D. C. Ross, of Kentville, in the chair. Rev. G. W. Schurman extended the welcome of the Association to the new pastors within the bounds of the Asso- ciation. They are as follows: Rev. H. E. Allaby, Berwick; Rev. Z. L. Fash, Hantsport; Rev. C. B. Lumaden, Dart- mouth. Berg. Engeneen Content.
Coorder L. Bishop, President of the County Conservative Association, occu- pied the chair, and on the platform were the members-elect, Messre, Caldwell and Nowlan, and a group of prominent sup- porters of the new administration. Mr. Caldwell was the first speaker. Briefly, but with manifest sincerity, he expressed to the electors, of all faiths his appreciation of the support and co- operation which had ensured the elec- tion of Mr. Nowlan and himself. Re- ferring to some of the great problems which confront the new Government he warned his hearers that, while these matters would receive immediate atten- tion, they could not be disposed of in a moment. It was the kind of address one expects from a business man.—delivered straight- forwardly and in a business-like manner- and it is quite evident that Mr. Cald- well is one man who can be depended upon to give Nova Scotia a business- like administration of her affairs. When the applause which followed Mr. Caldwell's address had subsided, Mr. Caldwell's address had subsided, Mr. Caldwell's address had subsided, Mr. Nowlan arose amid a storm of dealfening cheers. There can be no doubt of his place in public estem. It was "our George", recovered some what from the fatigue of an arduous campaign, speaking to us in his own breezy, minitable way. "The Victory", she declared, "is the victory of the people". The Armstrong Governemnt had gone down before a storm of resentment—the indigination of all the people. It had perished be- cause of the selfishness and lack of moral stamina which makes "govern- ment of the people by the clique" a possibility. The people had demanded a return to responsible government. Human nature was, however, common, to all mem-selfishness rampant in all parties. There is but one way by which a party can avoid deteriorating into "a machine, and that is by the presence, in the party and in parliament, of men and women whe will speak as the	 Best of good feeling Were as follows: Win, Melling, A.
