

A PASS TAKEN.

British Forces Marching Onward With But Slight Resistance.

THE DIVISION UNDER GEN. WESTMACOTT

Dispersed Rebellious Tribesmen at Arhanga Pass on Sunday Morning.

The Amer of Afghanistan Asked to Mediate on Behalf of the Afridis and Orakzais, with the British Officers—The Valley Around the Pass is Thickly Studded with Villages Full of Grain and Fodder—General Sir William Lockhart's Capture of Sempahga Pass was Accomplished by Good Generalship—The Rebels were Drawn to the Flanks and Then the Centre was Attacked—Early Close of the Campaign Expected—The Cost Will Be Heavy.

Shma, Oct. 31.—Special despatches received here from Gundaik today announce that, owing to the difficulty in getting transport over the Sempahga Pass, General Sir William Lockhart was unable to attack Arhanga Pass, 18 miles from the Afghan frontier, at Safe D-Poh Saturday, but he has been reconnoitering in force the enemy's position, which seems to be strong, and which is held by masses of the insurgent tribesmen.

The valley around the pass is thickly studded with villages, apparently full of grain and fodder. The comparatively easy capture of Sempahga Pass was due to a manoeuvre of General Lockhart, who feigned an attack upon the enemy's right, which was immediately reinforced by the commanders of the insurgent tribesmen. But by so doing, the British commander, acting with great quickness, threw the main column of his troops against the enemy's centre. The tribesmen were thus taken by surprise and their leaders did not know how to retreat, and they were obliged to reinforce their right and they were obliged to abandon their positions, as a result of which the British troops were able to enter the valley, which was immediately occupied by the British troops. The British soldiers were killed, and 20 wounded during the engagement.

ARHANGA PASS CAPTURED.

Gen. Westmacott's Force Expelled the Tribesmen With But Little Trouble. The British force, consisting of a detachment from Karappa, the expected advance to Arhanga Pass was made this morning. General Lockhart, with the artillery, brought into action at 8.30 o'clock, and the tribesmen fled from the heights. Only slight opposition was encountered. The crest was reached at 10.30, and the British sustained only trifling loss. Captain Scarle of the Sikhs was slightly wounded. The Mullah of Saitabar has fled to the west, and Sir William Lockhart is now descending into the Afridi Tihah.

The Amer is Friendly. The Amer of Afghanistan received a despatch from the British at Kabul, his capital, on the 17th of the month. In notifying the British agent at Kabul of the capture of the pass, the tribes were "full of alarm and repentance," and had asked him to submit the British proposals to the British Government, and to ascertain the conditions of pardon. He enquired of the great warden of the negotiations, whether the British orders have already been issued for the punishment of the tribesmen, and whether the British Government is prepared to accept the conditions of pardon for the tribesmen. In concluding his letter to the British agent, the Amer has expressed his confidence in the British Government, and his belief that the British Government will be able to bring about a peace between the British and the tribesmen.

MGR CLEARY'S MANDATE

Vicar-General Kelly Interpreted His Meaning to His Flock at the Masses Yesterday. Kingston, Ont., Oct. 31.—At all the masses in St. Mary's Cathedral today the vicar-general, Archbishop Cleary's secretary, requested interpretation of the meaning of His Grace's mandate in regard to Catholics attending Protestant funerals. Catholics are allowed to go as far as the church door or cemetery gates, but not to participate in the ceremonies at the graveyard or church. The mandate had no reference to the funeral, but to the funeral service, which is a religious ceremony, and which has not been interfered with in any way.

CROW'S NEST GRADIENTS.

