

LITTLE BUSINESS
FOR SHORT SESSION OF PARLIAMENT

KNOWN IN FUTURE AS
"INDEMNITY SESSION"

Now Believed that New Franchise Act Will Not be Introduced — Growing Feeling in Favor of Merger of Liberals, Labor and Farmer Interests.

Ottawa, Sept. 1.—At the opening of the third session of the thirteenth parliament this afternoon, the brevity and the poverty of the speech from the throne make it no longer tenable to pretend that the new session is any other than one called to deal with odds and ends procrastinated from the last session in order to provide occasion to give an extra $250 to members who were good and not too aggressive last spring and summer. Ostensibly it is called to ratify the peace treaty, but the session, never the less, is far more apt to be known to history as the "indemnity" session than as the "peace" session which the government would like it to be called.

Some lively plays must be staged to make it seem a real session, but Union members now in Ottawa state the belief that no attempt will be made at this session to enact a franchise act to take the place of the by-elections act passed last session to replace the war time elections act. That would have given real occasion for conflict and debate. But on this point, as on many others, the government is feeling its way. It will get most of its experience under the by-elections act, when elections are called for the vacant constituencies in October.

There is something of a stunned feeling on the government's side as the extent and force of the sentiment against it through the country is made apparent by the reports from members coming back to Ottawa after a summer spent in their respective homes. "There is one comfort," said one western Conservative-Unionist member today, "everybody in Saskatchewan is dead against the Union government, it is true, but then they are dead against all governments elected on the old party lines. The Liberal government in Saskatchewan only stems the tide because of the general esteem and confidence in which Premier Martin is held. But for him the agrarian movement would sweep Saskatchewan, as it probably will the rest of the west. For that matter, even as it is, the farmers will demand the election of farmer representatives wherever it is possible."

See Liberal-Labor-Farmers' Party. In influential circles there is a growing tendency to listen to suggestions that the way to opposition success lies through the uniting of Liberal, farmer and labor members elected at the next election in an effective combination such as that which kept Premier Asquith in power in Great Britain and made possible Lloyd George's crusades for reform of the house of lords and social amelioration. In the meantime all these eminent and labor forces make it difficult for new ministers to get a safe constituency. Sir Henry Drayton, minister of finance, and Dr. S. F. Tolmie, minister of agriculture, cannot sit this session.

There is a renewed belief here that Sir Henry will run in North Toronto. The latest report, and one which seems to have the color of truth, is that Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King will run in Prince, Prince Edward Island which, in the last election was carried by the veteran mariner and Liberal, the late Captain Read. He would be certain of election in that constituency. During the session attempts will be made once again to enact legislation to create a war purchasing commission and to pass an act to back up provincial prohibition legislation.

NOT ASPIRIN WITHOUT THE "BAYER CROSS"

Any Tablet Offered as Aspirin and Not Stamped with the "Bayer Cross" is Not Aspirin at All!

"Bayer" Now Made in Canada—No German Interest—All Rights Purchased from U. S. Government

There is not a penny of German money invested in "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin" nor will a German citizen profit by its sale or ever be allowed to acquire interest.

The original, world-famous "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin" is now made in Canada and can be had at your druggist's in handy packages.

Unless you see the "Bayer Cross" on package and on tablets you are not getting Aspirin at all.

During the war, acid imitations were sold as Aspirin in pill boxes and various other containers. But there is no substitute for genuine "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin" which have been proved safe by millions for Pain, Headache, Toothache, Earache, Rheumatism, Lumbago, Colds, Grippe, Joint Pains, Neuritis.

Proper and safe directions are in every "Bayer Package."

Don't accept Aspirin in a pill box. Buy a "Bayer Package"!

Boxes of 12 tablets—Bottles of 24—Bottles of 100—Also Capsules. Aspirin is the trade mark (registered in Canada) of Bayer Manufacture of Monocrotonic acid and Salicylic acid. While it is well known that Aspirin means Bayer manufacture, to assist the public against imitations, the Tablets of Bayer Company will be stamped with their general trade mark, the "Bayer Cross."

C. P. R. ENGINEER AND FIREMAN ON HUGE LOCOMOTIVE DRAWING THE ROYAL TRAIN

BY COURTESY OF C.P.R.

Sickly Women
Given Strength, Vigor, Spirits

Many of the woes of womanhood, are due to kidney weakness.

