsed and its totality will last about an hour while the sun will be in totality near the North Pole.
Of chief interest will be the lunar eclipse, which will be visible over about half the earth. Only a few white men, namely Commander Robert E. Peary and his crew, who are now on an Arctic expedition, and perhaps a few whalers, will have an opportunity of observing at totality, the eclipse of the sun, while this eclipse will be visible in its partial phases, the region near the Pole is the only part of the globe where it will be seen as a total eclipse.
The eclipse of the sun on June 17 will be visible fairly well in the western part of the United States near sunset and in the eastern part near sunrise. It may be observed through a smoked glass.
The lunar eclipse is visible practically throughout Europe, Africa and South America, but in West Asia and North America, the eclipse will be visible only in part, except in the extreme northwest of the latter, where the eclipse will be invisible.

MONCTON DOUBLES THE TAX ON PICTURE SHOWS

MONCTON, N. B., May 31.—The license fee on picture shows in Moncton is to be doubled. Under present arrangements the theatres pay one hundred dollars yearly, but the new rate fixed at a meeting of the license committee meeting yesterday is twenty dollars per month, or two hundred for the year, for a single day, three dollars. The rate for circuses, to include life shows, is $100.

NEW YORK, May 30.—Jack Johnson, the negro pugilist, was fined $2 in the Toronto police court today after his arrest on a charge of driving his automobile through Central Park at a speed of 10 miles an hour early this morning. The fine-judge gave a total of $100 as the place of residence.

VICTIMS OF DOUBLE TRAGEDY WERE AMERICANS

PARIS, May 29.—The names of the American who last night shot his daughter dead in a Parisian cafe and then committed suicide was David Henderson. He was a native of New York. The family has a son in New York named Ross.
Mr. and Mrs. Henderson and their children arrived in Paris from the United States on the German liner and upon arriving here moved into an apartment at 29 Rue d'Artois.

MRS. PLANT-GRAVES LEAVES EIGHT MILLIONS

NEW YORK, N. Y., May 30.—Mrs. Margaret J. Plant-Graves, widow of Henry B. Plant, founder of the system of railroad, steamships and hotels in the south by that name, died at her residence in this city today. Death was caused by arteriosclerosis. She had been ill for more than a year.
Mrs. Plant died in 1909 and Mrs. Plant married Robert Graves in 1904. There was a contest over the Plant will, which the widow finally won, and by her death today she leaves a fortune estimated at $8,000,000. Her husband and two nephews survive her.
Mrs. Plant was well known for her charitable work.

DEATH OF MRS. ELIZABETH SHARP

The death occurred yesterday of Elizabeth Sharp, widow of John Sharp and daughter of the late William C. and Honora Hill.
Mrs. Sharp is survived by one son, William of this city, and by three daughters, Mrs. Elizabeth Boyle of Westfield and Mrs. George Macaulay and Miss Annie, both of this city.
For many years Mrs. Sharp has been a faithful attendant at the Brussels street church. She was widely respected and her demise will be mourned by a large circle of friends and acquaintances. Mrs. Sharp was in her sixty-seventh year.
The funeral will be held Tuesday at two-thirty o'clock from her late residence, 217 Waterworth street.

LARGEST MONUMENT IN PARIS

Paris, which was the first to appreciate the genius of Heinrich Heine, persistently refused a hearing to Wagner, and was the last capital in Europe to add "Richard Wagner" to the repertory of its Academy of Music. Wagner has now as been admitted in Paris as in Munich, and busts of the composer of the tetralogy are placed in the Comique. Heine has his statue in the foyer of the Opera and of the Opera Pre-la-Chaise Cemetery, and Beethoven will have his, one of the largest in Paris, as soon as the funds are raised for putting the work into stone. Only $50,000 is needed to complete the required sum, and a great effort will be made this summer to get the money together, independently of the government, which will be the actual purchaser of the monument. A gala at the Opera in May, and a subscription list, opened simultaneously in Paris and other musical centres for the means adopted by the Beethoven committee, and it is fully expected that the monument will be erected within a year's time.

