and under exceedingly unfavorable circumstances, which the general public cannot understand and never will appreciate. To them is mainly due the credit of bringing forward, to its present stage, the important link of communication now about to be opened for public use, promptly on this, the very day originally appointed in October 1865.

SANDFORD FLEMING,
Civil Engineer.

HALIFAX, NOVA SCOTIA,
31st May, 1867.