At first the back aches. Then pains gather around the hips and lodge right in the small of the back. To stoop or bend seems impossible. Headaches are constant.

Unhappy existence. No pleasure in life when the body is overloaded with poisons that the sick kidneys can't filter out.

Bright's disease is the next stage, but it can be prevented by using Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut. They cure sick kidneys and cure them permanently.

When the kidneys work properly pure blood is formed.

This means nourishment and strength for the whole body.

Back-aches and dragging pains are forgotten. Irregularities disappear, vital energy is restored, and happy, robust health is once more established.

Dr. Hamilton's Pills for women's ills is the slogan of thousands today. Enormous benefit in many ways follow their use, and no woman or girl can use medicine that will do their general health more good.

For the sake of your kidneys, for the sake of your liver, for the advancement of your general well-being, you can't improve on Dr. Hamilton's Pills 25c per box.

The civil service re-classification will probably reappear in a modified form and there may be a re-adjustment of bonuses to soldiers. Because of a resolution on the subject passed at the national Liberal convention a demand will be made by the opposition for a royal commission to inquire into the circumstances under which soldiers' votes were taken and distributed at the 1917 election.

The peace treaty discussions will draw out some interesting information from the premier and other cabinet ministers

Nearly Every Girl
Can Make Herself
Pretty and Attractive

SOME WHOLESOME TRUTHS
EVERY GIRL SHOULD THINK ABOUT.

Probably you know just such a girl. Perhaps she is sixteen—good to look at, and pretty—quite interesting because she reflects the grace and charm that give promise of happiness to herself and others.

But she is not strong. The color in her cheeks, once so rosy, has faded away—her eyes are listless—the buoyancy of spirit, and vigor she once possessed are sadly lacking. Parents, friends, this girl needs Ferronone—needs it that her blood may be renewed—needs it to restore the nerve force that growth, study and the development of her fresh youth have exhausted. This girl will become a queen with Ferronone—which will restore her color—give brightness to her eyes and vivacity to her spirits. In Ferronone every girl finds strength—then she can do things. In Ferronone there is endurance—that drives away morning headaches and lassitude. For the girl or woman that wants to be happy, healthy, winning—who values rosy cheeks, laughing eyes and abundant good spirits, nothing can compare with Ferronone. 25c. per box, or six for $2.50. Get it today from any dealer in medicine, or by mail from The Cattarhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

Canadian Club on his experiences and the "waitful watching" in Paris. The session should finish in October, but one never knows. The opposition ranks will be strengthened by the presence and active participation of Hon. W. S. Fielding and Mr. Fred F. Pardoe. That will make a difference.

Proceedings Very Brief. This afternoon's proceedings were brief. Following the reading of the speech from the throne, Sir George Foster, in the house, presented the usual pre-forma bill regarding out of office. Speaking then in French—to the loud applause of Quebec members—Sir George moved that the speech from the throne be taken into consideration tomorrow. And, following another customary motion regarding select standing committees, the house adjourned till tomorrow afternoon. Then, Dr. Whidden, of Brandon, seconded by J. C. McIntosh, of Nanaimo (B. C.), will move the address in reply and the debate will open.

It was noted that J. H. Burnham, of Peterboro, took his seat on the cross benches. W. A. Buchanan, of Lethbridge, was seated near him, also on the cross benches. Hon. W. L. MacKenzie King, leader of the opposition watched the proceedings from the public gallery.

S. W. Jacobs, member for George Etienne Cartier (Montreal), proposes again this session, to present his bill to require the holding of by-elections within sixty days of a constituency becoming vacant. The bill is based on legislation in force in the United Kingdom. It was presented last year but was still on the order paper at prorogation.

Speech From Throne. The speech from the throne, as delivered by the governor-general was brief. It opened by reference to the warm welcome the peace treaty, and the making of such come which the Prince of Wales is receiving at all points he has visited and emphasized that the ties between the motherland and dominions were never closer than today.

The programme of the session, so far as outlined in the speech is confined to ratification of the peace treaty, the adoption of measures rendered necessary by the return of peace and by the terms of financial provision as may be required "in connection with the peace treaty and for other purposes."

Britain Went Outside of "Government Class" of Old Nobility to Find Suitable Men

London, Aug. 30.—One of the useful discoveries which the war has given the British nation is the Geddes family, Sir Eric Geddes, as Minister of Ways and Communications, and Sir Auckland Geddes, as Minister of National Service and Reconstruction, are at the head of the two foremost departments engaged in the great work of reconstruction, while their sister is Commandant of the Woman's Royal Air Force with a semi-military organization of several hundred under her control.

