SEPTEMBER BRIDES

A most attractive wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Clarke, 248 Tremont street, Newton, Mass., on September 5, when Miss Bertha Maude Clarke of Newport, R. I., was united in marriage to Peter Lewis Ogilvie of Hatfield's Point, N. B. The ceremony took place in the bay window of the living room beneath a bower of gladioli and autumn flowers. The bride, who carried a bouquet of white asters, looked charming in a gown of white satin with an over drapery of georgette banded with satin. The veil was caught with lilies of the valley. The double ring service was performed by Rev. Chas. W. Brashares of Newton. The bride was given away by her brother, Fred A. Clarke of Newton. Mrs. Leroy W. Baxter of Eden Park, only sister of the bride, acted as matron of honor and wore pearl grey silk and carried pink asters. The groom's attendant was Dr. L. W. Baxter of Providence, R. I. The wedding party consisted of the bride, groom, bridesmaid, maid of honor, flower girl, ring bearer, best man, and ushers. A large display of presents including cut glass, silver, and linen. A salad supper was served by Mrs. Fred A. Clarke, who wore blue silk. The bride's cake was cut by the bride.

After a reception which was attended by relatives and friends, from Winthrop, Providence, Newport, and Lunenburg, Mr. and Mrs. Ogilvie left for Canada on their honeymoon and will reside at Hatfield's Point.

Cook-Johnston.
A quiet wedding was solemnized last evening at St. Mary's rectory, by Rev. R. Taylor McKim, when Miss Margaret Matilda Johnston of Loch Lomond, was united in marriage to Jesse Thomas Cook of 187 Metcalfe street. The ceremony was performed in the presence of a few immediate friends and relatives while Miss Anna Johnston, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid and William J. Johnston, brother of the bride, supported the groom. The bride was becomingly attired in a dress of champagne with hat to match and wore a corsage bouquet of brides' roses. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Cook left by automobile for a short honeymoon trip and on their return will reside in the city.

Armstrong-Morris.
At the residence of the officiating clergyman, Rev. R. Taylor McKim, rector of St. Mary's church, last evening Miss Agnes Ann Morris of Chatham, was united in marriage to William Theodore Armstrong of this city. The bride was attired in a suit of silk with hat to match and carried a bridal bouquet. Miss Mary A. Lacey was bridesmaid while John Armstrong, supported the groom. Mr. and Mrs. Armstrong will reside in the North End.

You Never Know
Where He Will
Pop Up Next

Great actors and actresses are often referred to as being versatile, but even the greatest of them has a peer. He is the personification of versatility and in addition he is thoroughly ubiquitous, an almost psychic phenomenon. He is here today; tomorrow he may be anywhere on the green earth where the foot of man can tread. And added to all these his character displays a hundred kinds of paradox. Last week his generous heart offered consolation to a sufferer; today he turned a miserable tenant out of the only shelter that was available for her and her family. Yesterday he was a model of propriety; today he is held in disdain by the street-sweeper. This morning a universe sang his praises; this afternoon the hot coals of derision are heaped upon his head. He is one moment as rich as a Croesus; the next, as poor as Job's turkey. On Monday morning he was referred to as a captain of industry; on Tuesday, "shiftless, good-for-nothing idler" was applied to him. On Wednesday he was leading the gallant army of the Poles against the Bolsheviks; on Thursday he was starting off for the wilds of the Arctic. Friday saw him laid to rest in a peaceful cemetery; on Saturday his voice was heard in eloquent oratory at an international convention. His name? Everyone, great and small, young and aged, has heard it a thousand times and will go on hearing it until eternity faces them. It is Mr. What-Do-You-Call-Him.

MERRY CLICK OF TURNSTILES TODAY

Indication of Banner Day at Exhibition — Some of the Features.

From all indications today will be a banner one at the exhibition. The weather is ideal and a record crowd is expected to be in attendance this afternoon and evening. Although there were only about 500 present this morning at noon there was a steady stream of people wending their way to the grounds. Those present this morning took advantage of an opportunity to inspect the various exhibits and view in comfort the prize winners. Nearly all of the judging has been completed. This morning J. D. Brien of Bridgetown, Ont., finished the sheep and pigs, while this afternoon J. M. McCallum of Shakespear, Ont., will conclude judging the heavy horses.

