

The Lease

Of my store expires on the first of May next, and I purpose moving into more suitable premises.

In order to save as far as possible the expense and damage of moving my stock, I purpose offering it for sale at a discount of off my usual low-cut prices. Just to illustrate: Take, for instance, my $35.00 Parlor Suite, the discount would reduce it to $26.25, a clear saving of $8.75.

Everything else in the same proportion.

LOCAL SUMMARY.

ATHEENS AND NEIGHBORING LOCALITIES BRIEFLY WRITTEN UP.

Event as Seen by Our Knight or the Local Amusement Billed Rich Down.

On Monday evening Miss S. Byers entertained very pleasantly a number of her young friends at her home, Main street.

Obtain Photos in the latest styles for only $2.25 per dozen, for the balance of February, at Falkner's Photo Gallery, Athens.

Lyn crossed sticks with Athens in a game of hockey at the Crystal Palace rink on Wednesday evening last. Athens scored an easy victory, taking a straight.

A wedding party from Newboro, took dinner at the Hotel on Monday last. The party consisted of S. A. Cary of Newboro, who had that morning been united in the bonds of matrimony to Miss Ripley of the same place. They were accompanied by Cary and lady, S. J. Ripley, W. Cary, and T. B. Cary and lady. The party visited Falkner's Photo Gallery and sat for their pictures before leaving for their homes.

J. L. Gallagher spent the past two weeks in the counties of Lanark and Renfrew, representing Kinloch's Patent Metallic Roofing. We are successful, not only for his own personal advantage, but for the Patentee's profit. We know after three years all that is claimed for it, and transmit or others purchasing the right to manufacture or use it can rely on getting a roof that will give perfect satisfaction. Mr. Gallagher will spend this week in Kingston and vicinity, pushing the sale of the roofing.

The Wells-Falford Concert. Friday evening last was a very bad night for pedestrians to be on the street, but those who had the luck to attend the concert at the High School Hall were amply repaid. The programme was a lengthy one and was carried out to the last number. The singing of Mr. Wells was on the high note, and he had the luck to respond to several encores. Mr. and Mrs. Fulford fairly entranced the audience with the sweetness of their playing on the violin, being assisted by Mrs. Sanders as accompanist. The readings and monologues by Mr. McCrea were of too light a character to please an Athenian audience, many being of the opinion that several of our own boys could excel him in some of the selections given. But he is young yet, and may improve with age.

The Portland Fire. A good deal of talk has been indulged in over the fire that took place at Portland on November 21st, at 1.30 in the morning, whereby Mr. T. K. Kow's property was destroyed. The Union's association sent Detective Flynn down to investigate, and all sorts of rumors were afloat concerning what he discovered. One yarn was that a certain man had done the job and afterwards skipped out, and on one time it was announced that the man had been seen. This was all talk, all that has been done after investigation is to offer a reward for the discovery of the incendiaries. Up to date the insurance companies interested have not settled, and the claim is in the hands of W. A. Lewis, barrister of Athens, with instructions to push them. The latter gentleman was in Brockville on Thursday last, and a writ was issued against the sheriff served to the local agent with statement of claim, the amount being $2,170. The time has not yet expired for settlement of the British American Company, and Mr. Lewis will issue a writ in this case too, if settlement is not made. The amount of claim is $1,500. Mr. Lewis has retained with him Mr. Aylesworth, of Toronto, while Mr. Oler will appear for the company. The case will be tried at Brockville in April.