The Geddes brothers come from Scotland, which is apt to be a guarantee of success, and before the war they were almost unknown beyond the circles of their own professions, Sir Eric Geddes was a railroad manager, and railroad magnates do not hold a large place in the public eye in England; smaller than a bishop or a master of foxhounds, which last is about the most purple pinnacle of distinction.

Sir Auckland Geddes was professor of anatomy at McGill University in Montreal. Both of them acknowledge a debt to the invigorating atmosphere of the Baltimore & Ohio.

Sir Eric's first billet in the government service was for the organization and management of the hundreds of miles of railroad lines behind the British army in France, which he pulled out of something like chaos where regular staff officers had left it. Then he succeeded Rt. Hon. A. J. Balfour at the head of the Admiralty at a time when there were complaints that the navy was in the hands of a rather hidebound board of admirals and needed more ginger—which it got.

Auckland As Private. Sir Auckland entered public life in the uniform of a private soldier, but he soon graduated to the War Office to be Lord Derby's right hand man in the direction of the Derby recruiting scheme. Step by step he became minister of National Service, President of the Local Government Board, Minister of Reconstruction.

Just now the two brothers have charge of the two toughest problems of Lloyd George's administration, the reconstruction and nationalization—or otherwise, as the issue may be decided—of the transport and mining systems of the United Kingdom, a large order.

There is little family resemblance between the brothers at first glance, Sir Eric is tall and broad, of the type called massive, and looks every inch a man of big business who is used to having his own way, and when he puts his hand on the plough to drive a deep and straight furrow, but his pink and smooth shaven face suggests an outdoor life more than the office. Sir Auckland also is tall and smooth shaven but he is thin, with spectacles and a dome-like forehead, and looks every molecule a professor. Neither of them is an orator, and their parliamentary tactics display none of the subtleties of the politician, and they sit at their desks in Whitehall clad in business suits instead of the ministerial livery of frock coat. Sir Eric reads his speeches in the House of Commons and reads their without any flourishes of elocution, and while they are packed full of meat, it is evident that, unlike Winston Churchill and Austen Chamberlain, he burns no midnight oil polishing his sentences.

It is significant of the new times that the British Government for the two most serious works of reconstruction goes outside of "the governing class" of the old nobility and the ranks of the professional politicians and selects a railroad manager and a college professor both schooled in the practical life of North America.

SNUFFS OUT A COLD
IN A FEW MOMENTS

Clears the Nostrils, Stops Sneezing, Heals the Throat Quickly.

Cattarhozone Works Wonders

Lots of people used to let their colds "work off"—they suffered a whole lot, sneezed around the house, all the while finally finally cured the infection.

Nowadays colds are cured by Cattarhozone before they really get a good start. This healing vapor, full of pure essence, gives instant relief. It fills the breathing organs with a healing, soothing vapor that relieves irritation at once. Ordinary colds are cured in ten minutes. Absolutely sure for Croup, and in throat trouble it works like a charm. Cattarhozone is a permanent cure for bronchitis and throat trouble. Not an experiment—but a cure guaranteed. Get "Cattarhozone" today, and beware of substitutes. The dollar outfit is guaranteed, and small size 50c; trial size 25c, at all dealers.

GEDDES BROTHERS
IN CHARGE OF TWO
TOUGHEST MATTERS

Britain Went Outside of "Government Class" of Old Nobility to Find Suitable Men

London, Aug. 30.—One of the useful discoveries which the war has given the British nation is the Geddes family, Sir Eric Geddes, as Minister of Ways and Communications, and Sir Auckland Geddes, as Minister of National Service

and Reconstruction, are at the head of the two foremost departments engaged in the great work of reconstruction, while their sister is Commandant of the Woman's Royal Air Force with a semi-military organization of several hundred under her control.

The Geddes brothers come from Scotland, which is apt to be a guarantee of success, and before the war they were almost unknown beyond the circles of their own professions, Sir Eric Geddes was a railroad manager, and railroad magnates do not hold a large place in the public eye in England; smaller than a bishop or a master of foxhounds, which last is about the most purple pinnacle of distinction.

Sir Auckland Geddes was professor of anatomy at McGill University in Montreal. Both of them acknowledge a debt to the invigorating atmosphere of the Baltimore & Ohio.

