Will Ask For Amendments to Criminal Code - Draft Agreement For Roadway Repairs.

HAMILTON, Nov. 2 .- (Special.) -

The Hamilton Presbytery this aftermoon passed a resolution asking for amendments to the criminal code with a view to suppressing gambling and pointed out that the law reached a Livery room completely renovated and man who deserted his wife, and marhe deserted his wife and ilved with John Tagierino was acquitted this atternoon on the charge of assaulting Joe Deeak. Deeak was badiy used up in the Taglerino store in a row with some Poles. The judge held that Tagterino and not use any more force than was necessary to get Deeak out of his place. Taglerino is still being held on the charge of being mixed up in the Roadbed Agreement.

The board of works this evening approved of a draft agreement under which the street railway agrees next year to reconstruct its roadbed on the following streets: York-street, irom Queen-street to the cemetery; James-street from Barton-street to the baye Lack-street of Herkimer-street; Kingstreet, from Bay to Margaret-street; Herkimer-street, Queen to James-street. In this connection a bylaw will be submitted to raise $200,000 to pave the streets on which the railway will be reconstructed. The parks' board asked the board to pay part of the gust and amusement at the "pursuit" asked the board to pay part of the M. T. Evans asked the city if they would give a client of his permission to construct an incine railway on the incline elevator plan at the head of Garth-street. The board deferred action until committee investigates.

Can Set Themselves Right.
The power question will be brought up again. Ald. Ryan, who last night oted with the Cataract clique, said today that he would vote to close a conract with the commission, even to entering into the whole project, when it ras made clear that the commission would not grant Hamilton any further
