Samuel Jackson of Plum Hollow.
She leaves besides her sorrowing hus band five little children her aged mother, Mrs Emily Jackson of Athens, two sisters and five brothers.

Robins have been observed in the village. They seemingly arrived with the snowstorm last week, and their cheerful chirrup was a welcome sound, for the warm sunny weather of spring is always associated in one's mind with the robin. Although not a renowned song bird, he is nevertheless able to make the quiet street ring with clear toned melody.

Several owners of cottages at the lake have been down to see how they stood the winter and so far no com plaints of any kind have reached us regarding their condition. It some times happens that they have been broken into and articles taken. The damage by ice is not yet and its going out will be watched with inter est.

Mrs E. Rowsome whose husband passed away last month at his late home on a farm about a mile or so east of the village, is taking up resi dence here with her daughter, Mrs E.
Chivers.

The Department of Agriculture, Athens, is issuing a rural school fair prize list. These fairs will be held in the various school sections, the pupils being the competitors. The Depart ment will make a free distribution of a sample of oats, barley, corn, potatoes, sweet pea or aster seed to each pupil with the understanding that the pro duce be exhibited at the fair held in the fall.

H. Arnold's store front has been brightened up by the addition of a coat of black paint. Looking along Main street one imagines how much better it will look when all the build ings are repainted. The changeability of our climate makes this operation frequently necessary. No building should be allowed to become weather beaten and landlords will keep up the value of their property and at the same time enhance the beauty of the village by the judicious use of paint.

Ford B. Wiltsse and family, who have recently returned from McDon ald College to their old home on the Addison road, were very pleasantly surprised a few nights ago. A num ber of their Athenian friends chaperoned by Mr and Mrs A. R. Brown, called on them in a body, bringing refresh ments and a good time generally with them. The evening passed all too quickly with games and music, and all joined in singing Auld Lang Syne, before leaving for their homes.

CHAPMAN—MONTGOMERY

At 6.30 o'clock on Tuesday, March 16 at the residence of the bride's par ents, Frankville, Rev A. E. Hagar united in marriage Wilbert Chapman, a prosperous farmer who resides at Plum Hollow, to Miss Estella Mont gomery, only daughter of Mr and Mrs Wesley Montgomery. The ceremony was performed in the presence of only the immediate friends of the con tracting parties.

The bride who was given away by her father, was attired in a handsome brown silk dress. She was for some years organist in the Methodist church, Frankville, and an active member of the Epworth League.

Mr and Mrs Chapman will reside at Plum Hollow.

BROCKVILLE MARKET

Saturday's market was largely at tended by dealers and patrons. The principal offerings were butter, eggs and potatoes. Eggs were very plenti ful at 22 and 25c, butter sold at 32 to 35c, while potatoes ruled at 40c. A little new maple syrup was offered at $1.20 per gallon but the demand was not strong for even the small amount offered.

The principal offerings and quot ations were:

Wool .. . . .	10 to 12
Pork .. . . .	.11
Chickens, pair .. . . .	1.00
Eggs .. . . .	.22
Butter .. . . .	.32
Potatoes .. . . .	.40
Maple Syrup .. . . .	1.20
