PRIZE WINNING BOVINE ARISTOCRACY AT THE NATIONAL DAIRY SHOW, CHICAGO
Quality was the outstanding characteristic of the 450 cattle of the six dairy breeds in the stalls at the fifth annual National Dairy Show held recently in Chicago. Our illustration shows the first and second prize Ayrshire cows, the one in the foreground, Boghall Snow Drop 2nd, (Imp.), being the grand champion. The other cow is Oldhall Ladysmith 4th. W. W. Ballantyne, of Stratford, Ont., was judge of the Ayrshires. Fanciers of the great Scottish dairy breed, the Ayrshire, have before them in this champion Ayrshire cow something well worthy of study.
