MIDDLETON'S PLANING MILL.

One of Farmersville's Busy Hives of Productive Industry.

This week's illustration is a good reproduction of a sketch by our special artist, C. C. Slack, of Middleton's planing mill situated at the east end of the village, in what is commonly him. The tall smoke stacks of Gordon's woolen mills, Middleton's wood working factory and Saunders' grist and saw mills, would bear evidence that there is an extensive manufacturing business carried on within our borders.

Nearly thirty years ago Horatio Robeson erected a stone building near the old grist mill. This was used for a number of years by Mr. Robeson and others, as a tannery, when it was converted into a shingle mill by Wm. J. Saunders, who in turn sold out to T. W. Bush, who for a time carried on an extensive manufactory of butter bowls and other turned ware. The business did not prove successful in hands of Mr. Bush, and the property was purchased by the present owner, Mr. Elijah Middleton.

Early in the year 1886 Mr. Middleton, finding that his rapidly increasing business called for more power, added a new annex, 30 x 22, and placed in position a fine 40-horse power engine, built by Black Bros., of Brockville. A line of shafting 56 feet in length transmits the power to the various machines in the building. In the south end of the annex is a large and powerful planing machine. Doors at each end of the room are directly in line with the bed of the machine, so that the longest strips of lumber can be readily passed through the called "Flats" or "Gordontown." A stranger driving into the village from Brockville, Plum Hollow or Delta, would be very likely to think from appearances that Farmersville possessed no manufacturers; but if he should come from Mallorytown, he would conclude that quite an extensive manufacturing town was before planer. The boiler room is made fireproof by being sheeted with tin. Adjoining the engine room is a large drying kiln, capable of holding over a thousand feet of lumber. By means of this kiln green lumber can be properly seasoned in a very short time.

Passing into the main building, we find a tonguing, grooving and moulding machine, manufactured by Cant, of Galt. A slitting saw and a turning lathe also occupy convenient positions in the lower story. The second floor contains a Goutley tenoning machine, a matcher and finisher, a sand-papering machine, a panel raiser, a mortising machine, a matcher and finisher and several smaller machines which are necessary adjuncts to the manufacturing carried on. There are usually from four to six hands employed, who, with the aid of the machinery, turn out a large amount of work daily.

Carpenters and builders have frequently stated in our hearing that Middleton's doors and sash are superior in many respects to those turned out by other manufacturers. Mr. Middleton insists upon the greatest attention being given to every detail of the manufacture, and that nothing shall be turned out which is not as near perfection as it possibly can be made.

COUNTY NEWS-LETTERS

Received from Our Own Correspondents During the past Week.

Elgin.

The Rev. D. Winters, conference evangelist, has for some time past been holding special services in this place, attended with great success.

The Elgin Fair came off on Saturday last. As the weather was lovely, a very good time was enjoyed by all. We are glad to see things looking up in this direction.

A great many people from this section attended Barnum's show. More intent taking in the Toronto exhibition.

New Dublin.

The harvest dinner in connection with the Methodist Church of New Dublin was held in the grove of Benj. Horton, Esq., on Wednesday last. There was a large attendance. After dinner the chair was taken by Mr. Jelly, Reeve of Elizabethtown, and addresses were delivered by the Revs. Rogers, Richardson and Sanderson. A game of baseball, played in the afternoon, between the clubs of North Augusta and New Dublin, resulted in victory for North Augusta. The net proceeds, to be applied on the church debt, amount to $4.

Rockspring.

The lawn social at the residence of Mr. Beatty Powell, was quite a success. A large audience was present, and the beautiful grounds were nicely illuminated. A choice collation of fruit was served after which the following programme was rendered:—Chairman's speech, Rev. D. C. Sanderson; Trio, Mrs. Sanderson, G. Patterson and J. Patterson; recitation, Miss Minnie Lewis; song (duet), Mrs. Moffatt and T. P. Moffatt; recitation, "Our Hills to the Poorhouse," Miss Donovan; recitation, J. Muir; recitation, W. Lewis; song, T. P. Moffatt. The proceeds, amounting to $30, will be applied on the parsonage debt.

Harlem.

Quite a number of our people took in Barnum's show Saturday.

