

The Rev. J. H. Eccleston, D.D., celebrated his 25th anniversary as rector of Emmanuel Church, Baltimore, on Sunday, January 10th. A feature of the special service held in commemoration of the interesting event was the presentation by the ladies of the church of $12,300 as the nucleus of an endowment fund of $100,000 which it is hoped to raise for the church.

After thirteen years endeavour the property No. 3 west 53rd street, New York, has been purchased by St. Thomas Church. The present rectory site will be utilized in the erection of a new edifice to cost $1,000,000, replacing the temporary structure erected soon after the destruction by fire of the well-known church which was built by the congregation on moving from its down-town location.

The Rev. E. Cornwall Jones, who lately resigned his pastorate of Yarmouth Congregational Church whilst occupying the position of President of the Norfolk Congregational Union, was a short time ago ordained deacon at Aberdeen by the Bishop of the diocese and was subsequently licensed by his Lordship to the curacy of Christ Church, Kincardine, with the charge of St. Thomas' at Aboyne in Aberdeenshire.

The Rev. S. C. Carpenter, M.A., vice-principal of the Clergy Training School and Chaplain of Jesus College, Cambridge, has been appointed Warden of the Gonville and Cains College Mission at Battersea. In the place of the late Rev. Dr. Jelf the Governors of Charterhouse School have appointed the Rev. G. S. Davies, M.A., late assistant master at Charterhouse School, Godalming, master of Sutton's Hospital or the Charterhouse, London, E. C.

The Rev. John Dawson, M.A., late vicar of Holy Trinity, Weston-super-Mare, was lately honoured by a special message from the King at Sandringham in which His Majesty sent his congratulations to Mrs. Dawson and himself on the occasion of their Diamond Wedding. Mr. Dawson, who is in his 84th year, was obliged to retire from his living two years ago on account of ill health. He, however, still conducts Divine service in the chapel of the sanatorium at Weston every Sunday.

The chapel of the S. P. G. House in Tufton St., Westminster, was crowded with the friends of the Right Rev. Dr. Boutflower, the new Bishop of South Tokyo, Japan, and his sister, Miss Boutflower, on the 6th of January, who had gathered together there in order to take part in the service of blessing and farewell which preceded the departure of these two to take up the work which lies before them in the Empire of Japan. They left England on the following morning en route for the Far East.

One of the sad results of the recent earthquake at Messina is the established fact that a most popular member of the Anglican Communion, the Rev. Charles Huleatt, British chaplain at Messina, has perished in the fearful catastrophe. His fate and that of his family has been definitely established. A party of British bluejackets, under Lieutenant Nevin, from H. M. S. Exmouth, spent many hours excavating the ruins of the chaplain's residence, and after great difficulty found the bodies of Mr. Huleatt and one of his children. The whole family perished; namely, the Rev. and Mrs. Huleatt and their four children.

In 909, when King Edward the Elder had been eight years upon the throne, Archbishop Plegmund consecrated in one day the seven Bishops of Winchester, Selsey, Sherborne, Dorchester, Ramsbury, Wells, and Crediton, and the three last were newly-founded sees. Ramsbury was some 830 years ago united with Sherborne, and the Bishop of Salisbury now rules the two former dioceses. Winchester and Wells still have the cathedrals of their respective bishops. Dorchester, after belonging to the Diocese of Lincoln, is now represented by Oxford, and Crediton has since 1050 been transferred to Exeter, but provides a title for the popular Suffragan-Bishop, Dr. Terfusis. A commemoration service, at which the Bishop of Bristol will preach, is to be held early in June at Holy Cross Church, Crediton, which has been in turn monastic, cathedral, collegiate, and now parochial. The Bishops of Exeter, Crediton, and Marlborough intend to be present, and Archbishop Plegmund's successor at Canterbury will be there if his engagements permit. The successors of the other bishops consecrated in 909 have also been invited. Wells also intends to celebrate its millenary this year.

