

CANADIANS AT UPPER LODGE REGAIN HEALTH

Splendid Spot Where Men of the Maple Leaf Recuperate.

RED CROSS IS ACTIVE

Helping to Put Buildings in Proper Condition for Comfort of Wounded.

LONDON, May 6.—Nature in the country is sweet in all her moods. So says an enthusiastic admirer of nature, whose writings find much favor. Speaking for ourselves we have found her much more agreeable than on a showery afternoon in April, in Bushey Park. We would prefer to walk under the famous chestnuts, for example, towards the lovely close of a warm summer's day, than a tramp thru the grass with the rain beating in our face one minute and the sun shining mockingly upon us the next, which were the conditions when quite lately we had the privilege of visiting the almost completed King's Canadian Red Cross Convalescent Home at Upper Lodge.

There is promise of comfort within, when we reach the front door. The sounds of a piano, and strident voices joining in a chorus comes to us. While we await the answering of our ring we look around us and note that the rank vegetation which for years had cumbered the ground of the tenanted mansion before the Canadians took possession of it in Deember has now been almost entirely cleared away. There are also signs that the flower beds have received attention from the new occupants of the house. Window sashes and door frames have been endowed with white paint, and the line of iron piping across the park indicates that the necessity for a completely new system of sanitation has not been lost sight of. His Majesty's office of works are responsible for the repainting and the re-draining, we understand, but nearly all the other labor which is causing Upper Lodge once more to assume something of its former trimness has been supplied by the Canadian soldiers, many of them deprived of an arm or a leg, who have gone there to be nursed back to a measure of their former health and strength.

Besides the strains of the piano a vigorous hammering is heard. The builders are at work putting up light, but solid outbuildings of asbestos. In less than a month Upper Lodge will have its own theatre, billiard hall, recreation room, all built and furnished by the Canadian Red Cross. The Red Cross is doing by Upper Lodge as handsomely as it has done by Clivedon and other places. When the additions are finished there will be room for three hundred patients.

We encounter what we may call the advance guard of the three hundred patients at the end of the Canadian hospital at Upper Lodge. Mrs. Casgrain is with him as nursing sister. Other members of the staff are Captain Gordon, Portage In Prairie, adjutant; Captain Wickware, formerly superintendent Moose Jaw General Hospital, second in command;

Col. Casgrain in Charge. Colonel Casgrain, of Windsor, Ontario, who was for some months at the head of the Canadian hospital at Lemnos, is commandant at Upper Lodge. Mrs. Casgrain is with him as nursing sister. Other members of the staff are Captain Gordon, Portage In Prairie, adjutant; Captain Wickware, formerly superintendent Moose Jaw General Hospital, second in command;

Nursing sisters, E. L. Bell, in charge; H. C. Clayton of Montreal, who began war service with the Belgian army; J. T. Ramsay, and 35 orderlies. There is no need to enlarge upon the general arrangements, being all that one could wish. One particular detail of thoughtful organization, tho, is worth a remark. On the ground floor there is a large room set apart as a dormitory for men who have lost a leg. Upper Lodge was not built yesterday, and does not possess a passenger elevator. The mounting of the staircase would be a heavy task for any poor fellow who makes up with a crutch for the leg he left behind in Flanders, so patients at Bushey in such unhappy plight will bless the consideration which gives them a sleeping-place on the ground floor. Another notable feature about the arrangements is the generous provision of shower-baths. Nothing of the "pull the string and there comes a trickie" about these, but a building divided into cubicles, where a dozen men eager for a douche may get it at one time.

Upper Lodge, as we have already mentioned, was not built yesterday, and in its time it has had occupants differing one from another in many ways. When Queen Elizabeth lived in Hampton Court Palace, not more than a mile or so away, she was wont, with her ladies, to ride and walk in the great park where, this summer, wounded men of the Maple Leaf will hobble on crutches. The other woe King George and Queen Mary paid a visit to Upper Lodge. The King's motorcar became stuck in the newly made road, and their Majesties made the rest of the journey afoot. When Queen Mary reached the Lodge she decided at once to be shown where certain pictures she had sent had been hung. We may assume that her desires on this and on other matters were expressed in a less "specious" manner than that which we associate with the days of Queen Bess. Other times, other manners, and it is certain that the present times and manners of Upper Lodge will be among the wortheist of which it will ever have record.

