ADVERTISE NEW BRUNSWICK.

On his recent visit to the old country W. S. Fisher had a conversation with C. A. Duff Miller, agent general in England for New Brunswick. The latter pointed out that in his work of advancing the interests of this province he was not provided with any local literature. Other provinces of the Dominion issue numerous booklets and circulars setting forth the advantages of different districts in agricultural as well as other lines, but New Brunswick as yet has not done this. Mr. Fisher, representative in England for the Immigration department, had quite a variety of pamphlets, but none of them dealt with New Brunswick.

Mr. Duff Miller was of the opinion that his own work would be rendered much more valuable and would be more wide reaching were some such printed information sent him for distribution. Mr. Fisher is now laying before the local government the facts set out by Mr. Duff Miller and it may be that action will be taken.

PUBLIC ORCHARDS.

It is said that the New Brunswick department of agriculture intends operating next spring a number of orchards with the object of encouraging the fruit industry in this province. It is hoped that each county will ultimately have such an orchard.

For the first year the orchards of James Barnes, M. P. P., at Buctouche, Kent county, a farm owned by Mr. McKean, Florenceville, Carleton county, B. V. Millidge's farm, St. John, and probably the farm of H. N. Arnold, near Smead.

The plan is that the government furnish the trees and send a man to direct the proper planting and laying out of the orchard.

The project is believed to be largely the instigation of W. MacKinnon, who while in Fredericton on Monday had a conference with Deputy Commissioner Peters.

The responses to the call for donations have been most generous, and a lot of stuff, including a large variety of articles, is on sale. Even before the affair commenced there was a demand and yesterday afternoon over twenty dollars was taken from the most persistent buyers.

A CARROT AND THE COLLECTOR-SHIP.

A Peculiar Specimen Sent to the Star This Morning.

The Star was today presented with a carrot, the first specimen of winter fruit, not, however, offered in payment of subscription. Now, this carrot is a gem in its way and deserves some notice. The top of it is about ten inches in circumference. From this six genetic branches shoot forth, looking for all the world like a man's hand holding a cigar between the first and second fingers. The thumb is short and stumpy, as though it started well and forgot to continue. This carrot was sent to the Star with the following written upon it:

The large, or upper portion of the carrot was labelled: "The fight for the vacant collectorship," and each of the six roots bears the name of one of those who are spoken of as applicants. The short, stumpy thumb, far in the rear and standing alone, was called Edward Sears. It has a sort of worried look. The first and third fingers are long and creeping, and coil right around the cigar. These fingers were George Robertson and W. E. Vroom. Each according to the carrot has an equal show, but the cigar, representing Hon. A. T. Dunn, stands far above them in the race, and is supported by the curves. The third finger is named C. J. Milligan, rather a new man in the field, and one who has not been prominently mentioned. Arthur W. Adams is given the little finger, which is somewhat overgrown and appears to be rapidly crawling up on the outside.

This carrot practically represents the general opinion according to the few who have seen it. William Street today, Mr. Adam's stock in fact coming up and he is said to have strong support, although no one seems to know exactly what it is. But of those who might accept the job, Mr. Dunn we are the least and is thought by many to have the best chance.

DEFAUCED COINS.

A Queer Old Collection of Battered Money in the Star Office.

In the Star counting room there is a bag containing silver and copper coins, the accumulation of years, which are we are told, in fact, mostly of these cents, although there are some few dollars in silver, and of the lot there is scarcely one piece which would pass.

It happens more or less frequently, that when the newspapers are buying their papers, the money which they hand in, composed for the most part of cents, is counted hurriedly, and in this way many battered or otherwise defaced coins are taken in.

When the money is being rolled, these are sorted out. Cents which are only slightly defaced and are still good are kept in circulation, but the worst ones are laid aside. These in turn are gradually sifted until finally there are left only the disreputable specimens which go to the bag for waste copper.

These coins are mutilated in almost every possible way. Some of them are ground perfectly smooth, others have been through fire; some are hammered out flat and others are cut in halves. Quite a proportion have large holes punched through the centres and there scarcely one in the lot which a conscientious collector would be satisfied in dropping in the collection plate.

Among the silver coins the majority are five cent pieces, or are said to be, for no one could affirm that any one is worth its name, at least that is true to a certain extent. Some of the quarters are counterfeit and this can always be vouched for after the pieces are received. As yet these have not been sold for old silver, but there are possibilities.

The assembly hall at York Theatre are all in readiness for the dance, which the Neptune Rowing Club is giving there this evening. The rooms have been beautifully decorated for the occasion, banners, streamers and shields being used unsparingly.

The affair opens at nine o'clock and later in the evening a dinner will be served.

About twelve hundred invitations have been issued for the occasion. The officers of H. M. S. Pallas will be present.