PLASTER CAST WAITING

Meantime, the plaster "maquette" is waiting, ignominiously stored in the atelier, near the Post de l'Alma. It was until a few days ago the masterpiece of the great master sculptor, which the great master should have a colossal monument, and since the finest site in Paris has been allotted to the work of Charney's Beethoven, full play to his imagination, and has placed the musician's huge recumbent figure on a slab of stone ten metres in length. Beethoven's characteristic and easily recognized face looks down from a high pedestal, which is supported by four colossal winged female figures, the whole to be carried out in a white stone, not marble.

A FINE SITUATION

The work will be placed on the green lawn of La Muette, at the entrance to the Bois de Boulogne, and will have for background the apparently limitless wood, with its rich and varied foliage and its evergreen trees. There will be no buildings near to cramp or crush the effect, and it ought to prove one of the most successful statues here.
Rodin's Victor Hugo, also a recumbent figure, but considerably smaller than de Charney's Beethoven, will be much less happy in situation. It is being placed in the gardens of the Palais Royal, close beside the statue of the Marquis de Lafayette, and the low chestnut trees in stately lines, has rather the effect of cramping the statue, already existing there and distracting the attention of the spectator from the work.

AMONG THE SCULPTORS

The colossal Beethoven, long since outgrown the atelier of the sculptor. In their completed form the huge figures in plaster that make-up the monument were transported to the state deposit "des marbres" and sculpture depository. This, the Garde Meuble, as Parisians call it, is in the large building which, under the Second Empire, housed the imperial horses. Some of the finest ancient trees in Paris are the sculptors' gardens behind the high walls of the Garde Meuble, and on the site of the riding school of the Emperor's stables, cramping the statue of large ateliers in one of which Rodin hews his wonderful figures. About the broad, gravelled walk, under the shade of the trees are picturesque figures of sculptors, walking about in sabots and long white blouses with black cloth or velvet "berret" on their heads, some with hanging tassels and some without that accessory.

WANTS HER LETTER PUBLISHED

For Benefit of Women who Suffer from Menstrual Ills

Minneapolis, Minn.—"I was a great sufferer from female troubles which caused a weakness and broken down condition of the system. I read so much of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and had done for myself, suffering women I felt sure it would help me, and I must say it did help me wonderfully. My pains all left me. I grew stronger, and within three months I was a perfectly well woman. I want this letter made public to show the benefit women may derive from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Mrs. J. M. G. MOLDEN, 215 Second St., North, Minneapolis, Minn.
Thousands of uneducated and genuine testimonials like the above prove the efficacy of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which is made exclusively from roots and herbs. Women who suffer from their sex should not lose sight of these facts or doubt the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health.
If you want special advice write to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. She will treat your letter as strictly confidential. For 30 years she has been helping sick women in this way, free of charge. Don't hesitate to write to her."

The Eiffel Tower looms high close by, and the Seine runs along the north side, the green avenues of the Champs Elysees with their two parks, being visible from the light wooden galleries and balconies. The sculptors do not start work very early in the morning, and it is only after luncheon that you are sure of finding any of them in their studios. The rocks and thrushes in the trees have it all their own way of a morning, and at the newspaper stall at the gate a captive blackbird whistles very softly its sweet, plaintive note, its feathers drooping with sadness and rusty with grief at being kept a prisoner now that spring has come.

FEW TO FOREIGN GENIUS

Victor Hugo was carried out of the atelier a few days ago, and now, covered with sail cloth, stands in the Palais Royal, close beside the spot on which his pedestal is being built. The public unveiling of the monument will take place in May, and the poet, depicted in the robes of Guinevere, will look out on the Renaissance garden, which was in the time a centre of imperial and brilliant splendor, when Jerome occupied the palace and his handsome daughter, the Princess Mathilde, acted as hostess. Beethoven, the less fortunate than the poet, will certainly not reach the Bois de Boulogne before the end of the year.

There are very few monuments in Paris raised to foreign genius. Shakespeare has a poor and an unsatisfactory statue in the Boulevard Malesherbes, and Velasquez has another in the garden of the Louvre. Beyond these there is the statue of Washington and of Benjamin Franklin, Franklin stands on the Place du Trocadero, and was presented to the city by John Harjes. Washington and Lafayette stand together on the Place des Etats-Unis, and were presented to the city by the Marquis de Lafayette. Years ago when Dr. J. D. Maher first introduced Painless Dentistry into Canada, many people were skeptical, but his well-known success has long since been recognized and today he is generally conceded to have the largest dental practice in Canada.

