The Editor would again remind his readers, that he intends to enlarge the Monitor as soon as subscribers sufficient to defray the expenses are obtained. As the navigation has now opened, he will exert himself to procure the number necessary to do so by the commencement of the next half year. He wishes, therefore, that those who have patronized him for the first six months will continue their support through the rest of the year. He will expect, at least, that all those who wish the continuation of the publication of the work, will endeavour to support it, as it is the only one of the kind in the Province.

The following is a list of the names of individuals who have generously paid in advance their subscriptions for the year ending December, 1836; and we hope that others who wish well to the Monitor will be induced to do so likewise:—

Sir John Colborne, 2 copies, £1.; and the following gentlemen, 1 copy, at 10s. each: Dr. Strachan, Dr. Harris, Rev. Mr. McDonough, Rev. J. Rogers, W. H. Draper, C. Gamble, W. Lyman, R. Nicholls, W. Hall, jr. Esquires; Messrs. T. Lawson, Peter Freeland, and A. Mercer.

Canadian Vegetable and Hygeian Pills.—Pills bearing this title can be had of Mr. Weeks, in this city, No. 123, King Street, opposite Mr. Dixon's British Saddlery Warehouse. They are said to be a certain remedy for Head Ache, Giddiness, Indigestion, Costiveness, and all disorders arising from a vitiated state of the stomach and billiary organs. They contain no mercury; consequently the patient is not in danger of the fatal consequences which so often occur by taking cold when making use of those medicines which have mercury in them. From the use we have made of those pills, and the good effects arising therefrom, we can recommend them to the public as most excellent for the diseases mentioned above, which require only to be known to induce every head of a family to procure them for their use.

Our limits will not permit us to remark on the subjects of our correspondents separately in this number. We would, however, return them our thanks for the contributions which they have been good enough to send us, and we also begleave to request a further continuance of them.

ERROR CORRECTED.—An absurd paragraph has been going the rounds of the papers in this country for the last month or two—by the way, if we remember right, it crept, somehow or other, into the Commercial—stating that the Bishop of Norwich (in England) is married to a Catholic wife, who has a chapel and confessor in the house, for the enjoyment of her own religion.—The London Globe explicity contradicts the story, and says that the Bishop has been a widower for the last twelve years. His wife was a Protestant,—a sister of the late Lord Castlecoote, who was one of the most violent anti-Catholics in Ireland.—N.Y. Spectator.
