where on de Saskatchewan. Ah! 'Toinnette could never know how much she ask, but I look down on dat lil' child asleep, an' I t'ink de mans I hate is hees fadder!

Yes, I promise her—how can I help it when 'Toinnette—'Toinnette wid de tear in de eye—have ask me!

When I leave her I was feel all tremble up inside. I hardly know 'nough to tie on my snow-shoe. I don't notice where I go—I jus' walk, an' feel bad, an' I t'ink.

'Taint no use for me to try do one t'ing in dis worl'; my hap'ness dat I have plan was steal from me by de man I was love bes', an' de revenge I was hug like one real joy dat is steal from me by de womans I love de bes'! Well, M'sieur, I feel as t'ough I has not'ing to live for. For de firs' time I look up as I t'ink dis, an' I see dat I is at de "run-way" where I has met dat strange mans. By de way, sir, as I t'ink of how he has screech and run I t'ink I wish I had see hees face, an' by gar, I would never need make dat promise to 'Toinnette. I would have kill him den, for now I was sure it was Gregoire.

I was keep on walk ver' fas', for I was much excite; and pretty soon I saw an ol' wool mitten lie frozen to de snow near de edge of a lil' ravine. I don't know why I have look over, but I did, an' den I pull off my snow-shoe an' climb down.

Why have I do dat? 'Cause I wit my sharp eye have see somet'ing on de Nannette M. Pratt.

I want to impress upon mothers the necessity of developing their daughter's bodies before the corset age. Many girls who have learned to stand correctly, chest well up, shoulders back and abdomen in, will never need a corset to add to their appearance.

Helen Oldfield.

If practice makes perfect in all else, why not trust that it may do so in love? Only an exceedingly small proportion of people, men or women, marry their first loves, or are happy when they do so.

Manchester Guardian.

Some of the tests proposed upon volunteers verge upon the grotesque. The idea of eliminating every man whose teeth do not satisfy an exacting dentist might almost have been borrowed from Gideon. One is accustomed to the idea that an army marches upon its stomach; it has been reserved for Mr. Arnold Foster to discover that it fights with its teeth.

Leopold—Silly fuss they're making about these so-called atrocities in my Congo property.

Abdul—Only talk, my dear boy. They won't do anything. They never touched me.

Agnes Laub.

Men who master destiny rise like the Phoenix, from the ashes of their own ruin. In the language of the street, when they fall, these men of destiny, they make a point of falling upstairs.

With reference to the recent cases of pockets having been picked in the Lion House at the Zoo, we are informed that no suspicion attaches to the beasts themselves.

Earl Roberts.

We may reform the army to the end of time and the system of army administration may be changed as often as the government of the day may see fit to change it, and yet be no nearer than we are at present to the solution of our difficulties as regards having the kind of army we require for our peculiar needs and responsibilities.

The railway carriage is the poor man's university; the wisest of us may learn many things from a journey in one.

A WIDE SPHERE OF USEFULNESS.—The consumption of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil has grown to great proportions. Notwithstanding the fact that it has now been on the market for over thirty-one years, its prosperity is as great as ever, and the demand for it in that period has very greatly increased. It is beneficial in all countries, and wherever introduced fresh supplies are constantly asked for.
