

Adjournment Debate

is now considering various options to help those farmers, but I should point out to the Hon. Member that such a measure would cost the Government a lot of money since the amount of lost interests would exceed $100 million. Those factors must be taken into serious consideration before a final decision is made on this issue.

[English]

Mr. Deputy Speaker: The motion to adjourn the House is now deemed to have been adopted. Accordingly, this House stands adjourned until tomorrow morning at eleven o'clock.

At 11.20 p.m. the House adjourned, without question put, pursuant to Standing Order.