Sir Eric's first billet in the government service was for the organization and management of the hundreds of miles of railroad lines behind the British army in France, which he pulled out of something like chaos where regular staff officers had left it. Then he succeeded Rt. Hon. A. J. Balfour at the head of the Admiralty at a time when there were complaints that the navy was in the hands of a rather hidebound board of admirals and needed more ginger—which it got.

Auckland As Private. Sir Auckland entered public life in the uniform of a private soldier, but he soon graduated to the War Office to be Lord Derby's right hand man in the direction of the Derby recruiting scheme. Step by step he became minister of National Service, President of the Local Government Board, Minister of Reconstruction.

Just now the two brothers have charge of the two toughest problems of Lloyd George's administration, the reconstruction and nationalization—or otherwise, as the issue may be decided—of the transport and mining systems of the United Kingdom, a large order.

There is little family resemblance between the brothers at first glance, Sir Eric is tall and broad, of the type called massive, and looks every inch a man of big business who is used to having his own way, and when he puts his hand on the plough to drive a deep and straight furrow, but his pink and smooth shaven face suggests an outdoor life more than the office. Sir Auckland also is tall and smooth shaven but he is thin, with spectacles and a dome-like forehead, and looks every molecule a professor. Neither of them is an orator, and their parliamentary tactics display none of the subtleties of the politician, and they sit at

Nearly Every Girl
Can Make Herself
Pretty and Attractive

SOME WHOLESOME TRUTHS
EVERY GIRL SHOULD
THINK ABOUT.

Probably you know just such a girl. Perhaps she is sixteen—good to look at, and pretty—quite interesting because she reflects the grace and charm that give promise of happiness to herself and others.

But she is not strong. The color in her cheeks, once so rosy, has faded away—her eyes are listless—the buoyancy of spirit, and vigor she once possessed are sadly lacking. Parents, friends, this girl needs Ferronone—needs it that her blood may be renewed—needs it to restore the nerve force that growth, study and the development of her fresh youth have exhausted. This girl will become a queen with Ferronone—which will restore her color—give brightness to her eyes and vivacity to her spirits. In Ferronone every girl finds strength—then she can do things. In Ferronone there is endurance—that drives away morning headaches and lassitude. For the girl or woman that wants to be happy, healthy, winning—who values rosy cheeks, laughing eyes and abundant good spirits, nothing can compare with Ferronone. 25c. per box, or six for $2.50. Get it today from any dealer in medicine, or by mail from The Cattarhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

Canadian Club on his experiences and the "waitful watching" in Paris. The session should finish in October, but one never knows. The opposition ranks will be strengthened by the presence and active participation of Hon. W. S. Fielding and Mr. Fred F. Pardoe. That will make a difference.

Proceedings Very Brief. This afternoon's proceedings were brief. Following the reading of the speech from the throne, Sir George Foster, in the house, presented the usual pre-forma bill regarding out of office. Speaking then in French—to the loud applause of Quebec members—Sir George moved that the speech from the throne be taken into consideration tomorrow. And, following another customary motion regarding select standing committees, the house adjourned till tomorrow afternoon. Then, Dr. Whidden, of Brandon, seconded by J. C. McIntosh, of Nanaimo (B. C.), will move the address in reply and the debate will open.

It was noted that J. H. Burnham, of Peterboro, took his seat on the cross benches. W. A. Buchanan, of Lethbridge, was seated near him, also on the cross benches. Hon. W. L. MacKenzie King, leader of the opposition watched the proceedings from the public gallery.

S. W. Jacobs, member for George Etienne Cartier (Montreal), proposes again this session, to present his bill to require the holding of by-elections within sixty days of a constituency becoming vacant. The bill is based on legislation in force in the United Kingdom. It was presented last year but was still on the order paper at prorogation.

Speech From Throne. The speech from the throne, as delivered by the governor-general was brief. It opened by reference to the warm welcome the peace treaty, and the making of such come which the Prince of Wales is receiving at all points he has visited and emphasized that the ties between the motherland and dominions were never closer than today.

The programme of the session, so far as outlined in the speech is confined to ratification of the peace treaty, the adoption of measures rendered necessary by the return of peace and by the terms of financial provision as may be required "in connection with the peace treaty and for other purposes."

