

41. He searches with avidity for the hidden causes, and with his skilful hand makes loose their bonds and frees the sufferer from its ruthless folds.
42. The vain pretender has sunk in the whirlpool of his own ruin, carrying with him the innocent and unwary, with saddened hearts to surviving friends, who are made the sad victims of their own confidence.
43. What would you think of the safety of an ocean steamer, freighted with human life, looking onward with palpitating hearts to meet dear ones in a far off land, whose engine was run by a person who could not name the parts of his machinery, or knew its capacity or the limit of its power.
44. Feeling the necessity for a more thorough system of medical training, and a more familiar acquaintance with the medical sciences and their collateral branches than is required in the prescribed course of medical studies, and the time in which to become conversant with the branches taught, as are laid down in their course by the majority of medical colleges in our country, it was deemed expedient to establish a school, &c.
45. The Kings of Denmark and Norway invaded England, and spreading themselves over the country committed many depredations.
46. In a few days I will more fully explain to you my views and claims on your suffrages, which I consider equal to any candidate which might offer himself for your approbation.
47. In both cases a customer can sit as long as he pleases, but those of the first class have also the right of taking their cups to the third storey and smoke as well as read while enjoying his drink whatever it may be.
48. Last Sunday a new programme was entered upon, printed at this office, which we think will add to the interest in its exercises.
49. After that I shall begin to think that nothing is too strange to be incredible.
50. In England we are said to learn manners at second hand from year side of the water, and that we dress our behaviour in the frippery of France.