The sheep exhibited were exceptionally good and competition for leading honors ran high. A Shoppers' man, owned by Boswell, of French Port, P.E.I., won the silver cup for the best in the show. This man also won a silver cup, which was awarded by several amateur judges. A feature of the pigs exhibit was the entries from the Boys Pig Club, which has twenty-five branches throughout the province and which is under the New Brunswick department of Agriculture. In addition to special prizes, which they were among themselves, they also entered in the open classes and won first prizes in all classes in which they showed. The fire works this evening promise to be the best yet shown during the fair. Two men from Hamilton, Ont., were busily engaged all morning getting ready their special displays and with fine weather prevailing they expect to be able to show them to better advantage than any day since the exhibition opened. Last night they were handicapped by the dampness affecting the fuses and made ignition difficult.

Another feature will be an aeroplane flight, which will be made by Captain Stevens. His flight over the city and grounds at noon today was witnessed by many and the daily trips continue to draw large numbers of people. The flight of Morrell's Garage was a passenger during the flight. Speaking on his return, he said, it was much the same sensation as driving in an automobile. He said they took four dips, but they were over so quickly he could hardly realize that they had made them.

COMMON COUNCIL

Report on Street Flushing —
Traffic Control at Ferry
Entrance — The Mispec
Pulp Mill.

A few small matters engaged the city commissioners at this morning's committee meeting. Commissioner Prink read an application from the New Brunswick Telephone Company for permission to erect seven poles in Mount Pleasant avenue, two replacing poles already in position, and five new ones. The matter was referred to the commissioner of public works and the road engineer for a report.

Commissioner Thornton said that he noticed that at Breeze's corner there were two poles close together, one of them some distance from the curb and he did not remember the council having given authority for it being erected. Commissioner Prink said that he understood that one of these was to be removed as soon as the street railway work at that point was completed, and he promised to bring a report on the matter.

Asked by the mayor regarding flushing of the city streets, Commissioner Prink reported that the work had been commenced on Tuesday night and good results were obtained. Dock street, Main street, Water street and a section of the North End had been done through the co-operation of the water, the public safety and his own department.

Commissioner Bullock reported a defective cover on a manhole in Water street. Commissioner Jones said he would investigate.

Commissioner Thornton spoke of the matter of traffic control near the east side ferry floats. He said that reports of pedestrians being endangered by reckless driving of automobiles had reached him, and suggested that the gates at the ferry might assist in looking after the traffic to and from the boats.

Commissioner Jones brought up the matter of the disposal of material in the old pulp mill at Mispec and suggested that the other members of the council accompany him to the site in the near future. This was agreed to.

It was reported by Commissioner Jones, in response to an enquiry from Commissioner Thornton, that the bond of the contractors for the completing of the Spruce Lake main extension was being prepared but it had not yet been presented to him for approval.

The mayor presided and all the commissioners and the common clerk were present at the meeting.

POLICE COURT

In the police court this morning Peter Wood and Peter Yapp were charged with acting together and stealing a ladies' fur coat, a suit of clothes and a pair of blankets, the property of Mustafa Abraham, 65 Erin street and valued at $50. The case was postponed until tomorrow at noon when Detective Donahue, who is now ill at his home, will be able to give evidence. K. J. MacInnes is acting for the defence. The accused were sent into jail.

George H. Brooks was charged with non-support but the case was postponed until tomorrow morning, when according to the magistrate another charge will be laid in view of certain evidence brought out this morning by Mr. Brooks.

Patrick O'Keefe, was charged with being drunk, assaulting and beating Mrs. Martha E. Huggan in her house and doing damage to her store in 113 St. Patrick street. He pleaded guilty to being drunk but said he did not know anything about the other charges. He was remanded.

Two men charged with drunkenness pleaded guilty and were also remanded to jail.
