Hon. Robert Rogers Discusses Recent Election While in Toronto.

WOULD NOT AFFECT IT HUNDREDS MORE START

Dominion Election Would Find United Conservative Party Strong as Ever.

Hon. Robert Rogers, brown as a berry, and apparently in the best of health and spirits, arrived in Toronto yesterday from his summer home at Kenora. He will be in the city a day or two straightening out the Toronto harbor tangle, which comes under his jurisdiction, as minister of the same summer home at the comment of much be in the city and a same to again take up the work of cutting and saving the biggest and best harvest in a decade. of public works. With The World re-porter, who called on him at the King Edward Hotel, Mr. Rogers discussed the recent Manitoba election with frankness

"The result," he said, "was a foregone conclusion from the start. It could be explained by saying that many Conservaexplained by saying that many Conservative voters were at the front, and that some improper appeals were made to voters of foreign birth by some of the Liberal workers. But I am quite prepared to admit that many strong Conservatives openly canvassed and voted for the Norris candidates. On the other hand, some of the best Liberals did not support their own candidates, because they distrusted their leaders and placed confidence in Sir James Alkins. Personally I took little part in the election beyond casting my vote." beyond casting my vote."
"Does the result of the provincial election at all indicate how Manitoba will go should a Dominion election be held in the near future?"

"Not at all," Mr. Rogers replied, em-phatically. "The united Conservative party would make a stronger showing than ever before in Manitoba." Referring to the speculations of the newspaper press as to the future of Sir James Aikins and his first lieutenant, W. H. Sharpe, who resigned their seats in parliament to enter the provincial arena, the minister said:

"I have not seen Sir James Alkins since became leader, but I know personally he would like to retire from public life. He is, however, admirably fitted for any official position. He made a splendid fight against strong odds, and I think it a pity that he and Mr. Sharpe were not

Asked if the Liberals would oppose them, were they candidates for the Do-minion Parliament at the by-elections, Mr. Rogers intimated it would not make the least difference what the Liberals If either gentleman wanted to re to his seat, he would be re-elected.

GERMAN REICHSTAG

Big Attack on Chancellor Von Bethmann-Hollweg by Members Pending.

Special Cable to The Toronto World.

ZURICH, Aug. 70.— When the reichstag meets in a few days stormy scenes may be expected. The National Liberal party makes no secret of its intentions to render the position of the chancellor untenable, Bassermann, Stressmann, Fuhrmann and other prominent leaders leaving no stone unturned to drive Bethmann-Hollweg

They reproach him for want of energy in the prosecution of the war, especially in the naval branch. No party in Germany approves the government's policy. The imperialists and the military party demand a declara tion of annexation of all conquered territory. A section of the agrarians and a minority of the socialists ask a declaration that there will be no an-

Complain of Chancellor. Everybody is complaining of the un-certainty and vacillation of the chan-cellor. The victory in Poland is ren-dering the National Liberal Imperialist and the military parties more arro-gant than ever, and if Von Tirpitz does not obtain a free hand to carry out unrestricted submarine warfare an attack will be made on the chancellor all along the line.

The Magdeburger Zeitung, one of Bethmann-Hollweg's organs, yesterday made a violent attack on the National Liberals denouncing their want patriotism in keeping up party politics at such a crisis.

The paper adds that even if they succeed in overthrowing the chancelle they will not change the situation, for it is the kaiser at this moment who with equal competence nominates generals and ministers. "What would the people say if anyone at this momen dared to criticise the strategy of To attack ministers and general? generals is almost to attack the person of the kaiser, who gives his un limited confidence only to those who merit it and show themselves worthy

Other journals also denounce what they describe as the strange politics of the National Liberals, but the Im perialist and the Von Tirpitz party are now so confident that they are unlikely to listen to reason. Of course, in the kaiser supports the chancello lpless. As long as the Bethmann Hollweg has the confidence of the sovereign he can ignore the reischstag, even if it condemns policy by unanimous vote.

will complete the work. Dairymen and farmers are delighted at Delrymen and farmers are delighted at the way the ensilage corn is straightening up. The crop seems to have taken on a fresh lease of life, and is making a marvelous growth. It is being found possible also to cut on three sides, and sometimes around the field, a tremendous gain in time. Altogether the outlook is decidedly cheerful.

tion, supposed to be in our possession. For the present, The World is content to mention one by one some of the curious

Be that as it may, let us first recount ome of the curious features that indi-ate a mysterious situation.

Last fall, when Sir Robert Borden was taken in a tug over the harbor to review the work, he was told that hundreds of men were then employed, and that thousands would be on the job when the warm weather opened. A good many of us thought that the unemployment problem would be solved, so far as Toronto was concerned, by the big $22,000,000 job on the waterfront, and it was understood the work was to be rushed, so as to have it all completed within five years. Yet a year has gone by, and very little seems to have been accomplished. Contractor Stewart, in a carefully-written statement, which was first submitted to eminent counsel and thoroly gone over, says that only seven per cent, of the work has been quoted as saying that considerably less than $750,000 has been expended out of the $22,000,000. Last fall, when Sir Robert Borden was be made good, if not by the sub-contractors themselves, then by the Stewart Company, Limited. That is all plain enough; quite often in the course of a big job some defective work is discovered and the architect calls upon the contractor to make it good and if the contractor expresses willingness to do so that is generally the end of the matter unless later on he refuses to carry out his undertaking. But in the Toronto harbor case the whole work was stopped the sub-contractors were ordered off the job, the government inspectors discharged and the undertaking for weeks and weeks brought to an absolute standstill.

Another thing: the work, as we under-stand it, was progressing to the satis-faction of the engineer in charge and his officials. It was the government's work officials. It was the government's work the government was paying for it and the work was apparently being done to its satisfaction. If the story we republished from The Toronto Globe is to be believed members of the Toronto Harbon Commission went to Ottawa and demanded that the government make an investigation into conditions at the harbor. The engineer in charge was manded that the government make an investigation into conditions at the harbor. The engineer in charge was transferred to another post and an investigation was ordered. When the investigators reported at Ottawa they found all work was suspended, the government inspectors discharged and the undertaking halted indefinitely.

Why is the work tied up today when the Stewart Company is willing to make good Stewart Company is willing to make good any deficiencies? Hon, Mr. Rogers says it will be three weeks before the investigation now going on is concluded.

What is being investigated?

We know from the papers that when the work was shut down the other day some three hundred men were thrown out of employment without a moment's notice and that they were clamoring for their back wages when Acting Minister Hon. J. D. Reid came to the city Monday. The debt was due from the subcontractors. The sub-contractors claim that the head contractor owed them. However, we now learn that the government has advanced the money to pay them off. These men have been reduced to considerable distress and they are probably wondering why.

The government officials and the Canadian Stewart Company. Limited. There is no disagreement between the government and the contractor, as we understand it. But there has been setlous disagreement in the past between the engineers of the department of public engineers of the department of public erty owners appeared before the The government officials and the Canadian Stewart Company, Limited. seem to agree upon the same general statement, namely, that some work done by the sub-contractors is probably not up to the standard and will have to
