$1.00 Job Lot Umbrellas, From the Manufacturer What are Seconds in Umbrellas? When the cloths are cut into umbrella widths, these are examined and tested by an expert, and any defect such as heavy, to match almost any shade of hair. coarse or uneven threads, imperfect weaves or thin places in the cloth, classes make up a stock lot which are sold regardless of quality or value. These coverings

if perfect would be found on $2.00 to $5,00 umbrellas. We have secured this factory's whole output of men's job lot umbrellas, made from such materials, comprising five grades of tape edge silk mixed taffeta, best paragon frames, with handles of plain and silver trimmed mission wood, boxwood crooks and horn.

To the average person the defects in these umbrellas are not noticeable, and such an opportunity seldom occurs, and we venture to say one of these will give the same service as an umbrella costing two to three dollars. Most people who come for them will want to take more than one-they are the kind that will go by twos and threes, and for choice of handles we would advise coming at 8 o'clock Monday.
