FRIEND OF WAIFS DEAD

Dr. T. J. Barnardo Passes Away Suddenly in London.

Philanthropist Who Established Series of Homes That Rescued Nearly 60, 000 "Unwanted" and Destitute Children From Suffering, Vice and Crime-Nearly 18,000 of Them In Canada to Mourn Their Benefactor.

London, Sept. 21.—Dr. Thomas John

THE LATE DR. BARNARDO.

THE LATE DR. BARNARDO.

German of Spanish descent, and his mother was born in Ireland, but she was of English ancestors. Dr. Barnardo was a typical English evangelical churchman. He was educated in private schools, and in hospitals in London, Edinburgh and Paris.

Beginning of His Work.

While at the London Hospital in 1866 he had his attention directed to the condition of the child waifs on the streets of London and established his first home for such a year later. In 1873 he married Syrie Louise, only daughter of Mr. William Elmslie, and in the same year founded a village for girls at Ilford. In 1887 he founded. "Her Majesty's Hospital for Sick Waifs." He was the pioneer of the emigration of children, thousands of whom are now contented residents in Canada. Dr. Barnardo was a F. R. C. S. of Edinburgh, and a fellow of the Royal Geographical Society.

Dr. Barnardo's Homes, with their 121 branches, had on 30th June, 1905, 8,493 boys and girls under their care, and to this large family about thirteen others are added every twenty-four hours. The number of children wholly maintained by the homes in 1904 was 10,905. During the same year 3,827 fresh cases (boys and girls) were admitted—a number very largely in excess of all the admissions put together by similar institutions throughout England, In all, the homes, throughout the forty years of their existence, have saved nearly 60,000 "unwanted" and destitute children from suffering, vioe and crime.

His Work in Canada.

Toronto, Sept. 21.—The news of Dr. Barnardo's death was received with deep regret at the Rarnardo B. C. Whitney's from suffering, vice and crime.

His Work in Canada.

Toronto, Sept. 21.—The news of Dr.
Barnardo's death was received with deep regret at the Barnardo Boys' Home, 213 Farley avenue, the Canadian headquarters of the work carried on by the dead philanthropist.

Dr. Barnardo's name will always be honored throughout the length and breadth of the Dominion. Nearly 18,000 children have been sent across the seas to Canada from the old country. During 1994 1,226 boys and giris were emigrated to Canada, and the Colonies, and 669 have been sent out in 1905. Less than 11-2 per cent, have failed in the Colonies.

A home in Canada was established A nome in Canada was established in 1882. The headquarters in Farley avenue were established in 1888, but in the meantime a small home had been opened near the Union Station. The growth of the emigration to Canada and the control of the canada and the canada an been opened near the Union Station. The growth of the emigration to Canada made a larger building an absolute necessity. Dr. Barnardo's last visit to Farley avenue was in 1900. He formed the young helpers' league on behalf of his movement in 1891. It was in 1885 that he received the diploma and medal of the Societe Nationale d'Encouragement due Bien of Paris. He was the author of numerous publications, and was editor of The National Waif's Magazine, and of The Young Helpers' League Magazine. He was at Stepney Causeway, the London headquarters, from early morning until late at night, and thus he had little time to spend at either his house at liftord or his charming home by the River Surrey. Yet he was able occasionally to travel, which he leved to do; he was a lover of books and he rejoiced in the society of the children. The bairns loved him.