The Ladies' committee include the following: Mrs. A. George Blair, Mrs. A. E. Foster, Mrs. E. Walker Holly, Mrs. R. Kettle Jones, Mrs. George West Jones, Mrs. George McAvity, Mrs. Alfred Porter, Mrs. J. Morris Robinson, Mrs. J. Morris Robinson, Jr., Mrs. F. E. Barry, Mrs. John H. Thomson, Mrs. J. Royden Thomson, and Mrs. W. E. Vroom.

WON'T EXHIBIT AT ST. LOUIS.

(Special to Star.)
TORONTO, Nov. 12.—At their meeting today the stock breeders discussed the exhibit of cattle at the St. Louis exhibition, and practically decided not to exhibit as the conditions of the government grant of $100,000 is not satisfactory.

FOR A NATIONAL PORT.

St. John Board of Trade Unanimously Urge Government to Provide for Harbor Needs.

A most enthusiastic meeting was held at the board of trade rooms last evening at which the question of harbor improvements was fully discussed. Wm. Jarvis presided and explained the object of the meeting. D. J. McLaughlin moved a resolution, which after setting forth the facts concerning present conditions, resolved "That the federal government be urgently requested to take immediate action to provide for an expenditure at St. John of such sums as are needed to furnish additional wharves and facilities, on a large and comprehensive plan, looking well toward the future development of the winter trade of the Dominion."

Mr. McLaughlin strongly advocated sending a delegation to Ottawa. The members of it should go and remain there until they are successful.

W. H. Thorne seconded the resolution and presented strong reasons why the government should help in building the wharves. This is being done on the same basis as at other ports, and is establishing no precedent in asking for assistance.

Samuel Schofield suggested that the resolution be made to read "additional accommodations and facilities on the same basis as at other ports."

George Robertson pointed out that the harbors where work was being done by the government were under commission. St. John harbor is not. For this reason the cases are not parallel.

Some of the other speakers also pay interest on money borrowed and it is likely that the government will ask something of the kind from St. John.

W. S. Fisher thought that if the government would undertake improvements provided the harbor were put in commission the matter might be given some attention. He referred to the falling off in trade in 1897-1901 and showed that the Americans were entering in a close rivalry for Canadian business.

Mr. Schofield was opposed to putting the harbor in commission. He thought that if the government would do the dredging some way might be devised for building the wharves.

G. S. Mays pointed out that a great deal of dredging would be required if the wharves are to be built below Sand Point. He urged that the delegation secure the dredge at once.

A. W. Mearns objected that steamship men would believe that the harbor being put in commission for they could now obtain favors from the council which would not be granted by the government. It is time to impress the government with the idea of St. John as a national port, but the citizens should not be burdened further.

Derry Major was entered in the list of the visit of the C. P. R. officials and hoped something would be done at once.

T. H. Estabrook thought wharves should be built with increasing taxation. Further expenditure would not be for the advantage of St. John so much as for the Dominion. He would like a government engineer to come down and make a report.

Mr. Seely thought the word "dredging" should be substituted for "wharves" in the resolution.

Herbert Schofield was strongly in favor of a delegation.

T. B. Robinson would like to have the subject of placing the harbor in commission considered.

James Pender thought a proper wharfage rate should be charged, as is done in other ports.

The resolution as read was carried unanimously and copies will be sent to the premier, minister of public works and each St. John representative.

POLICE COURT.

For some time complaints have reached the police about men and women lying artfully lurking on Chatham hill. It is the intention of the officers to put a stop to this, and last night Mary Curran and James Boyd were arrested.

Mary is twenty-eight. She is half as young as Joan will be when he was twice the age that Mary was a few short years ago. What time is it?

In court this morning Boyd admitted that he had been acting in an unseemly manner. He was charged with being drunk and acting indecently on Smythe street, got out on a sixteen dollar deposit.

SMALLPOX SITUATION.

The smallpox situation remains unchanged. At the Grand Union Hotel the work of fumigating has been satisfactorily proceeded with and is about completed. It has yet to be reported whether the vaccination performed on several of the inmates has been successful. When this is learned the board of health will order that the quarantine be relaxed. This may now be done at any time, although not probably today.

MORE FISH.

There are still some fish on the market in spite of the famine stories told by dealers. One peculiar feature is that the cod now for sale are big ones. It was explained to the Star today that as these fish in common with others go in schools, these particular ones belonged to the high school and were, when caught, heading for the U. N. B. Cod, haddock, mackerel and halibut are offered in fair quantities, and prices remain unchanged.

SAILORS DESERT.

The captain of the steamer Normand is having some difficulty in holding on to his crew. The Normand is lying at Mo's berth, and is manned chiefly by Norwegians and Swedes. Yesterday three of these left for parts unknown, and this morning it is reported that two others have followed. Information of the desertions and descriptions of the men have been sent to the police.

AN UNBIDDEN GUEST.

There was a company in George Perry's house on Main street last night. Officer Covay calls it a party, but this word is obsolete in the North End. To the feast there came an unbidden guest whose presence was looked upon with distaste. He hadn't half as much sense as some of the city officials who know when to stay away from these unbecomingly occasions. Covay removed the offender and the dance went on.