Mr. Wm. Gallagher has this summer erected a neat and substantial house on his property in the fifth concession.

One of our youthful dead beats has departed for pastures new and in his haste forgotten a few little bills!

In your issue of last week an error occurred. In stead of reading Wm. Egan, it should have read Mrs. Egan. She is expected on a visit to her sister.

The Methodist picnic on September 1st passed off nicely. The attendance, though not large, was respectable, and the dinner was all that an epicure could wish. The proceeds ($37) are to be applied to the parsonage fund.

Glen Buell.

The foreman of our largest manufacturing establishment has concluded to open a summer resort in this place. The sweet scented aroma wafted from the Bell farm flower garden, the soft and balmy breezes that murmur through the groves surrounding this classic village, and the high moral tone of the inhabitants combine to render the place popular with the pleasure seeking public. Some of those who have paid occasional visits here, have been heard to express the opinion that Charleston lake, P. I. Park, or the romantic scenery around Rockport have no charms equalling the fascinations of our summer resort. It is not yet decided what steps shall be taken to bring the resort to the notice of the public, but it has been suggested that our combination butchers be invited to speak a good word for it when on their rounds.

Newboro and Vicinity.

Miss Effie Wight returned home from Caledonia Springs last week. She had been visiting there for a few weeks.

Miss Mary Hart left here Saturday for Kingston to visit friends.

Mr. Rose, of Watertown, N. Y., is visiting his sister, Mrs. E. J. Hopkins.

Mr. Benj. Cavanagh and daughter, of Bathurst, are visiting at Mr. A. Bell's.

Miss Youill, of St. Mary's, is the guest of Mrs. Harry Leggett.

Quite a large number of Newboro pleasure seekers will take in Barnum's show to-day in the Limestone City. Should Barnum or his agents get sight of the wagon-load from here, we feel confident that there would be one or two passengers less on the homeward trip.

The R. C. picnic at Westport, Saturday, Aug. 27, was a grand success, nearly 1,000 said to be present. The homely man of Westport could be seen in the crowd.

The saw mill whistle signalled fire one of the dark nights recently. It was amusing to see men hurrying to and fro looking for the blaze. A few street lamps would have been so very convenient then.

Mrs. Thos. Hutelings died on Friday last. Funeral services were held in the English Church on Saturday.

Mr. James Ewing died on Saturday p. m.; burial service to-day (Monday).

Mr. Chas. English's infant daughter died on Sunday last.

There are four Scott Act violations to be acted on here next Saturday.

Mr. Jas. Hasleton has purchased a house and lot in Westport and will erect a store this fall. He will soon remove there. We will be sorry to lose the "gritty James."

SOCTA.

Spring Valley.

Farmers are about through harvesting. Crops are light.

Pictures of the Little Giant can be obtained at our local blacksmith shop. Friends should make a note of this, and secure one, as he is about to return to his native land.

Mrs. Pension and daughters, of California, have been the guests of Mrs. Nathan Mott.

Miss Mattie Jackson, of New Jersey, after spending a few weeks with her friends, started for home Tuesday, the 13th. We join in wishing her a pleasant trip.

Mr. Thos. Fairburne, son of Mr. G. Fairburne, arrived here from the west a few days ago. He is looking hale and hearty.

Miss H. Madlen, of Farmersville, has been the guest of Mrs. R. Davis.

Miss Ethel Gilroy, of Farmersville, is spending her vacation in this place. [Arrived too late for last week.]

THE UNIONVILLE FAIR.

The directors met on the 31st of August to make final arrangements for the fair. The following were present: The President, Secretary and Treasurer, and Messrs. Fourth, Neilson, Lee, Johnston and Barry. The minutes of previous meeting were read and approved.

The Secretary read the list of those who had accepted the office of judge, after which the few vacancies were filled by the appointment of those whose names are distinguished by asterisks in the list below.

Tenders were received from the North Augusta, Mallorytown and Toledo brass bands, for their services during the two last days of the fair. The tender of the Toledo band was accepted, there being sixteen performers and the price being $39.50.

On motion of Mr. Johnston, seconded by Mr. Neilson, the Secretary was instructed to get legal advice as to the power of the Society to enforce its rules and regulations within the jurisdiction of the Association.
