

Law students raise $813 for United Way

By GORDON LOANE
Managing Editor

A zany scheme by law students, faculty and staff has resulted in $813 being raised for the United Way campaign on campus.

Last Friday, many of Ludlow Hall's finest were gathered in the library to witness the mad scramble to win the famous "library search relay." Four teams participated in the event - first, second and third-year law students and finally the faculty. The object of the exercise was to determine which team could find the required number of specific books and cases in the shortest period of time. Bearing no penalty points for finding the wrong book or case, the team that found "it all" the quickest was the winner.

Considerable speculation as to what team would win resulted in considerable wagers being made during the week. Tickets were sold and $813 was raised in just five short days, according to Mike McHugh, one of the organizers of the event.

The relay took a considerable period of time and any impartial observer could easily see that the faculty seemed to have more trouble in completing the event than the students. One observer speculated that books that hadn't been seen in the library in years were used (only the librarians know for sure.)

Members of the press were tipped about this event from a source who asked not to be named (Prof. Townsend). We speculated that the faculty members would win hands down. Well, the members of the press were wrong again. Third-year students appear to be good in the library and were the eventual winners. First-year students, who seemed to get their baptism in library use early this year, finished a surprising second.

Tug of war tomorrow

The winner of the Labatt-Oland cup for this year will be determined tomorrow when the UNB Phys. Ed. Society presents its annual tug of war in front of the SUB at 2 p.m.

This is the fourth year for the tug of war. It was won in 1977 by MacKenzie House and the next two years by Neill House. MacKenzie House will be competing this year as will Harrison, Jones and Bridges House.

Faculty members finished a disappointing third in the event and second-year students finished - you guessed it - dead last.

A draw took place following the event to distribute prizes. Patricia Dennis won the fourth prize - breakfast for two at Goofy Roofy's. Third prize winner Gordon Kierstead took home a bottle of spirits and second prize winner Peter Hyslop was the lucky winner of dinner for two at Goofy Roofy's on Brunswick Street. The Grand Prize winner, the lucky Peter Ringrose won a weekend trip courtesy of EPA to Montreal plus $100 spending money courtesy of the Law Students society.

Mike McHugh, one of the organizers of the event expressed his thanks to EPA and to all the students, faculty and staff of Ludlow Hall. "We raised a considerable amount of money in just five short days," he said.

Dineen lecture today

Alexander Curran, assistant deputy minister (space program) for the federal department of communications will give at the second James Dineen Memorial Lecture here today.

Mr. Curran's responsibilities are in the areas of development of technology consistence with Canadian ownership and control, applications of space technology, collaboration with agencies, and maintenance of an effective industrial base to serve domestic and export markets in space age technology. These are areas of significant national concern to not only his own department, but to other federal agencies.

John Roberts, minister of state for science and technology, said in a recent speech that national needs in the area of space communications are the driving force behind a restructuring of his ministry's space program.

Roberts also said he expects growth in space technology to come more and more from activities in the private industrial sector, an area in which Curran also has considerable experience. Before assuming his current post, Curran was assistant vice-president for technology and planning with Northern Telecom Canada, and prior to that was president of a high-technology company in California.

Today at 10:30 a.m. he will address engineering students and faculty. Both events will be held in the Dineen Auditorium, Head Hall.

Curran's lectures are the first in an annual series designed to honor the late James O. Dineen, former president and dean of engineering at UNB. Dr. Dineen served for 30 years after joining the UNB faculty in 1942, and was honored as an educator and electrical engineer.

Campus Christian

Ray Charles and his singers recorded the hit tune many years ago which people are still singing, "Born to lose, I've lived my life in vain...Born to lose, and now I'm losing you."

How could anyone have such a dismal outlook on life I thought. Life to me is so real, so exciting, and so good. Living for Jesus is a great way to live.

And then I realized that the guy on the other side of life was absolutely right. He was born to lose. And so was I, and everyone else on the earth! The Bible itself teaches that we all start out as born losers. Three verses of the Bible seem to bring this all together.

"For all have sinned and come short of the glory of God." Romans 3:23.

"For the wages of sin is death" Romans 6:23.

"And death and hell were cast into the lake of fire. This is the second death. Revelations 20:14.

We have no choice in the matter. Like it or not we are all sinners. The price of sin is always death. And that includes a second eternal death called the lake of fire.

We are all born losing (born dying) and born drifting towards hell. But there is a solution to this problem-be born again. In fact, the Bible says, "Except a man be born again, he cannot see the kingdom of God." (John 3:3)

You might ask the question, "How do I become born again?" The Apostle Peter was given the keys to the Kingdom of God. Many therefore asked him how they could be saved. His answer is your answer today. "Repent and be baptized everyone of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the remission of sins and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Ghost." (Acts 2:38)

Come to Jesus today. Tomorrow may be too late. The Agape Fellowship meets each Wednesday in Room 102, of the SUB, at 12:30. You are welcome to a time of praise to Jesus Christ, sharing, discussing and examining of the Christian faith in the true sense.
