FREDERICTON, Oct. 15—Helen Jane, the little three year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Thomas, of Woodlands, Douglas parish, came to her death under year and circumstances, verted or after a few seconds. Douglas parish, came to her death under very sad circumstances yesterday afternoon. It appears that some medicine, brought to the house by Dr. Waiawright, of Stanley, to be used by the child's mother, included a quantity of bichloride of mercury, which was put up in tablet form, and had the appearance of candy. Yesterday morning in some manner the child got hold of the bottle containing the tablets and swallowed one of them. Charles Corey, of Temperance Vale, charged with theft, was brought before Judge Wilson at chambers Saturday morning under the Speedy Trials act. He pleaded gulity and was sentenced to three years in Dorchester penitentiary. Deputy Sheriff Hawthorne will take the prisoner to Dorchester on Monday.

evening's racket will not be taken back to college. They were given the option of resigning, and have done so rather than be rusticated, in which case they would not be taken in any other college. The refractory students were under the impression that the other members of the senior class would back them up and resign with them, but they have decided to stand by the faculty. This morning fourteen students who claim to have been equally responsible with the five fourteen students who claim to have been equally responsible with the five students punished by the faculty for last Wednesday evenings racket held a conference with Chancellor Harrison and told him all about the affair. They urged the chancellor, so it is said, to mete out the same punishment to them as was done in the case of the others, or else allow the five students to remain at the college. The chancellor took time to consider the request. Should his decision be unfavorable to the students, they will take steps to bring the matter before the senate.

It is not unlikely that the Fredericton branch of the A O H will also consider the action of their brethren in Montreal in denouncing England for waging war against the Boers. Several leading representatives of the A O H here deplore the fact that such a resolution should have been passed by a division of the order in Canada, and at the request of the members the president of the Frederics on division has called a special meeting for tomorrow evening to discuss the matter.

A disastrous fire occurred in the vi-rinty of Victoria Mills, just below the city, about 2 o'clock this morning, by which three families were rendered homeless, namely, Messre. Peters, Cun-ningham and Griffiths. The fire started at Cunnigham's and the house was in flames before it was discovered, and the occupants barely escaped with their lives and had to be dragged from bed.

The flames spread to the two adjoining houses and destroyed them and all their household effects. It is believed that the fire was set. One of the houses was incorred.

The European Dread of the Jew.

The main fact about the Jews on the continent which emerges from a study of the present situation is that for some precious metals. Lastly, it is said that the Jews hold themselves fiercely "aloof" from the rest of the world, and that they habitually act together to further their own racial interests and to injure those communities which have been foolish enough to trust them.—[London Specta-tor.

Dutch Urge Intervention.

AMSTERDAM, Oct. 13-The Dutch moderate Liberals are urging official intervention between Great Britain and the Transvasl. They assert that it is the mother country's duty to do this, and declare that if the cabinet declines to intervene it will be a political crime. The enti English feeling throughout the country is very bitter.

writers, they have professional storytellers. It is their art to interest their listeners with tales of love, and marvelous adventures, and hair-breadth escapes, and magic cures. There's a story of a wonderful medicine that has made thousands of cures that seemed almost magical, which every woman should read or hear. To have heard it or to read it, may save a woman her own life or that of her husband.
The medicine is the discovery of Dr.
R. V. Pierce, an eminent and skillful specialist, for thirty years chief consulting physician to the great Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y. It is known as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It makes the appetite hearty, the digestion perfect, the liver active, the blood pure and rich, the nerves steady, the brain clear and the body strong. It is the great blood-maker and flesh-builder. It cures of per eent. of all cases of consumption and diseases of the air-passages. It cures nervous diseases and is the best medicine for overworked men and women. A woman may save her husband's life by keeping a bottle in the house, and getting him to resort to it when he feels out-ofsorts. All men are heedless about their health. Medicines stores sell it. Doctor Pierce's reputation is world-wide, and his fellow townsmen, of Buffalo, N. Y., think so highly of him that they made him their representative in Congress, but his great love for his profession caused him to resign that honorable position that he might devote the remainder of his life to the relief and cure of the sick.

Another good thing to have in the house is a vial of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

They cure biliousness and constipation and never gripe.

Would we have the empire pure the must the individuals have these characteristics and have the fear of God. Something more was needed for the nation in the honoring of the king. Loyaly was needed. Loyaly must have a love for country, a love which was the heritage of every true British heart; loyalty must also mean a devotion to one's fatherland, and a firm faith therein. On this threefold basis had the British empire been built up. He counselled loyalty to God, to queen, and to country.

Missing Volunteer Lists.

To the Editor of The Theorems.

I noticed in your issue of October 11 as list of Now Brunswick Volunteers for service in the Tranavaal, and also a short editorial dealing with the distribution of cards with volunteering blanks in Camp Sursex, from which the published list was evidently made up, and I think it only fair to all concerned to inform you that that is if a by no measure of many officers and men, whose names do not spages there, made out of the service in the station matter at Sussex, is be forwarded thence by him.

Doubtless there are others whose names I have forgotten, but the complete list of applications was left with the station master at Sussex on the afternoon of Friday, Sep ember 22, as doubtless were other lists from other companies. I think it only fair to tell the boys who are anxious for foreign service, to see that their names are forwarded as nearly as possible to the right quarters; but, as I said, this list is in all probability inaccurate, and the original and correct one is doubtless somewhere in the station house at Sussex. I trust that you will obtain and publish it.

Kaffirs generally, and especially the races of Basutos, Zalus, Griquas and Matabele, have felt the power of the white man keeple recently and they and Matabele, have felt the power of the white man keerly recently, and they may not combine successfully. Unrest doubtless there will be, and if the tribes are disaffected and prepare to avenge themselves for old wounds, their hostility will probably be found to be directed more against the Boers than the English. The Basutos, like the Griquas, have old scores against their Boer neighbors of the Orange Free State, and it will require a strong hand to prevent them raiding the border. Mr. Thompson, a member of the Cape assembly, well acquainted with the native question, has given it as his opinion that the bulk of this people willingly throw themselves on the British side, but it is felt by the imperial authorities, no less strongly than by the colonial British population, that to invoke such aid would be a crime against the whites of South Africs.
