INGLE SAM REJECTS MILITANT LEADER

Miss Pankhurst Not Let Land At New York

MUST GO BACK TO FRANCE FORTHWITH

Special Board of Inquiry Quashed Her on Arrival Today (Remain—Had Planned Lecture Tour)

(Canadian Press)

New York, Oct. 18.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, English militant suffragette leader, who arrived here today for a lecture tour, was ordered deported by immigration authorities within a little less than three hours after the vessel in which she came had docked. The special board of inquiry which she had demanded to be permitted to land here was quashed but to send her back to France forthwith.

(Canadian Press)

New York, Oct. 18.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, militant suffragette leader, who landed in America today, was taken to Ellis Island to appear before a special board of inquiry to determine whether or not her conviction in England was for a crime involving moral turpitude. Whether or not Mrs. Pankhurst would be allowed to remain in this country depended upon the finding of the board.

Pankhurst was detained aboard the ship, when it docked. A tug was commissioned to take her to Ellis Island. She was placed on board the ship and a special board of inquiry, as announced, would convene speedily to render a verdict, some time to be fixed.

Pankhurst herself to determine if she had committed a crime in England. She was questioned by the board and Mrs. Pankhurst asserted that her conviction was for a political offense and was generally understood that her conviction had expired. She had been in France, although she had not notified formally.

of a quarter of an hour the militant leader was questioned by immigration officers in the white and gold mist of the liner.

engers Curious

curious crowd of passengers, eager to learn the disposition of her case, gathered through the doors and pressed to see newspaper reporters for full details. She surrounded the little Rheta Child Door, Mrs. Pankhurst's traveling companion, sought to disengage the militant leader, during hearing, but this the inspectors did not permit, examining Mrs. Pankhurst alone.

am not coming to America to tell American women how to vote," Mrs. Pankhurst announced. "They appear to be able to manage their own affairs. Their progress has been remarkable, and they need no foreign aid."

here was no touch of militancy about Pankhurst's fact or figure as she talked with the newspaper. She dressed in a grey suit, a blue hat, and a single ostrich plume of black, and was half hidden by a blue and white seal skin coat that she had the floor when she walked. Her grey hair belied the youth that had stamped on her features. She almost recovered, she said, from the sea caused by forcible feeding in Holywell jail, but she was willing to live through the experience all over again, if need be, "for the good of the cause."

"Why, of course I would. I die if I had to, for the cause. There are dozens, yes, hundreds of women in England who would do the same thing."

FAVORS AGRICULTURE FOR YOUNG MINISTERS

New President of Baptist Convention Also Expresses Views on Union

Peterboro, Ont., Oct. 18.—"I would like to see church union practiced in a few of the smaller towns and villages before I am prepared to say that it is workable," was the summary of this question given the Baptist convention of Ontario and Quebec by the newly elected president, A. A. Ayer, of Montreal, at the opening session.

Baptist Mr. Ayer thought, would not be opposed to organic union, providing there was no sacrifice of principle involved. That meant for one thing that applicants for church membership in the united church must have subscribed to the New Testament confession of faith as represented in baptism.

Mr. Ayer advocated more practical ministers and methods. To make Bible truths easy for the young he said, Sunday schools should have been the first to use moving pictures. Young ministers should take a course in an agricultural college so that in country fields they could sympathize and co-operate with farmers and gain an influence over them.

DINER MISSES PEARL; WAITER GETS THE GEM

New York Dining Room Man Makes $500 by Find in Oyster Shell

New York, Oct. 18.—George Pappas, a Greek waiter, employed in the dining room at the Columbus University Commons, while serving oysters on the half shell to an abstracted student, saw a beautiful pearl in one of the shells which the student had aside. When the student had consumed the last oyster Pappas made a grab for the plate and rushed to the kitchen with it, taking out the pearl as he went.

Pappas said nothing of his find then, but slipped off his apron and made his way to Bleeker street, where a friend told him the pearl was of great value. He next called on a jeweler, who at once gave him $600 for the gem.

Then Pappas went to James Smith, the manager of the Commons, and resigned, announcing his intention of going to Panama to engage in the commission business on the proceeds of his find.

The pearl weighed fifteen cents, according to Pappas, who exhibited a handful of bills in confirmation of the story. Manager Smith also confirmed the find.

