Mrs. Jeremiah Brundage, Sister of N. Golding Dies in Boston—Kindly Remembered in Her Native City

Word reached the city during last night of the death of Mrs. Frances Ann Brundage, widow of Jeremiah Brundage, both of whom were residents of this city. Mrs. Brundage died in Boston, where she had been residing for nearly thirty years with her large family of married children and grandchildren. She was eighty-seven years of age, and enjoyed full possession of all her faculties until her rather unexpected passing away.

Mrs. Brundage was the eldest child of the late John N. Golding, who died in 1844, and was a sister of John N. Golding, J. & A. McMackin's in this city. She was a woman of many capabilities and only a little advanced in years when she was preparing large quantities of fancy work, etc. for a church bazaar. For a person of such advanced years she was remarkably active and up to the last year she traveled hither and thither at great railway distances visiting relatives.

MILL STREET KNIFE CASE

Thomas Davis, of North End, was arrested yesterday afternoon on a charge of cutting and wounding Leo Walsh of Chesley street. The case was postponed this morning in the police court, until tomorrow. The affray took place about 2:45 o'clock yesterday afternoon in front of the Union depot and aroused considerable excitement. Walsh is a young man, while Davis gives his age as forty-one. It is believed they had been quarrelling yesterday, although after the arrest neither was inclined to talk of the fracas. Walsh, close-follower by the prisoner, ran out of Smythe street, bounding past and frightening several ladies. When just in front of the depot Davis caught up to him and slashed his face twice with a knife. The cuts were quite severe. In the depot they were dressed, and later Walsh went to his home. Davis escaped for a time, but was soon captured.

LESS SICKNESS

Work Has Shown Poorer Classes Enjoyed Better Health Than in Previous Year—Good Work of the Nurses—The Financial Report

The annual meeting of St. John branch of the Victorian Order of Nurses is being held this afternoon in the schoolroom of Trinity church. Reports of the last year's work show that the nurses have been kept busy, but that fewer visits were made than in the previous year, indicating less sickness amongst the poorer classes. The financial statement shows a balance of $808.35 to the credit of the order.

The report of the board of management will be presented by the president, Hon. J. G. Forbes, and the secretary, treasurer, C. W. Helms. It is learned that the statement of the work of the year will show:

PROFESSIONAL HOCKEY TEAM HERE PLANNED

Scheme for Six Team Maritime League for Next Season is Being Worked Out

Professional hockey for St. John next season is now a likelihood, and in that event this city will have a team composed of the best that money can get. Should the project materialize, Robert J. Armstrong will be the promoter and manager.

In the revived interest in hockey because of St. John's good showing people are turning out better than for some years. This has convinced Mr. Armstrong that "real" hockey by an aggregation of stars, picked from the lower provinces and about Montreal, would draw the people. A study of the attendance at the "pro" games in Halifax and Moncton has also tended to strengthen this idea.

"Rollie" Norman, the Moncton Vic star forward, has been in communication with Mr. Armstrong in the matter. The idea is to have a six team league, composed of Moncton, Halifax, Amherst, New Glasgow, Fredericton and St. John, and he is very favorably disposed towards the proposition. Mr. Armstrong thinks that St. John playing amateur hockey does not take it seriously, and said that at the recent practice hour, but two or three men showed up, "and that's not hockey," was his comment. "If I had a professional team," he added, "I would see that every one was on hand for practice."

It is understood that some members of the present St. John team are not adverse to playing "pro" hockey next year. Whether or not any local talent would be used or if an entirely imported team would be the scheme is to be determined.

PROCEEDING W.

The work of tearing down the big chimney in the rear of Stetson & Cutler's "big milled" distillery, is going ahead quite rapidly, and if the fine weather continues it is expected that the work will be completed early next week. The men employed have been considerably hampered by the severe weather during the last few weeks.

NOTHING DEFINITE YET.

J. R. Stone, curator for the Star Line Steamship Company, said this morning that he would be unable to give any definite information in regard to the affairs of the company re the disposal of the steamers, until probably the first of next week, on the return of McLeod. Four tenders have been received for the boats.

BUSINESS CHANGE

Martin O. Crossman of Sackville, has sold to Wm. B. Fawcett and A. Chase Fawcett his interest in the Sackville Meat Company and has retired from the firm. The remaining members will carry on the business.

With $1.00 Gas for Cooking Purposes it Will Pay You to Use Gas in Summer

In our Glenwood line of ranges, we have added a gas combination that keeps our range up-to-date in every way. Our gas combination is in itself, a stove having a broiling department, besides an oven and three burners for cooking on. This gas arrangement fits on our stoves the same as an end shelf and though part of the Glenwood Range it can be worked independent of the coal range or they can both be run together without the least fear. We are the only firm in the maritime provinces that are making a gas combination, and we always endeavor to keep pace with the rest of Canada in our line of business and in our modern foundry, we are able to add anything that we know to be of any advantage to a range. These gas combinations, like our Glenwood Ranges, have been tried, and proved satisfactory before offering them on the market.
