

The Most Artistic Roof

is the one that completely harmonizes with the design and finishing of the house. For this reason there is a steadily increasing demand for Brantford Asphalt Slates for the modern style of homes.

Brantford Asphalt Slates have a surface of crushed slate embedded into our asphalt coating, the base of the roofing being felt saturated with asphalt. They are cut the size of shingles, and their beautiful soft colors of reddish brown and dark green give a roof a most artistic appearance. The colors are the natural shades of the slate as it comes out of the quarries. Brantford Asphalt Slates are, therefore, unfadeable—never require painting.

Brantford Asphalt Slates are accurate in size and pliable, which makes them very easily handled and quickly laid, saving time and labor, and therefore costing less to lay.

Brantford Asphalt Slates make an artistic, durable and economical roof. Booklet describing them mailed on request.

TO MAKE NEGLIGEE AND CAP
Dainty Wearables Can Be Made With Small Amount of Material, Fashion Writer States.

There is something particularly attractive about a thing that is simple to make, according to a fashion critic. Then when it turns out a confection, too, it becomes an absolute joy forever. Just such a thing is the boudoir cap made from a perfect square of material. It is one of those fascinating Arabian models with long soft folds falling well to the shoulder and forming an attractive though maybe a bit severe frame for the face. All you have to do to achieve it is to take the square of silk or lace or whatever else you are going to use, fold it diagonally or cornerwise, place it on the center of the head so that the four points of the hankie fall equidistant from the center. Now eliminate the front point altogether by first cutting out an oval the shape of the face and continuing the line down alongside the head. The cap is kept in place with a bright band of ribbon drawn across the forehead banded through the cap and fastened comfortably tight in back. One of those brilliant Japanese or Chinese hankies is ideal for the purpose.

How about a new short summer negligee from a yard and a half of material? You can do it, too, if you choose your material "on the square." You see, it has to be 54 by 54. Begin by cutting out quite a deep square back and front for the neck, which will, of course, be directly in the center of the square. Now simply pull the square over the head, being sure to have the two sides fall in half across the extended arms. Then seam the lower sides to form the sleeve simulations. The rest of the negligee hangs quite loose. If you would further elaborate it, cut out a deep square on each sleeve just below the shoulder. These are strapped with three cords, either ribbon or a metallic fabric. You may make like incisions on the front and back of the garment, too, and strap them also.

AIRMAN CAPE BECOMES A FAD

Italian Aviator Style Enables Splendid Use of Cloth, Serge, Satin and the Jersey.

Whether the Italian aviator brought about the revival of the cape, the fact remains that it is the fad of the season.

It was left to Catherine DeMedici to introduce a flowing cape, she who also introduced the corset, the small bonnet afterward called the Marie Stuart, and the pompadour, which was then called "en raquette," says an exchange. Marie Stuart, her daughter-in-law, improved on the cape and wore it as a voluminous garment that fell from her famous black-and-white ruche to the edge of her train.

Today we think of the cape as belonging to brigands, to grand opera, to Italian aviators and to the navy. Maybe it was from all these inspirations that France started to make the cape on a woman the most fashionable garment of the spring.

There are capes of cloth, serge, satin and jersey. The latter are especially smart. They are lined with colored silks, some have high collars of fur and others are of plain but conspicuous black-and-white satin with heavy embroidery.

Waistcoats, are fashionable as capes, and they are even making them of fine Irish lace.

Waistcoats Match Bags.

Waistcoats and reticules to match are the latest whim of Madame Mode. And another whim is to have both waistcoat and reticule made of very wide, fancy ribbon, the ribbon bag mounted on a metal frame, or gathered on bracelet hoops.

FLOWERED TOQUE IS REVIVED

Blossom-Bedecked Headgear Is Much in Favor With Matronly Women After Several Seasons.

The flowered toque has been revived again and is much worn by matronly women. Several seasons have elapsed since the small flower-covered hat received any particular attention.

An especially effective model of this type was worn by a large and dignified woman with a full-length brocade coat made with a shawl collar and deep cuffs of chinchilla. The close fitting toque which topped this handsome garment was covered with small white lines. Each flower was placed individually and stood out from the others. A piece of narrow black velvet ribbon was worked in and out among the lilies around the front and sides and ended in a cluster of bows at the back.

Violets frequently appear in these flower-crowned hats. Many of the red flowers are also used.

The flower named ragged sailor was attractively applied on one close-fitting model set off with two slender upstanding wings. A fine mesh veil with a heavy velvet scroll completed the hat, which was worn by a young woman in a braid trimmed tailored suit of blue velvet.

For renovating purposes floral camouflage works miracles. Where the crown is faded or sunburned, cover it with thatched effect with flowers and foliage. Two or more kinds are used, according to personal preference and available trimmings. Strips are likewise overlaid and smartly veiled with tulle and net.

COOL PAJAMAS FOR SUMMER

Warm weather has brought about this charming creation in feminine pajamas, where sleeves have been discarded in the interest of comfort. Welcome, too, is the extreme lightness of the material, which will be conducive to coolness in the summer. Myriads of tiny tucks and plentiful use of fine val lace lend pleasing relief to these pajamas of flesh-color crepe de chine. Satin ribbon drawn under the tucks about the waist suggests a slender girle.

Corns cannot exist when Holloway's Corn Cure is applied to them, because it goes to the root and kills the growth. m
