ance in pure-bred stock between Great Britain and the United States, and having a careful and well-edited set of Canadian Hereford Herdbooks, and hope that the St. Louis World's Fair will rescind and amend their rules, as we are informed, from good authority, they intend to do.

That the thanks of this meeting are tendered our secretary and editor, Mr. H. Wade, and the officers, for the able manner in which the affairs of the Association have been looked after.

That we, the members of this Association, now in session, object very strongly to the present United States Treasury Department ruling in preventing Canadian breeders from selling cattle in the United States, and especially at the St. Louis Exhibition, where they would have to return to Canada before they would be delivered to the purchasers free of duty.

The sum of $200 was voted to be offered as special prizes, divided between the Toronto, Winnipeg and Calgary exhibitions of 1904.

Papa asked the little son of the board of trade man, "are you a bull or a bear?"

"I'm a bull just now," "Then I told mamma she was mistaken when she said you were an old bear, when you went away this morning."

"It isn't fair to give a girl away, possibly, but truth will out. Detroit has one among its countless pretty girls who was in the country this fall. One day she happened out towards the cow-lot, about milking time, and was asking the man several questions."

"Why don't you milk that cow?" she asked, pointing to one in an adjoining lot.

"Because, she's dry, miss."

"Dry?"

"Yes, miss. She's been dry for two weeks."

"You cruel wretch," she exclaimed;

"why don't you give her some water?"

and the man turned his face to the cow-house and shook with emotions he could not suppress.

The King was present at the Islington Fat-cattle Show last month, and many were the comments expressed on his well-being. He was one of the keenest spectators, and moved about the pens with an activity that would have done credit to a man of half his age. Few men in England understand cattle so well as the King. He looks after the breeding of his own cattle and knows as much about it as any farmer among his servants, and his comments at the Islington Show were those of an acute expert. Talking of what he knows, Sir Nigel Kingscote, who has devoted his life to the subject, confesses that he knows less than the King. The King won many cups for cattle at the Show.

Prof. W. J. Kennedy, head of the Animal Husbandry Department of the Iowa State College, has completed arrangements with Dunham, Coleman & Fletcher, Wayne, Ill., for the loan of eighteen head of their most famous prizewinning Percheron, Belgian and Coach horses to be used in the horse-judging work during the judging school, Ames, from January 4th to 16th. The undefeated grand champion Percheron stallion, Pink, winner at all the State fairs and the International, will be among the number.

At the recent International Live-stock Exposition, Chicago, the Animal Husbandry Department of the Iowa State College, with College Lad, the yearling Angus steer, won grand champion prize in the slaughter test over all breeds and all ages. The prize won by this steer alone amounted to over $400. The grand champion pen of five Berkshire barrows, winners over all breeds and ages in the show, and Tama Jim, the blue-grey Shorthorn-Galloway cross-bred calf, which won three firsts and a champion prize, illustrate the kind of stock produced by the College. The list of prizes won are summarized as follows: Two grand champions; seven champions; sixteen firsts; nine seconds; five thirds; two fourths; and eight fifths, making in all forty-nine prizes.
