C. P. R. CHANGES

In the Main Line of the St. Stephen Branch.

The C. P. R. are contemplating a change in the main line of the St. Stephen branch at McAdam. At present trains running in from St. Stephen have to back out and go around the Y before proceeding to St. John, but by the proposed change they will run in around the south and west side of the pond in the rear of the station and will thus avoid turning. The new track required to make this change will be about a mile in length.

The New Brunswick Southern railway has borrowed from the C. P. R. a pile driver and the work of repairing the bridges is being pushed forward as rapidly as possible. It is expected that the line will be opened to St. Stephen in a very short time.

GOT HIS MONEY.

Edward Haney Succeeded in Collecting an Old Bill from the Circus.

By a clever piece of work which was completed last night Officer Thomas Sullivan has won credit for himself as a detective, and Edward Haney, lessee of the Shamrock grounds, is rejoicing over the unlooked for receipt of two hundred dollars, which feels just like money from home.

Three years ago, when the circus was last here, Frank Lewen and his brother were managers of it. They exhibited on the Shamrock grounds, after agreeing with Edward Haney to pay two hundred dollars for the privilege. But the two hundred was not paid and the circus departed. Mr. Haney used every endeavor to locate Frank Lewen, and had the police and constables at every town where the circus stopped on the lookout for the man. But although this was kept up until show entered Maine there was no success.

This time Mr. Haney has had better luck. The same Frank Lewen who left St. John three years ago without settling his bill is now the lessee of the Pan-American show, which held forth here yesterday, and Mr. Haney had not forgotten that little account. He took steps to recover what was due him and in the game was Daniel Mullin, Constable Tommy Gibbon and Officer Sullivan. The latter had the task of locating his man and this was the most difficult part of the whole business.

Lewen evidently expected that some attempt would be made to collect the money, for he was not seen taking any prominent part in the management of the show. Instead of this, he dressed in old and dirty working clothes and mixed with the employees of the circus in the work of pitching tents and doing the many odd jobs necessary. Officer Sullivan went down in civilian clothes and also mixed with the employees. He said that he wanted a job with the circus and by so doing managed to find Lewen, whom he afterwards spotted. The story of how this was done is interesting and ended successfully. Having got the drop on Lewen, Sullivan notified Constable Gibbon, who had the necessary papers prepared by Mr. Mullin. About eight o'clock last evening Gibbon went down and was politely introduced by Sullivan to Lewen, who was naturally much surprised when he found out the truth of the case. He denied that he was the man, but this did not go. Then he offered a note for the satisfaction of the officers, but the officers demanded hard cash, and as there was no other way out of it, Lewen counted out two hundred dollars for the account and forty dollars costs, which he handed over, remarking that the officers here were a little too smart for him. And this is why Mr. Haney feels pleased today and is grateful to Sullivan and Gibbon for the part they took.

MAJOR BAXTER HONORED.

Presented With a Splendid Pair of Field Glasses by the N. C. O's and Men of His Company.

There was a jolly celebration at No. 2 Company, 3rd Regt. C. A. drill shed last evening. The occasion was only supposed to be a regular drill, at which Major Baxter, who formerly commanded the company, would pay a visit of inspection, but the company had planned otherwise. At the conclusion of drill Major Baxter was called from the army by Capt. Drake who, in a neat address, reviewed the pleasant relations which, during ten years, had subsisted between Major Baxter and the company under his command. He spoke of the late captain as always having devoted his best efforts to the success of the company and having endeavored to make a personal friend of each member of the company. He then handed to the retired commander of the company a magnificent Warner & Swasey prism field glass in a leather case, the cover of which bore the inscription:

"Presented to Major J. B. Baxter, by the N. C. Officers and Men of No. 2 Co. 3rd Regt. C. A. 1903."

Capt. Drake expressed the hope that the recipient would at the next gun practice see good results from No. 2 through the glasses.

Major Baxter, replying, said that the old drill shed was a very pleasant place to be at, and that he should receive as great value to a gift already valuable in itself. In his new position he was bound to be impartial and to work solely for the good of the regiment. He could never forget the loyalty of No. 2 Company in their work, while under him and he hoped to establish the same happy personal relations with the whole regiment which had marked his command of No. 2. Success could only be achieved by hard work, but he had the support of both officers and men who were willing to work, and the best wish he could express for Capt. Drake during his term of command would be that he should receive as hearty support as he had always given.

After the presentation refreshments of a light character were served. Corp. Lanyon, Bomb. Stephens and Gunner Walter Allingham sang songs and the company danced a sword dance. The gathering broke up shortly after midnight with "The King."