NO FINANCIAL LOSS TO BELGIAN RELIEF

Sinking of Steamers Will Not Result So Seriously as Was Expected.

MONTRAL, May 6.—The loss of the Hendon Hall and the Fridland, reported a few days ago, will not result so seriously for the Belgian Relief Commission as thousands of contributors feared. It is reported today from the offices of the Belgian Relief Committee of Canada, 39 St. Peter street, Montreal, that the cargoes were fully insured, so that the commission will be able almost immediately to purchase supplies with the insurance to replace those lost.

It was also learned that no Canadian supplies were on either of the vessels, which cleared from Portland, Maine. Had there been, however, the Canadian fund would have been fully reimbursed, for every shipment made is insured to the fullest extent. So no contributor need have any fears or misgivings as to his contribution reaching the hungry Belgians.

The worst feature of the loss of the Hendon Hall and the Fridland is that the delay in getting the food to Belgium is sure to cause increased suffering and perhaps actual starvation for some. For millions of Belgian women, children, and old men are living literally from hand to mouth, depending each day on the pitifully meagre rations which the Belgian Relief Commission is able to hand out to the steadily lengthening bread lines.

Twelve Cents

Single Loaf 6 Cents Double Loaf 12 Cents

Every penny you save these days can be used for a good purpose. Whole dollars may be saved on the bread item alone by studying the value of the bread offered for sale. There are two sizes of loaves permitted by law—a so-called "fancy" loaf, very small, weighing only 12 ounces, just one-half the weight of regular bread—and the "standard" loaf, weighing three pounds in the "double" size and a pound and a half in the "single" size, respectively, four times and two times the size of the "fancy" loaf. One must realize the difference in value between paying 5 cents for a 12-ounce loaf, when for 6 cents one can get a full 24-ounce loaf. Three pounds—a full size loaf—of "fancy" bread would cost 20 cents. You see the economy of buying Lawrence's "full standard" size for 12 cents at once.

Lawrence makes only one size—the legal or "standard" size, full pound and a half, or 24-ounce single loaf, and full 3-pound or 48-ounce double loaf. The illustration above is a reduced photograph of a "double loaf" of Lawrence's Home-Made. When you buy Lawrence's Bread there is no chance of your being deceived as to what you are getting, because there is only the one size—the "standard" size, approved and recommended by the Government. It is the loaf of value, and is the only size which gives the purchaser real worth for the price. Every housewife who has scales should weigh her bread daily. She will find the Lawrence loaves go the full measure of three pounds for 12 cents every time. There is no better bargain anywhere than buying Lawrence's Bread, 17 tickets for one dollar. Your telephone will pay for itself if you use it to order Lawrence's Bread.

Lawrence's Bread

"Quality"—that is the word we work by. We buy the best flour and the best of everything else. We have the best head baker in Canada, and we give him strict orders to make the best bread he can. The fact that Lawrence can sell bread 2 cents a loaf lower than other bakers is merely a matter of business management and an ability to save needless expense in organization, and put the difference into the QUALITY of the bread. Any person who has been a consistent user of Lawrence's Bread will tell you they were so well satisfied before they became patrons of ours. It's the QUALITY that makes customers and holds them.

HONOR TO CANADIAN LOST WITH "ANGLIA"
Bronze Tablet in Mt. Vernon Church to Memory of Lieut. Preston.
To honor a Canadian soldier drowned by a German submarine while on his way to England in a hospital ship, Americans are raising a bronze tablet in a church in Mount Vernon, N.Y. Before he left home young Preston took communion at Trinity Church, Mount Vernon, in full regiments. He was wounded at St. Julien. While recovering he was sent to England on the ill-fated Anglia. His fellow communicants decided to place a memorial of him in the church. The bronze is now being cast.
The story came to Toronto in a personal letter from the rector of the church to R. S. Hubbell, manager of the Caris-Rite.