The Rev. W. G. Cameron, M.A., of the Mission College of All Hallows', Barking, London, has been appointed to the vicarage of All Saints', Clapton, in the Diocese of London. The living is an important one of some 16,000 people, with a large parish church and two Mission churches, served by a staff of four clergy. Mr. Cameron is a son of the late Rev. Donald Cameron of S. John's Ballachulish, and a brother of Rev. Allan T. Cameron, rector of S. Andrew's Edinburgh. He was ordained with a title to S. Martin's, Edinburgh, for work at S. Mungo's Balerno. From there he went as curate-in-charge of S. Michael's, Upton Park, under Rev. E. N. Powell, now Bishop of Mashonaland. For the last three years he has been working under Dr. Arthur W. Robinson, Warden of the Mission College of All Hallows', Barking, where he has had a varied experience, the college being a college of preachers, whose services are at the disposal of the Church at large. During his time in the city, Mr. Cameron was founder, and is now hon. secretary of the City of London Branch of the Church of England Men's Society, with Canon Scott Holland as its chairman. The branch is doing excellent work in connection with its lodgings section, and has just started a welcome section for Japanese students in London, in response to a request made by Japanese delegates to the Pan-Anglican Congress.

Children's Department

AS GOOD CHOOSES.

My life is not what I have chosen. I often long for quiet, for reading and for thought. It seems to me to be a very paradise to be able to read, to think, go into deep things, gather the glorious riches of intellectual culture. God has forbidden it in His Providence. I must spend hours in receiving people to speak to me about all manner of trifles; must reply to letters about nothing; must engage in public work on everything; employ my life on what seems uncongenial, temporary, waste.

Yet God knows me better than I know myself. He knows my gifts, my powers, my failings and weaknesses, what I can do and what I cannot do. So I desire to be led, and not to lead—to follow Him.—Norman McLeod.

God is our Home; and in that home life all His gifts are freely bestowed upon us. We can use and enjoy them; nay, we ought to do so. The marvellous endowments of our human nature—of the mind, of the senses, of love and of beauty; all the marvels of this universe in which we live, which man half receives and half creates; these we are meant to know, to use, to enjoy. It is the very privilege of man to be able in some degree to "share God's rapture" in His creation, to see and know that it is "very good."

When Your Child Has a Cold.

Are you satisfied with anything that sells under the name of cough medicine?

Or do you search out a medicine of proven value such as Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine?

How few cases of consumption there would be if every child's cold were looked after as it should be.

Did you ever think of it in this way?

It is the neglected cough and cold that leads to the dreadful lung diseases sooner or later. From repeated attacks the lungs are weakened and there comes pneumonia or consumption with their dreadfully fatal results.

How watchful parents should be of their children! How careful to use effective treatment instead of trusting to cough mixtures which are often of little value or of harmful effects.

Because it is prepared from linseed, turpentine and other simple but wonderfully effective ingredients, Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine is particularly suitable as a treatment for children's coughs and colds.

Croup, bronchitis and even whooping cough yields to the influence of this great medicine and for this reason it is kept constantly on hand in the majority of homes and has enormous sales.

Mrs. John Chesney, Innerkip, Ont., writes: "Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine cured my little girl of whooping cough when the doctor had given her up and since then we always keep it in the house as a treatment for coughs and colds. It is the best medicine we ever used."

There is no getting round statements such as this and you want the most effective treatment possible when your child becomes ill. Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed & Turpentine, 25 cts. a bottle, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

Charcoal Purifies Any Breath

And In Its Purest Form Has Long Been Known As the Greatest Gas Absorber.

Pure willow charcoal will oxidize almost any odor and render it sweet and pure. A panful in a foul cellar will absorb deadly fumes, for charcoal absorbs one hundred times its volume in gas.

The ancients knew the value of charcoal and administered it in cases of illness, especially pertaining to the stomach. In England to-day charcoal poultices are used for ulcers, boils, etc., while some physicians in Europe claim to cure many skin diseases by covering the afflicted skin with charcoal powder.

Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges go into the mouth and transfer four odors at once into oxygen, absorb noxious gases and acids, and when swallowed mix with the digestive juices and stop gas making, fermentation and decay.

By their gentle qualities they control beneficially bowel action and stop diarrhoea and constipation.

Bad breath simply cannot exist when charcoal is used. There are no ifs or ands about this statement. Don't take our word for it, but look into the matter yourself. Ask your druggist or physician, or better still, look up charcoal in your encyclopedia. The beauty of Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges is that the highest pharmaceutical expert knowledge obtainable has been used to prepare a lozenge that will give to man the best form of charcoal for use.

Pure willow and honey is the result. Two or three after meals and at bedtime sweeten the breath, stop decay of teeth, aid the digestive apparatus and promote perfect bowel action. They enrich the supply of oxygen to the system and thereby revivify the blood and nerves.

Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges are sold everywhere in vast quantities, thus they must have merit. Every druggist carries them, price, twenty-five cents per box, or send us your name and address and we will send you a trial package by mail free. Address F. A. Stuart Company, 200 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.
