

NIGHT CLASSES WILL OPEN ON TUESDAY NEXT

French, General Education and Bookkeeping Courses
Opening at Vocational

The mighty task of tabulating the applications of pupils for night school classes at the Vocational school is nearly complete and it was announced last evening by the director, Fletcher Peacock, that classes in French, general education and bookkeeping will be opened on Tuesday evening. The pupils, who have been accepted for attendance, are to be notified individually as it will not be possible to admit all who have applied and the first comers will be given preference.

There were practically 1,400 who registered for the night classes and these applications have been classified as follows: Art, commercial and fine art, 82; machine shop, 11; Spanish, 4; hairdressing, 7; French, 110; general education, 33; bookkeeping, 92; millinery, 54; welding, 2; woodworking, 9; printing, 8; chemistry, 9; mechanical drafting, 34; telegraphy, 2; secretarial courses, 3; salesmanship, 2; nursing, 7; plumbing, 8; motor mechanics, 109; sheet metal drafting, one; dressmaking, 209; accountancy, 15; English literature and elocution, 23; shorthand and typewriting, 176; electricity, 74, and cooking, 110.

There are about 160 registrations which have not been classified and many of these have no clear indication of what the applicant wishes to learn. In many cases the intending pupils will have to be asked for a statement as to their special desires in night school training.

GENERAL EDUCATION.

With reference to the general education classes, Mr. Peacock pointed out that both men and women are to receive this instruction at the vocational school as the classes in that building are to replace those formerly conducted in West Saint John for both men and women and those conducted in the school trustees building for women.

Members of the day school staff are to have charge of the night classes that open on Tuesday evening, J. E.

Weddings

Dingman-Edwards

Friends in Saint John were much interested in the announcement of the marriage of Miss Margaret Christina Edwards, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Edwards, of this city, to Robert Eric Dingman, of Toronto, Ont., which took place in New York city on Saturday, October 16, at the University Place, Presbyterian church. The bride wore a becoming costume of rose-henna broadcloth with dyed squirrel trimmings, French felt hat of the same shade and a corsage of orchids and lilies of the valley. She was attended by Miss Jean Ford, of New York, as bridesmaid, who wore grey broadcloth with grey fox trimmings, mauve hat and a corsage of mauve orchids. Reginald Green, of New York, supported the bridegroom.

Mr. and Mrs. Dingman left New York on a short wedding trip, after which they will reside in Rochester, N. Y.

Somerville-Langell

NORTON, Oct. 22.—On Wednesday afternoon at 8 o'clock, at the United Baptist parsonage in Norton, the marriage of Miss Ruby K. Langell, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Burton Langell of Norton and Frederick G. Somerville, son of Mr. George Somerville and the late Mrs. Somerville, of Springfield, Kings Co., N. B., Rev. C. Saunders was the officiating clergyman and the wedding took place in the presence of near relatives. The bride wore a navy blue traveling suit with hat to match. Mr. and Mrs. Somerville will reside in Norton.

Porter will be the teacher for French. The classes in general education will be given by E. J. Alexander and the instruction in bookkeeping by A. E. Riddout.

Mr. Peacock said that he expected the next classes in the night school that would get under way would be those in dressmaking, which is apparently the course most desired, and those in millinery and cooking. For these classes additional staff appointments must be made, but they will be put in operation as speedily as possible.

In the meantime the students in the day classes are making good progress in their studies and are also becoming an organized body with splendid esprit de corps. Each class has officers and elected its officers and yesterday afternoon the presidents of the various classes met to organize a student council which when it is operating is to have charge of the student government.

DAY SCHOOL.

There are about 20 different classes in the day school and the presidents who were present last night were as follows: Commercial course, class 1, Miss Sybil Beatty; class 2, Walter Fokkema; class 3, Charles Clarkson; class 4, Miss Frances Monford; class 5, James MacGowan; Junior High School, class A2, Robert Ross; class A3, Miss Edith Wahay; class B1, William Damery; B3, Harley O'Brien; Industrial classes 1 and 2, Ross Moore; 3 and 4, Don Campbell; Technical High School, Eldon Gibson; Practical Arts, class 3, Miss Edna Riley; and class 2, Miss Edna Robinson. The presidents nominated officers for the student council and the election is to take place at a later meeting.

ENTERTAINMENT OF K. C. DELIGHTFUL

Special Event and Assembly Last Evening—Hallowe'en Decorations Preval

The monthly assembly and entertainment at the Knights of Columbus Hall last evening, under the auspices of the Saint John Council of the K. of C., was most enjoyable and was attended by large numbers.

