

TO-DAY'S MESSAGES.

9.30 A. M.

SOLDIERS' OVATION TO PREMIER.

LONDON, Nov. 11. Premier Lloyd George, addressing the cheering crowds yesterday, spoke as follows: "You are entitled to rejoice. The people of this country and of their Allies, and the people of our Overseas Dominions and of India, have won a glorious victory. It was the sons and daughters of the people who have won it. It is the most wonderful victory for Liberty in the history of the world. Let us thank God for it." Premier Lloyd George bowed and disappeared. Chancellor Bower Law, after kissing his hand to the crowd as he pulled down the window, moved away. Hardly had the Premier finished talking when a long file of shouting soldiers, British, Canadian, Australians, Americans and a few from other Allied countries, speared their way through the throng and managed to reach the front of the Premier's house, where they gave him a great ovation.

DRIVEN OUT.

THE HAGUE, Nov. 11. Crown Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria, Commander of the German Northern Army Group, and his staff, have fled from Liege, where the garrison has revolted, according to the Belgian newspaper Les Nouvelles. The officers at Liege, the newspaper adds, have been deposed and the red flag hoisted.

MORE ABDICATIONS.

COPENHAGEN, Nov. 11. The Grand Duke of Oldenburg has been deposed, and the Grand Duke of Mecklenburg-Schwerin has abdicated, according to despatches from Hamburg. The Hamburg Nachrichten, which reports the abdication of the Grand Duke, says that a Government for Mecklenburg has been formed by a Workers' and Soldiers' Council. In many towns of Northern Germany the military has refused to recognize the Soldiers' and Workers' Council. In these places the local administration has been taken over by a commissary.

THE SPIRIT OF REVOLUTION.

LONDON, Nov. 11. The Admiralty has intercepted a German wireless, addressed from "the command and soldiers' council" on the cruiser 'Strassburg,' to all ships, torpedo boats, destroyers and submarines in the North Sea. The message refers to the terms of the armistice and declares that it would entail the destruction of all German ships, submarines, and all German forces, defend our country against this unheard of presumption. Strong English forces are reported off the Skaw. All submarines in the Baltic, except those on outpost duty, assemble immediately in Saesnitz Harbor. Saesnitz is a warship place on the east coast of the island of Rugen, Prussia.

BORN TO BE HANGED.

LONDON, Nov. 11. The former German Crown Prince is reported to have been shot, according to a telegram despatch to the Central News; details are lacking.

RELEASED AFTER PEACE.

LONDON, Nov. 11. According to the terms of the armistice, the return of German prisoners of war is to be settled by the Peace Conference.

SPREAD LIKE WILDFIRE.

WITH THE AMERICAN FORCES ON THE MEUSE AND MOSELLE FRONTS, Nov. 11.—News that the armistice had been signed spread like wildfire along the American front, from the Moselle River to the region of Sedan. Reaching the various headquarters early in the day, the news passed by wire and wireless to division and regiment and finally from mouth to mouth to the boys in the forward lines. It was among the boys in the forward lines who had been under shell fire for days that there was the most genuine rejoicing.

BATTLESHIP TORPEDOED.

LONDON, Nov. 11. The British battleship Britannia was torpedoed near the west entrance to the Straits of Gibraltar on November 9, and sank three and a half hours later, according to an Admiralty announcement. To-night, thirty-nine officers and 678 men were saved.

FRANCE'S TE DEUM.

PARIS, Nov. 11. The Municipal Council of Paris has the following posted on walks in all parks of the city: "Citizens, victory is here, triumphant victory. The vanquished enemy lays down his arms. Blood ceases to flow. Let Paris emerge from her ordered reserve. Let us give free course to our joy and enthusiasm and hold back our tears. Let us testify to our infinite gratitude to our grand soldiers and their incomparable chiefs by testifying our hopes in the colors of France and of our Allies. Our dead can sleep in peace. The sublime sacrifice they have made for the future of their race, and the salvation of their country, will not be in vain. The day of glory has come. Long live the Republic, long live immortal France."

