There seemed to be much less betting before the crowd moved across to the west shore than on Friday. The odds showed some change. I do not suppose there were ever as many Americans in London at one time there yesterday.

The anxiously expected pair of Irish tennis experts, Dr. Joshua Pim and H. S. Mahony, arrived in New York last Friday night, and, after making a stay there, just long enough to get ar rest, rushed off to Boston on the five-hour flyer to reach West Newton in time to flyer to reach West Newton in time to tradesmen have become thoroughly aget some practice on the courts there wakened to the importance of catering before the beginning of the Neighbor- to this trade, and they are using all to this trade, and they are using all manner of means to attract it. nearly all the shops on the Strand, Regent street, Oxford street and other thoroughfares of that character, where prices are given and articles displayed in the windows, the United States dollar mark is used in conjunction with the English pound mark. One of the big dry good stores in Oxford street created quite a commotion among the Americans by displaying a very large American flag from their flagpost. As I happened to pass by I saw about 200 people looking up reverently at the Stars and Stripes. The size of this crowd not only demonstrated the clever nove of the shopkeeper, but the large number of Americans in London, that many of them could be attracted about the same time and at the same. place by this means. Naturally, they all wondered what it meant, and went nto the shop in pursuit of knowledge. They were given to understand that it was in the nature of a personal compliment, and they feel it now their patri-otic duty to believe that this is the greatest shop in London. Other shopkeepers are sure to discover the cleverness of this scheme and follow the example. It may become contagious. If it does, the American flag will be more familiar in London than in New York. -New York Advertiser.

The Everlasting Arms. "One of the sweetest passages in the Bible is this one: 'Underneath are the everlasting arms.' It is not often preached from, perhaps because it is felt to be so much richer and more touching than anything we ministers can say about it. But what a vivid idea it gives of the Divine support! The first idea of infancy is of resting in arms which matenal love never allows to get weary. Sick-room experiences confirm the impression when we have seen a feeble mother or sister lifted from the bed of pain by the stronger ones of the household. In the case of our Heavenly Father the arms are felt, but
