

members shall be a quorum, and any majority of such quorum may exercise all the powers of the Council: Provided always, that any number of the members of the Council shall have full power to adjourn any meeting thereof, such adjournment being entered on the minutes of the meeting, and not being made within one hour after that which shall have been appointed for the meeting. Proviso.

VI. And be it enacted, That at the first or some subsequent meeting of the Council, the members (being a quorum) shall elect a member of the Council to be President and another to be Vice President thereof, and some fit person, not being a member of the Corporation, to be their Secretary and Treasurer:—and the President and Vice President shall hold their offices until the next annual meeting of the Corporation, and until another Council shall be elected, but if either of them shall die or cease to be a member of the Corporation before his term of office shall have expired, another may be elected in his stead, the Vice President being eligible as President: the President shall preside at all meetings of the Council if present, and shall have a casting vote in case of equal division in addition to his vote as member of the Council; in the absence of the President the Vice President shall have like functions and powers, or if both be absent any member of the Council who shall be appointed by the others Chairman for the occasion: the Secretary and Treasurer shall keep the minutes of all proceedings of the Council and of all general meetings of the Corporation, and shall have the custody of the moneys of the Corporation, and may appoint a Deputy who, being approved by the Council, may in the absence of the Secretary-Treasurer perform his duties or any of them, his duties which may be assigned to him by his deputation. Election of President.

VII. And be it enacted, That the said Council shall have power to call general meetings of the Corporation, at such time and in such manner as they may think fit, conforming, nevertheless, to any By-law of the Corporation which may be then in force with regard to the mode of calling the same. Council may call general meetings;

VIII. And be it enacted, That the said Council shall have power to make By-laws for any or all of the following purposes, that is to say: the management, regulation, appropriation and disposal of its affairs, property and business,—the government of the Members thereof as such,—the contribution which they shall respectively pay to the funds of the Corporation, so as such contributions shall not exceed per annum for each member,—the regulation of apprentice pilots, including the qualifications and knowledge they must possess, the time they must have served as such, and, the particulars of such service, be— And make By-laws.