Britain Went Outside of "Government Class" of Old Nobility to Find Suitable Men

London, Aug. 30.—One of the useful discoveries which the war has given the British nation is the Geddes family, Sir Eric Geddes, as Minister of Ways and Communications, and Sir Auckland Geddes, as Minister of National Service and Reconstruction, are at the head of the two foremost departments engaged in the great work of reconstruction, while their sister is Commandant of the Woman's Royal Air Force with a semi-military organization of several hundred under her control.

The Geddes brothers come from Scotland, which is apt to be a guarantee of success, and before the war they were almost unknown beyond the circles of their own professions, Sir Eric Geddes was a railroad manager, and railroad magnates do not hold a large place in the public eye in England; smaller than a bishop or a master of foxhounds, which last is about the most purple pinnacle of distinction.

Sir Auckland Geddes was professor of anatomy at McGill University in Montreal. Both of them acknowledge a debt to the invigorating atmosphere of the Baltimore & Ohio.

Sir Eric's first billet in the government service was for the organization and management of the hundreds of miles of railroad lines behind the British army in France, which he pulled out of something like chaos where regular staff officers had left it. Then he succeeded Rt. Hon. A. J. Balfour at the head of the Admiralty at a time when there were complaints that the navy was in the hands of a rather hidebound board of admirals and needed more ginger—which it got.

Auckland As Private. Sir Auckland entered public life in the uniform of a private soldier, but he soon graduated to the War Office to be Lord Derby's right hand man in the direction of the Derby recruiting scheme. Step by step he became minister of National Service, President of the Local Government Board, Minister of Reconstruction.

Just now the two brothers have charge of the two toughest problems of Lloyd George's administration, the reconstruction and nationalization—or otherwise, as the issue may be decided—of the transport and mining systems of the United Kingdom, a large order.

There is little family resemblance between the brothers at first glance, Sir Eric is tall and broad, of the type called massive, and looks every inch a man of big business who is used to having his own way, and when he puts his hand on the plough to drive a deep and straight furrow, but his pink and smooth shaven face suggests an outdoor life more than the office. Sir Auckland also is tall and smooth shaven but he is thin, with spectacles and a dome-like forehead, and looks every molecule a professor. Neither of them is an orator, and their parliamentary tactics display none of the subtleties of the politician, and they sit at their desks in Whitehall clad in business suits instead of the ministerial livery of frock coat. Sir Eric reads his speeches in the House of Commons and reads their without any flourishes of elocution, and while they are packed full of meat, it is evident that, unlike Winston Churchill and Austen Chamberlain, he burns no midnight oil polishing his sentences.

It is significant of the new times that the British Government for the two most serious works of reconstruction goes outside of "the governing class" of the old nobility and the ranks of the professional politicians and selects a railroad manager and a college professor both schooled in the practical life of North America.

SNUFFS OUT A COLD
IN A FEW MOMENTS

Clears the Nostrils, Stops Sneezing, Heals the Throat Quickly.

Cattarhozone Works Wonders

Lots of people used to let their colds "work off"—they suffered a whole lot, sneezed around the house, all the while finally finally cured the infection.

Nowadays colds are cured by Cattarhozone before they really get a good start. This healing vapor, full of pure essence, gives instant relief. It fills the breathing organs with a healing, soothing vapor that relieves irritation at once. Ordinary colds are cured in ten minutes. Absolutely sure for Croup, and in throat trouble it works like a charm. Cattarhozone is a permanent cure for bronchitis and throat trouble. Not an experiment—but a cure guaranteed. Get "Cattarhozone" today, and beware of substitutes. The dollar outfit is guaranteed, and small size 50c; trial size 25c, at all dealers.

GEDDES BROTHERS
IN CHARGE OF TWO
TOUGHEST MATTERS

Britain Went Outside of "Government Class" of Old Nobility to Find Suitable Men

London, Aug. 30.—One of the useful discoveries which the war has given the British nation is the Geddes family, Sir Eric Geddes, as Minister of Ways and Communications, and Sir Auckland Geddes, as Minister of National Service

and Reconstruction, are at the head of the two foremost departments engaged in the great work of reconstruction, while their sister is Commandant of the Woman's Royal Air Force with a semi-military organization of several hundred under her control.

The Geddes brothers come from Scotland, which is apt to be a guarantee of success, and before the war they were almost unknown beyond the circles of their own professions, Sir Eric Geddes was a railroad manager, and railroad magnates do not hold a large place in the public eye in England; smaller than a bishop or a master of foxhounds, which last is about the most purple pinnacle of distinction.