Sir William Van Horne Says They Will Be Less Than Those of Any Other Railroad Across the Rockies. Montreal, Oct. 31.—(Special.)—Sir William Van Horne, who was interviewed by The World today, said that the maximum gradients on the Crow's Nest road from the main line at Dunsmuir to Robson, on the Columbia River, crossing both the Rocky and Selkirk ranges, would not be one foot in a hundred. In other words, the maximum gradients of the Crow's Nest are only about half of those of the other mountain lines in the United States and Canada. The president's attention was also called to the statement in the London press to the effect that a good portion of the C. P. R.'s increased earnings in the service, is cranked. He is apt to be amused with an idea of ownership of everything within sight and forget that he is a public servant and not a boss or a bully. The World learned last night that a citizen, who had business at Police Headquarters on Saturday, received anything but decent treatment at the hands of one of these moss-grown, cranky old men. The citizen stated that he intended to lay a complaint regarding the official's conduct before the Commissioners. If advice is worth anything the aggrieved gentleman ought not to do anything of the kind, his only wasting his time and worrying himself needlessly. He won't get any satisfaction from the Star Chamber. No citizen in a like position ever did.

STABBED IN THE HEART

An Aged Father Kills His Son in a Spiteful Moment.

JOHN HUTTON, WAS THE VICTIM

While His Father, James Hutton, is in the Cells on a Charge of Murder.

The Only Witness of the Awful Deed in a Toronto Tailor Shop on Saturday Afternoon Was the Wife of the Murdered Man—The Weapon Used Was a Pair of Scissors in the Hands of a Man Crazy by Drink—The Victim Lived Only a Few Minutes, as the Deadly Blade Had Punctured the Heart—An Inquest Will be Opened To Night.

A tragedy was enacted in a small tailor establishment upstairs at 21 Richmond-street east on Saturday afternoon, and James Hutton, 60 years of age, is now in jail charged with murdering his son, John Hutton, who he lived and worked, at the address where the awful affair took place. John Hutton, the victim, was 39 years of age, and was an industrious fellow. He made up clothing for the Army and Navy Company and for other large stores. He did his work in a small room on the first floor of the building on the southwest corner of Richmond and Victoria-streets, and it was while at his work in this room that he met an untimely death at the hands of his aged parent.

Victim Seen Dead. With all haste Black ran out and fetched Dr. Garratt of Bay-street. The medical man was on the scene quickly, but death claimed the unfortunate fellow a few minutes after his arrival. The murdered man made no statement, while the murderer stood by stunned by the results of his passionate act.

The Old Man Arrested. Policeman Charles Bell had been called to his father's door by Mrs. Hutton, who had just seen her husband being taken to the jail. He made a statement that it was "Jack's own fault." The body of his son and victim was taken in the patrol wagon to the morgue, and Mrs. Hutton went down to some friends on Berkeley-street, where she remained all night.

James Black, the man who went for the beer, is a respectable, hard-working man, who was called by Mrs. Hutton to get some beer for her husband. He was in the room when the tragedy occurred, and he saw the old man strike the younger man with the scissors. He was the only witness of the deed, and he was the only one who saw the old man strike the younger man with the scissors.

Victim a Temperance Man. Deceased was a temperance man, and was a good father. He was 39 years of age, 5 feet 6 inches tall, and had a good education. He was well known in the city, and has relatives in good circumstances. He was a member of the Police Force, and was a member of the Police Force.

What Black Found. Mrs. Hutton thinks she grabbed the scissors from her husband's hands. On Saturday she said she did, but yesterday she said she did not.

HORRORS OF SKAGUAY.

MR. BARBER FELL DEAD. Therefore the Courts Will Not Have to Try Him on the Charge of Indecently Assaulting Mrs. Hall. Ottawa, Oct. 30.—A telephone message today from Cardinal states that Mr. Adam Barber, who resides near Cardinal, fell dead yesterday morning at 5 o'clock. Mr. Barber had intended going out to hunt and nose early for his purpose. He had just got out of his house when he fell to the floor, and in a few seconds was dead. Dr. Gray of Cardinal was called for, but could do nothing. Mr. Barber was partially deaf when the doctor arrived.

Winnipeg, Oct. 30.—The stories concerning the horrors of the Skaguay passage have not been exaggerated, according to a letter dated Oct. 10, received by Mrs. P. C. Wade, from Mr. Wade, who went to Skaguay, not more than 900 feet across, and only 200 of the 3200 horses owing to the hardships, accidents and poor food.

The door of the safe was blown completely off and forced through the vault door, which appeared to have been closed and locked.