NOTED ZULU CHIEF IS DEAD

Dinizulu Had Given Trouble To British

SUCCESSOR TO CHIEF YAWO

Had Led Several Expeditions In South Africa Against Imperial Forces and Once Was Exiled to St. Helena

(Canadian Press)

Capetown, Oct. 18.—Dinizulu, the last of the warrior kings of the former Zulu nation of South Africa, died today. He was a son of Cetshwayo, the king who led the Zulu nation against the British troops in the war of 1879, and who was eventually defeated after he had inflicted a crushing blow on the British army at the battle of Isandhlwana, when practically the entire 24th Infantry Regiment was massacred. It was during this war that the French prince imperial, Louis Napoleon, was killed while out reconnoitering with the British troops.

Dinizulu did not become king until his father died but was proclaimed later by the Boers, and he led two or three rebellions against the British powers. On one occasion, when captured, he was exiled to the island of St. Helena, where the great Napoleon died. When permitted to return to his native land, he took part in another rebellion, after which he was tried and sentenced to four years' imprisonment, but was given his liberty and a pension when the Union of South Africa was established in 1910.

Three lots in Douglas avenue, near the bridges, were offered, but as the best bid on the first one was only $800, they were withdrawn.

The same fate met the offer of a farm of 200 acres between the Golden Grove and Loch Lomond roads. The sum of $1,000 was bid for the farm, complete, and $1,000 for the timber separately, but neither bid was accepted.

A $500 six per cent. bond of Reddy's Breweries, Ltd., was purchased at 97-1/2.

NEW CHURCH LIGHTS

The church of St. John the Baptist has just been delivered from the hands of workmen under direction of Wm. F. Rhea of the Maritime Electric Co., who have completed the task of lighting the building, both inside and outside, and have done it very creditably. The new lighting arrangement has been favorably commented upon. Two large handsome clusters have been placed in the ceiling, while about every pillar are four light fixtures. The arrangement is not only most useful, but ornamental as well, the fixtures used being of modern and attractive design.

AN AUTO FOR $26

The days when automobiles will be as cheap as bicycles seems to be approaching. A five passenger Buick touring car was offered at auction on Market square at eleven o'clock this morning, and, after some strenuous work, Auctioneer Webster disposed of it for $26.

E. J. Tighe and a friend of his were the purchasers and they got it away, under its own power by one o'clock.

PRINCE ARTHUR TO WAR OFFICE

Post Under Field Marshal Sir John French

MEANS YEAR IN LONDON

Cable Says Desired That He Gain Staff Work Experience Preliminary to Succeeding Father as Governor-General of Canada

(Canadian Press)

London, Oct. 18.—The Daily Graphic this morning states that it has good reasons to believe that very soon Prince Arthur of Connaught will be called upon to resign his commission with the Scots Greys in order to take up a position on the War Office staff under Field Marshal Sir John French, chief of the imperial general staff.

Now that His Royal Highness has received the rank of brevet-major, it is felt that more important work should be given him than is possible in a regiment where there are several captains senior to him.

Hitherto, Prince Arthur has had practically no opportunity of studying staff work except for the short period when he was aide de camp to the duke, his father, in Malta. It is now desired that he should gain this experience before he succeeds his father as governor-general of Canada next autumn.

The war office appointment will mean that Prince Arthur and the princess will pass almost the whole time in London for twelve months. It is understood that the prince will take up his new duties at the beginning of December, though the change may possibly be deferred until the new year.

C. P. R. TRAIN SANK 40 FEET INTO A RAVINE

Company Put 400 Men at Work and All Clear in Few Hours

Fort William, Ont., Oct. 18.—With the track underneath them, an engine and ten cars of a work train sank forty feet in a ravine near Rosport last night. None of the crew was injured, as all had time to get away when the track first began to give.

The trouble occurred over a ravine, where there had been a sinking in the days of the construction of the C. P. R. Workmen have reported finding kegs of spikes and steel rails in the dump beside the track, as if it had been the spot where a construction train had been lost.

All night the C. P. R. had 400 men and four work trains filling in the gap, which was 70 feet long, and had the line open at eight o'clock this morning.

Mr. Merchant Are You Ready To Catch The Plums?

Here is the manufacturer with the good stout pole of newspaper advertising to knock them off the tree.

Are you prepared to catch them? When a manufacturer makes a market right at your door by judicious advertising in the newspapers do you back him up? Do you show the goods? Do you have windows that let the people know you keep these goods?

Why not? It does not take much effort to gather up the plums if another knocks them down. Merchandising is co-operative work. The manufacturer who spends his money and brains making a demand right in your immediate locality deserves your push and pull.

Catch your share of the plums. The Bureau of Advertising, American Newspaper Publishers Association, World Building, New York, solicits correspondence with manufacturers interested in newspaper advertising and co-operative dealer work.