RAISING TECHNICALITIES.

LONDON, Nov. 11. In Germany, Dr. Baer said, according to German wireless despatch received here to-day that he feels it his duty to draw President Wilson's attention to the fact that the enforcement of the conditions of the armistice, especially the surrender of transport means the starvation of millions, and requests that the President's influence be directed to overcoming this danger. The President, he points out, has declared that he did not wish to make war on the German people, and did not wish to impede its peaceful development.

BRITISH NEAR FRONTIER.

LONDON, Nov. 11. Field Marshal Haig reports as follows to-night from Headquarters: "At the cessation of hostilities this morning, we had reached the general line of the Franco-Belgian frontier, east of Avesnes, Jeumont, Strij, four miles east of Mons, Chievres, Lessines and Grammont."

GENERAL ORDER.

PARIS, To-day. The War Office issued the following communication to-night on the cessation of hostilities: "In the fifty second month of the war without precedent in history, the French army, with the aid of the Allies, has achieved the defeat of the enemy. Our troops animated by the purest spirit of sacrifice and giving during four years of uninterrupted fighting, a sublime example of endurance and heroism daily, have fulfilled the task confided to them by the Mother Country, meeting at times with indomitable energy the enemy assaults, and at other times, when attacking, thus bringing victory. They have after a decisive offensive of four months, thrown into disorder, beaten and thrown out of France the powerful German armies."

In Memory of "Herbert."

Killed in Action Somewhere in France, September, 1918.

As I sit alone and ponder 'neath the shades of closing day,
I am thinking of a lad beloved so well.
He amongst the many others who had answered Freedom's call,
On the far-off fields of battle fought and fell.

We were comrades together in the dear old U. S. A.
In that free and happy land of Uncle Sam;
But when King and Country called him he was ready to respond
Like so many more brave boys of Newfoundland.

Many happy hours we wandered side by side in days gone by,
Light-hearted as when babes on mother's knee;
Sad reflections now surround me for that voice we loved is stilled,
But his memory will be always dear to me.

Sadly, sadly we remember all the jollity and mirth
Of that soldier boy whose death we deeply grieve;
But we have this consolation he died a hero's death,
That our comrades' lying in a soldier's grave.

But what is our affection when compared with mother-love,
A weeping mother's tears that lad to-day,
But God is near to comfort her and lighten mother's heart:
He will share her sorrows all life's weary way.

O dear comrade, gone forever, thy loss we all deplore,
But commend thee to the God of earth and skies,
We hope once more to meet there where no partings ever come,
In that Country where no war-clouds ever rise. A. CASE.

The King's Message.

HIS MAJESTY'S INSPIRING WORDS.

An Hour of Solemn Thanks Giving for Gratitude to God. An Empire on its Knees in Prayer.

LONDON, November 11, 1918.

"At the moment when the armistice is signed bringing, I trust, a final end to the hostilities which have convulsed the whole world for more than four years, I desire to send a message of greeting and heartfelt gratitude to my Overseas Peoples, whose wonderful efforts and sacrifices have contributed so greatly to secure the victory which now is won. Together we have borne this tremendous burden in the fight for Justice and Liberty. Together we can now rejoice at the realization of those great aims for which we entered the struggle. The whole Empire pledged its word not to sheathe the sword until our end was achieved. That pledge is now redeemed. The outbreak of war found the whole Empire one. I rejoice to think that the end of the struggle finds the Empire still more closely united by the common resolve, held firm through all vicissitudes by the community of suffering and sacrifice by the dangers and triumphs shared together. The hour is one of solemn thanksgiving, and of gratitude to God, whose Divine Providence has preserved us through all perils and crowned our arms with Victory. Let us bear our triumph in the same spirit of fortitude and self-control with which we have borne our dangers.