For the entertainment the three artists of the Betty Ross trio gave a performance that was altogether delightful. Appropriately costumed, they took part in songs and dances of three distinct groups. First they pictured the old days of the South. In the second group it was the immigrant type they portrayed, and in the third old French colonial days were presented. Miss Josephine Farmer was violinist, Miss Iva Carlson was reader and accompanist and Miss Rose Gorman was vocalist and dancer.

The decorations were all in keeping with Hallowe'en and were most effective. The supper table was most attractive with its decorations in black and orange and its flowers were lovely chrysanthemums. The pourers were Mrs. J. B. Dever, Mrs. John Dickey, Mrs. James McGivern and Mrs. J. P. Griffith.

The chaperones of the evening were Mrs. Warren Gray, Mrs. J. U. Haggerty and Mrs. R. L. Granan.

An excellent program of dance music was furnished and dancing was enjoyed until a late hour.

Harem Wife Affects Modern Methods To Gain Freedom

By JACKSON V. JACOBS

Central Press Correspondent.

BUDAPEST, Oct. 20.—The sight of a harem wife fighting for her marital freedom in the modern way—through the divorce court—has come to pass in Budapest. Madjide Mustapha, most beautiful of all the harem wives once serving Abdul Kabir, former heir apparent to the Turkish throne, has sued the Turkish soldier, who has sued the one time prince for divorce.

It all comes about as the result of the Turkish revolution of seven years ago. With aristocracy banished, Abdul Kabir abandoned his palaces and his harem and fled to Budapest. He took with him a sadly curtailed household, including only his three most beautiful wives.

Between jewelry and cash he had saved from the revolution, Abdul Kabir had about $40,000 when he took up his residence in Budapest, according to published stories. But $40,000 wasn't much to his highness and it wasn't long before he had to part with two of his wives. He kept only Madjide Mustapha, most beautiful of the lot.

True to his royal custom she says Abdul Kabir forbade Madjide to leave her room at the hotel where the pair were living. She attempted to reason with her husband, for which she was given a severe beating that confined her to her bed for weeks.

Her attending physician, seeing her injuries, told her that in Hungary a wife did not have to put up with such cruelty from her husband. He encouraged the astonished Madjide to leave the prince.

Recovered from her wounds Madjide informed her husband she would stand for his abuse no longer. She began going places. She met a young merchant of Budapest and he became mutually attached. She was very happy for awhile. Then the prince's money gave out entirely and they were evicted from their hotel. She took in hand embroidery to help pay the bills, while the prince did nothing about the matter except sit around and brood over his sorry plight.

Madjide's spirit of independence began to grow and she decided to leave her husband and return to Turkey. She was told that, foolishly, as she was the wife of the former crown prince, she would be put to death the moment she put foot on Turkish soil. Her hopes apparently shattered, Madjide decided to end it all. She cut the veins in one arm and lay down to die.

But Ernest Landau, the young Budapest merchant, noticed her absence and began to search for her. He went to her rooms and was told she had not been seen for some time. He grew suspicious and broke down the door and found the princess unconscious. He had her removed to a hospital, paid the bill and helped nurse her back to life and strength.

ACTOR IS SUICIDE IN NEW YORK HOTEL

Arthur Albertson Was Seeking Work After Play Failed in Chicago

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—Arthur Albertson, 33 years old, an actor, killed himself in his room at the Times Square Hotel, Forty-third street and Eighth avenue, by swallowing lysol. Albertson registered giving his place of residence as Chicago.

Several friends visited him during the afternoon, and one, the police learned, was asked to see Albertson's wife, Esther Howard, a member of the cast of "Sunny," now playing at the New Amsterdam Theatre. An hour later a hotel attendant looked into Albertson's room and saw him lying unconscious on the bed. The house physician, Dr. Breger, pronounced him dead.

Detective Maney, of the West Forty-seventh street station, arrived at the hotel simultaneously with Albertson's wife. She was unable to ascribe a cause for her husband's act. He had been a member of the cast of "Black Bell," which had been playing in Chicago. The play, proving a failure, closed, and Albertson came here in search of employment.

"She thinks no man good enough for her; she may be right," "And she may be left."

The Crowning Adventure of Burgess Radio Batteries

They flew over the North Pole with Byrd

ON May 9, 1926, history was made... World history... undying history. Lieut. Commander Byrd, in his fearless 1500-mile flight across the top of the world, adds another thrilling triumph to the long, proud list of great achievements.

Radio went along, for radio has become vital to the lives and success of explorers and adventurers. Burgess Batteries went along, sharing the fate—sharing the hardships and the glory of the expeditions of Commander Byrd, the Detroit Arctic Expedition, and Capt. Donald MacMillan.

It is eminently significant that in these glorious triumphs where the test of men and their tools was the test of the survival of the fittest, that the standard products of the Burgess Battery Company were selected, used and "carried on" under extreme and unprecedented conditions.