The Marlborough and Portland lodges, Sons of England, attended divine service in St. Luke's Church yesterday morning. Assembling at the rooms of the Marlborough Lodge, at the Oddfellows' building, Union street, the procession to the church was formed by the members of the Marlborough Lodge and lastly the Portland Lodge contingent. The procession was a splendid one and was under command of the district master. Many compliments were heard on the general appearance of the turnout. The march proceeded by way of King, Graham, King, Dock, Mill and Main streets, to St. Luke's Church. The service was presided by the pastor, the Rev. Mr. McKim gave a patriotic oration and urged the members of the lodge to principles and teachings of the order. A feature of the service was the playing of St. Mary's Hymn.

After the service the procession reformed and proceeded to the rooms of Portland Lodge, Alexandra Hall, where it was disbanded.

LADY ABERDEEN WILL BE UNABLE TO COME

"Corresponding Secretary, Local Council of Women, St. John, N. B.:
"It is most kind of the president and members of the Local Council of St. John to invite me and my party to St. John during my approaching visit to Canada. I wish with all my heart that I could accept, but unfortunately the time at my disposal is very limited and I shall only be able to go direct to the International Council meetings and then return to Ireland at once."

EXODUS OF MINISTERS

OTTAWA, May 30.—Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, postmaster general, will join the exodus of Canadian ministers to Europe next month, and while in London will probably again confer with the imperial authorities on the question of cheaper cable communication between Canada and the mother country. Hon. Geo. P. Graham will on June 16th be making his first trans-Atlantic trip. He will investigate the operation of government railways in Germany and elsewhere on the continent.

PEOPLE WITH TEETH

Aching, Decayed, Sound or Artificial. Will Be Vastly Interested in This Account of the Only Dental Parlors in Canada

Teeth Extracted and Filled Absolutely Without Pain by a Wonderful Painless Process.

That this is the day of the specialist—of the man who knows or is able to do some one thing better than any one else in the world—is was clearly illustrated to me when I visited, yesterday, the spacious rooms occupied by The Boston Dental Parlors, 527 Main street.

That there have been many advances in the practice of dentistry is made vividly apparent during a visit to this model establishment. This much is certain: There is no longer the slightest pain attached to any dental operation. The summit of dental science has been attained.

Years ago when Dr. J. D. Maher first introduced Painless Dentistry into Canada, many people were skeptical, but his well-known success has long since been recognized and today he is generally conceded to have the largest dental practice in Canada.

Not only are teeth extracted painlessly, but teeth are filled without pain and so successfully that the filling whether it be of gold, silver, cement or other substance, remains a permanent and satisfactory fixture.

Artificial teeth that never bother or betray their artificiality are now made by perfect methods at a cost to the patient so moderate that it seems almost a miracle.

Such excellent care can be provided for so small a fee. By a method in vogue it is possible to restore most teeth to perfect usefulness without extracting them.

Lower sets of teeth, usually a disappointment to the wearer, are here made perfectly, and a new method, original with and exclusively controlled by these dentists, provides comfort and an entire absence of all annoyance common to sets made by those less skillful.

Various other branches of dental science are now skillfully performed by trained dentists at moderate prices easily within the reach of all. A patient whose teeth may chance to be rendered unsightly or in danger of decay by tartar may have improved by a simple and quickly performed operation.

CONSIDERS HIS TIME ALL SPENT CAPT. COOK LANDS AT PORT GREVILLE

MONCTON, N. B., May 30.—Dr. Henderson, London, Eng., who is interested in the English company which recently secured the option on the Westmorland old fields for development purposes is here making a general inspection of the work which was started several weeks ago. Since taking hold of the property the new company has commenced boring a well at Legers Corner, two miles from Moncton and two at Dover. Recently new machinery has been added and the company is now pumping old wells at Dover and Memramcook.

Farwell Sermon

Rev. H. Gratton Dockrell, who has been pastor of the First Baptist church here for the past three years, preached his farwell sermon tonight, his pastoral term terminating the first of June. In the course of his leave-taking, Mr. Dockrell declared that if his successor had the cooperation of the whole congregation he could do a mighty work. If he had the opposition he had to contend with in the church he would do a small work. He came here to unify the church, but he considered that the two or three years he had spent here had been lost. At the close of the