Sir Auckland Geddes was professor of anatomy at McGill University in Montreal. Both of them acknowledge a debt to the invigorating atmosphere of the Baltimore & Ohio.

Sir Eric's first billet in the government service was for the organization and management of the hundreds of miles of railroad lines behind the British army in France, which he pulled out of something like chaos where regular staff officers had left it. Then he succeeded Rt. Hon. A. J. Balfour at the head of the Admiralty at a time when there were complaints that the navy was in the hands of a rather hidebound board of admirals and needed more ginger—which it got.

Auckland As Private. Sir Auckland entered public life in the uniform of a private soldier, but he soon graduated to the War Office to be Lord Derby's right hand man in the direction of the Derby recruiting scheme. Step by step he became minister of National Service, President of the Local Government Board, Minister of Reconstruction.

Just now the two brothers have charge of the two toughest problems of Lloyd George's administration, the reconstruction and nationalization—or otherwise, as the issue may be decided—of the transport and mining systems of the United Kingdom, a large order.

There is little family resemblance between the brothers at first glance, Sir Eric is tall and broad, of the type called massive, and looks every inch a man of big business who is used to having his own way, and when he puts his hand on the plough to drive a deep and straight furrow, but his pink and smooth shaven face suggests an outdoor life more than the office. Sir Auckland also is tall and smooth shaven but he is thin, with spectacles and a dome-like forehead, and looks every molecule a professor. Neither of them is an orator, and their parliamentary tactics display none of the subtleties of the politician, and they sit at

Abbey's
EFFERVESCENT SALT
A Good Friend To Business Men.
ABBEY'S SALT corrects those little irritating troubles which hinder a man from doing his best work.
Happens Constipation—It makes the bowels regular—It stops those attacks of Indigestion—It's good for the Kidneys and Bladder—It's a bracing, invigorating Tonic to keep the blood pure and the brain clear.
Take a glass every morning before breakfast.

transport and mining systems of the United Kingdom, a large order.

There is little family resemblance between the brothers at first glance, Sir Eric is tall and broad, of the type called massive, and looks every inch a man of big business who is used to having his own way, and when he puts his hand on the plough to drive a deep and straight furrow, but his pink and smooth shaven face suggests an outdoor life more than the office. Sir Auckland also is tall and smooth shaven but he is thin, with spectacles and a dome-like forehead, and looks every molecule a professor. Neither of them is an orator, and their parliamentary tactics display none of the subtleties of the politician, and they sit at their desks in Whitehall clad in business suits instead of the ministerial livery of frock coat. Sir Eric reads his speeches in the House of Commons and reads their without any flourishes of elocution, and while they are packed full of meat, it is evident that, unlike Winston Churchill and Austen Chamberlain, he burns no midnight oil polishing his sentences.

It is significant of the new times that the British Government for the two most serious works of reconstruction goes outside of "the governing class" of the old nobility and the ranks of the professional politicians and selects a railroad manager and a college professor both schooled in the practical life of North America.

Overdoing
How Women Break Down
Owing to the modern manner of living and the nervous haste of every woman to accomplish just so much each day, they overdo, and as a consequence develop ailments peculiar to their sex, as is indicated by backache, headache, nervousness, the blues, displacements and weakness.

Women who find themselves in this condition should slow down, and depend upon that good old fashioned root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, to restore them to health and strength, for there is no other remedy known that so quickly restores a healthy, normal condition.

Here is the Story of a Most Remarkable Recovery

Minneapolis, Minn.—"I was run down and nervous, could not rest at night, and was more tired in the morning than when I went to bed. I have two children, the youngest three months old, and it was drudgery to care for them as I felt so irritable and generally worn out. From lack of rest and appetite my baby did not get enough nourishment from me, so I started to give him two bottle feedings a day. After taking three bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I felt like a new woman, full of life and energy. It is a pleasure to care for my children and I am very happy with them and feel fine. I nurse my baby exclusively again, and can't say too much for your medicine."
Mrs. A. L. MILLER,
2633 East 24th St.

Surely this proves the curative value of

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

LYDIA E. PINKHAM MEDICINE CO., LYNN, MASS.

Disturbed sleep usually comes from some form of indigestion. Strengthen the stomach and stimulate the liver with a course of Beecham's Pills

Latest Sale of any Medicine in the World. Sold everywhere, in boxes, 25c.