Major Baxter, who joined No. 2 Co. as gunner 28th May, 1883, became a bombardier in August of that year and on 31st May, 1889, was promoted to a Lieutenancy. On 16th Dec. 1892, he succeeded Major Gordon in the command which he has held until 13th March, 1903. The drill shed on Winslow Street, Carleton, was only completed in 1893 and until that year the company had not a fair chance to show the work that was in it. Since that time, during the past ten years, it has five times been the scene of a general drill, once trying with No. 1 Co. three times it was stood in the second regimental place; once in the third and once in the fourth. On three occasions, 1893, 1900 and 1902, the company has held first place in the Dominion for general efficiency, in 1898 on a tie with No. 1 Co. of this regiment; in 1900 tying with No. 1 P. E. I., and in 1902 tying with No. 2 P. E. I. In 1896 they held second and in 1899 and 1901 third place for general efficiency, making them Dominion prize winners for six years out of the ten, a pretty good record.

ST. JOHN'S LOSS IS BOSTON'S GAIN.

It is rumored about the Carleton streets, and the rumor is likely to have pretty good foundation, that Merritt Ross, who is out on bail on a charge of stealing a horse, has removed to Boston, where he intends to make his future home. There was no demonstration upon Merritt's departure. No one was present at the station to see him off, and it is said to be doubtful if he went directly from a station. A general syndicate of expressmen toward the police on the western side of the harbor who have lost their stock "bad boy." Those who have had no police experience can hardly realize how handy it is to always have a man in sight at whose door every degradation can be laid. It saves detective work and consequent attention of the grey matter of the brain. Besides it makes the life of the individual selected for this office a lively one.

Merritt is "dead easy" this time, but it is altogether probable that he took the ship, and maybe Sergt. Ross is just as well pleased to have him out of the way.

LAST NIGHT'S SHOW.

The Pan-American circus had some nice horses. This is the only point in the show that has been given.

The performance was admirable and at times vulgar. There was not in the whole thing one real good act or one that was better than could be seen at any of the vaudeville shows.

The acrobats were poor and nothing worth looking at was attempted. The Royal Roman Hippodrome dwindled down to a series of very tame races between animals trained to go just so fast, and the grand concert after the big show was a farce.

The tent leaked, as might have been expected, the ground was muddy, and those who went to see the performance bore up patiently under discomfort from the conditions and disappointment from the show.

NOTHING DOING.

Several persons waited around the police court yesterday afternoon, in the hope of being able to do some business, but after losing quite a lot of time were compelled to go away disappointed. Among them were the witnesses in the case against Kenneth Hamilton, the boy who was arrested for stealing fruit from Peter Pepper's cart in the west side.

Another visitor was a man named Rideout from St. Stephen, who with his counsel, was seeking vengeance on a three-shell man at the circus. It is said the latter got away with $100 belonging to him. Mr. Rideout had been in court in the morning, and expected to conclude his business in the afternoon, but could not find a magistrate.

Joseph A. Rainnie, of St. John, has removed to Halifax and with Mrs. Rainnie have taken up their residence at Hillside Hall.

THREE NEW BOATS.

Ordered by the Neptune Rowing Club Have Not Yet Arrived.

There has been some unaccountable delay in the shipping of the new boats ordered by the Neptune Rowing Club from St. Catharines, Ont. The boats were to have been received here on the first of June, and the builder wrote some time ago asking the club if they would accept them before that date. The club wrote back saying that they were prepared to take the boats at any time, but instead of them being shipped before the first of June they have not yet been heard of.

Three boats in all are being built, and these are much needed by the club, as owing to the increased membership the popularity of the boat house is greatly increased.

BODY NOT FOUND YET.

Every day last week grappling for the body of John Barry, the sailor who was drowned off Reed's Point, was continued, but as yet there has been no success. Some men are still at work, but they have almost given up hope of finding the body. The search is being made all around the spot where the unfortunate man fell overboard.

LITTLEJOHN AFTER THEIR SCALES.

Dan, Littlejohn, the local champion, will have a challenge read at the ring-side in Halifax tonight when Snelling and Doran box.

Littlejohn will challenge Snelling whether he wins or loses to Doran, and "Dan" stands ready to meet Doran, the tar, when the warship Ariadne, of which Doran is one of the crew, arrives, in this port.

Littlejohn is particularly hot under the collar over his treatment in Halifax in his recent bout with Snelling, when the decision was given against him. He claims that the worst he should have got was a draw. The St. John boy is more than anxious to meet Snelling here. It is also on the tapis that Eddie Connolly, the famed St. John boxer, will pay his native town a visit within a month and that he and Littlejohn will be matched to settle the question of supremacy between the pair.

John Power left last night for the sister city, where he will referee the contest at the armories, Halifax, between Snelling and Doran.

MISS MARY HOWE.

Miss Mary Howe, soprano, will be the soloist this week at the Duss Venetian Summer Night Festivals at Madison Square Garden. Miss Howe has just returned from Germany, where, it is said, Emperor William told her she had a phenomenal voice. While abroad she also sang before the King of Sweden and the King of Saxony. She has just received an offer to be first coloratura singer at the Dresden Royal Opera.

The regular meeting of the Boller-makers' Union will be held tonight at their quarters in Berryman's hall.
