DISCUSSING the recent dictum of the London Times, about Canada being outside the "temperate zones" of this continent, the Springfield Republican says: But at the same time it seems not to be appreciated, if indeed it is known by many Englishmen, that the populous part of Canada lies below the 50th parallel or below the southernmost part of England. Montreal, Quebec, and Toronto are 5 or 6 degrees south of London, and are considerably south of Paris as well.
