The British Navy READY FOR WAR.

Not since the Emperor of Germany's historical cablegram to Paul Kruger, whilst the Boer war was in progress, has the friendly relationship between England and Germany approached the point of breaking point, as during this last few days, through a speech made by Mr. Lord George, Chancellor of the Exchequer, in reference to the Moroccan complications.

Whether war between the two nations result or not will depend on the diplomatic handling of the situation, by the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, Sir Edward Grey, and the British Cabinet, in the first case, and whether Germany is in a state of preparedness to come to grips with the only nation she is in the opinion of those best able to judge, even likely to have occasion to go to war with, in the second case.

The British Navy was made the battle cry of the Unionist Party in the election of 1909, and Lord Charles Bereford, candidate for Portsmouth, and F. E. Smith, a Liverpool Unionist candidate for Liverpool, unfolded some authenticated statistics regarding the strength of the British in comparison to that of the German navy, at the date given and the state of the two powers, when their respective estimates for the immediate future were concluded, and the battleships provided for in them were afloat and in commission.

The statistics showed that according to the programme laid down for the Navy estimates by the Liberal Government, the comparison was distinctly unfavourable to Great Britain, and that Germany was every year becoming a serious menace and contender to England for supremacy of the sea.

Caused a Sensation.

The inspired and authenticated figures submitted, caused a profound sensation throughout the British Empire, urgent representations being made to the Mother Country by her Dominions beyond the seas, as well as the deep thinking Imperialists within the confines of the British Isles.

Long and earnest consultation by the peace-at-any-price party, resulted in significant additions being made in the navy estimates, bringing the provision for the next three years, up to something like the standard, asked for by the Unionists.

Since that time work at the shipbuilding yards and on a scheme of land fortifications on the east coast of England and Scotland has proceeded with a feverish rapidity, very little publicity having been given to the former and absolute secrecy maintained regarding the latter, so far as this could be attained.

It is not generally known that a scheme of land forts is at present being hurriedly completed on the east coast of Scotland, in which will be mounted guns of a heavy calibre and

OWES HER HEALTH

To Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Scottville, Mich.—"I want to tell you how much good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Sanative Wash have done me. I live on a farm and have worked very hard. I am forty-five years old, and am the mother of thirteen children. Many people think it strange that I am not broken down with hard work and the care of my family, but I tell them of my good friend, your Vegetable Compound, and that there will be no backache and bearing down pains for them if they will take it as I have. I am scarcely ever without it in the house.

"I will say also that I think there is no better medicine to be found for young girls to build them up and make them strong and well. My eldest daughter has taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for painful periods and irregularity, and it has always helped her.

"I am always ready and willing to speak a good word for the Lydia E.
Pinkham's Remedies. I tell every one I meet that I owe my health and happiness to these wonderful medicines."

—Mrs. J. G. JOHNSON, Scottville, Mich., R. F. D. 3.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotics or harmful drugs, and is a day holds the record for the largest number of actual cures of female diseases.

too, excepting that Germany is a little more prepared, and the task would not be so easy now, as it was then.

War May Come Suddenly.

It is generally conceded, however, that to enter into a naval war, is like taking a leap into the unknown. No one can say for certain how the huge fighting machines and their crews will behave in the real thing. Conditions aboard a warship are so different to anything ever experienced before, and it is this uncertainty in connection with the prospect of a naval war, that overawes the deep thinking minds of those who would be engaged therein, but as a fairly high authority, aboard a line of battleships, said to the writer when discussing this phase of the situation, while manoeuvring in the "Channels."

"We know as much about it as Germany. It will come suddenly, when it does come, and we will go as far as they do. All we are waiting for is the word. It will have to come some day, and the sooner the better!"

In the opinion of the writer there will be no war resulting from the present Moroccan complications. Although it is wonderful how simple an act can precipitate war. When it does come, it will be with dramatic suddenness, and according to expert opinion, will end with equally dramatic suddenness, by one of the contesting powers' annihilation. Land will play an important part in the terrible contingency, and the defeated power will be a negligible quality in the world's naval forces for a century to come.

There will be no ultimatum issued, no Cabinet council meeting with the withdrawals of Ambassadors, the next and it is believed the final war, will begin and end in the North Sea, and that is the terrible contingency Great Britain never ceases to prepare for, but the first shot will never be fired by British guns, it is Germany, that is the menace to the world's peace.

Fist Fight in Hungarian House.

Budapest, Hungary, Aug. 3.—A live-flat fight, to be followed by a duel with sabres, enlivened to-day's proceedings in the lower chamber which recently has suffered from dullness in consequence of the prolonged obstructive tactics of the opposition. An interruption of a debate started a row, and finally Herr Pozsgay, a Kossuth partisan made a dive for Herr Palfi on the Government side. The latter met Pozsgay half way, dealing him a staggering right hand blow between the eyes. Confusion followed, and the President was obliged to suspend the session. Subsequently the duel was arranged.

Sprained Ankle Saturday Worked Again Monday

Douglas' Egyptian Liniment Did the Trick.

Mr. A. Carman, one of Davisville, Ontario's energetic young men, writes:
"Some time ago I was getting over a wire fence, and when lifting my left foot, my right slipped, and in falling the heel of my boot caught the second wire, thus spraining my ankle.

From the pain I thought my leg was broken. I managed to get home, suffering great agony. My father walked over a mile to the druggist's, who sold him a bottle of Egyptian Liniment, which we applied with surprising results, for it relieved the pain almost instantly, and on the next day, Sunday, I was able to put my slipper on.

Though this was the worst accident I ever had, I was able to work on Monday without the loss of a single day."

Accidents will happen. Don't be without a bottle of Douglas' Egyptian Liniment.
