EDUCATION IN THE MINING AND MANUFACTURING DISTRICTS.

In consequence of the failure of the proposed plan før educating the poor, which was appended to the Factory Bill, the National Society for Education in the Principles of the Church have deemed it necessary to originate a subscription. A special meeting of the Committee took place on the 5th July (His Grace the Archbishop of Canterbury in the chair); at which several resolutions, and the address which follows, signed by his Grace, were subscription. A special meeting of the Commutee took place on the 5th July (His Grace the Archbishop of Cancebury in the chair); at which several resolutions, and the address which follows, signed by his Grace, were adopted. A subscription has since been commenced headed by the Queen, with a donation of ONE 1 HOTSAND, Neaded by the Queen, with a donation of ONE 1 HOTSAND, PotNED, We are truly glad to see this. Putting out of view for the moment that object of the greatest im-portance—the spiritual welfare of the people—it is im-possible not to perceive that a war has been for some time waging, and is daily increasing in virulence and power, against the principle of Monarchy and the exit, ing orders and institutions of the State. This levelling principle manifests itself in various ways. It appears at another it seeks for a ropeal of the Corn Laws; again it prompts the manufacturing people to adopt a national holiday; and then urges them to refuse the payment of their just debts in the form of Clurreh rates. In each and all of these cases the actors and the actualing princi-ple are the same. The paternity may be readily introstres of the Suber of this great object. In some cases it has been found necessary to remonstrate of encurring liabilities that inguintenses the actors and the actualing princi-ple are the same. The paternity may be readily and unerringly traced to the abase of the power of priva-stateme what are called religions in a hundred differs the lay members of the Churer here, since the associated where always has been, that without a school every effort to reclaim the poople was undwink as echool sub advised the poor apon sound principles in strumeentality of the Clurch, that any hope can be rationally enternained of saccessfully checking theory is fitting, therefore, that the Throne, for its own safet, should be foremost in this good work, and equally futting that the Princes of the land, as many of the state to provide sound instruction for the people, the state to provide sound instruction It is fitting, therefore, that the Throne, for its own safety, should be foremost in this good work, and equally fitting that the Princes of the land, as many of them have done, should follow the noble example of the Sov-ereign, and contribute liberally of the wealth with which God has entrusted them, to further this desirable object. Shortly afterwards a signal was made that three sail of vessels Shortly afterwards a signal was made that three sail of vessels were in sight, but as the sky was hazy towaid the horizon, it was not yet certain that it was the Royal flotilla, and the false alerte of the morning rendered people cautions. In the course of a few minutes, however, all doubts were removed, and three cannon shots were fired from the battery on the left jetty announcing that Queen Victoria was on the coast. A char-a tomose, in which were the King's grand children, the Count de Paris, the Duke de Chartres, and the young primes took their seats at the battery amidst the ladies, to whose charge they were confided, and a number of officers in waiting. The Royal banner was in the mean time hoisted at the extremity of the battery. At about a quarter to 6 o'clock the Royal of the battery. At about a quarter to b o clock the Royal family arrived in a splendid state carriage, drawn by 8 horses, magnificently caparisoned, and lighted under the pavillion pre-pared for the reception of the Queen. The Duke d'Aumale and the Prince de Cobourg rode on horseback, followed by a brilliant etat major. Next came five char-a-banes filled with ladies and officers of the court. When the august party had ell clickted, the king his parts and external of the minister all alighted, the King, his sons, and several of the ministers an abguted, the King, his sons, and several of the infinite's descended into the barge amidst the roaring of artillery from the batteries, forts, and ships in the roads. The sea was as smooth as glass; Queen Amelia, Madame Adelaide, the Dutchess of Orleans and Cobourg, and the Princess de Joinville proceeded with their ladies of hovor to the end of the left pier. In their suite we remarked Marshal Sebastiani, General Count Segme Count de St. Aulaire, M. Vetaut See, and the adult Segur, Count de St. Aulaire. M. Vatout, &c., and the civil, military, and ecclesiastical authorities of Eu and Treport. The Royal barge had no sooner cleared the harbour than another steamer, Le Courrier du Havre, followed at adistance and the latter placed itself in a line with the others, which were enveloped for half an hour in a continual cloud of smoke.

The factory inspector for the West Riding of Yorkshire, after stating that the number of factory-children in his district amounts to 10,000, thus proceeds :-- "The success which has attended the exertions of the National Society in behalf of factory-child dren is very encouraging. Nearly every factory-child in the districts assigned to the Society's schools at Leeds and Bradford now attends them. The last official returns give about one hundred and eighty in attendance at Leeds, and nearly three hundred at Bradford. No objection to the mode in which these schools are conducted have been made since they have been in full operation, either by a parent or a child."
