RACE TRACKS AND THE ANTI-GAMBLING LAW

LEXINGTON, Ky., June 17.—Chairman J. P. Chittin will issue a call today for a meeting of the State Racing Commission to be held in this city Friday next for the purpose of taking action on the announcement of the Lexington Jockey Club, which intends to permit bookmaking at its track beginning Saturday. It is authoritatively stated that four and possibly the fifth member of the Commission are opposed to betting in this state, under any conditions other than the Paris mutuel and auction pools as authorized by the Kentucky General Assembly. It is probable that a rule will be passed prohibiting any track licensed by the commission to allow book making under a penalty of losing the license.

NEW YORK, June 17.—The Tribune says C. J. Fitzgerald, manager of the Brighton Beach Race Association, has returned yesterday that at a meeting of the directors of the association it was decided that the meeting at Brighton Beach could not be held on the lines mapped out before the passage of the Agnew Hart bill. ROBLIN AMENDS UNFAIR MANITOBA CONDITIONS EARL OF DERBY, FORMER GOVERNOR-GENERAL, IS DEAD

His Surrender May End the Elections Bill Dispute
Government's Stand for Fair Lists is Fully Justified—Laurier Wins Out
Liberal Members in Caucus Praise Their Leader—They Strongly Favor the Closure.

LONDON, June 16.—Frederick Arthur Stanley, sixteenth Earl of Derby, who was Governor-General of Canada from 1883 to 1888, bearing then the title of Lord Stanley of Preston, died suddenly here Sunday.

The late Frederick Arthur Stanley was the sixteenth Earl of Derby. He was born January 15, 1841, the second son of the 14th Earl of Derby. He was educated at Eton and entered the army in 1863, retiring in 1882 with the rank of captain in the Grenadier Guards. He was then elected to Parliament for Preston and sat for the constituency and for North Lancashire until 1888, when he was created Baron Stanley of Preston and entered the House of Lords.

THE NEW EARL.
The new Earl of Derby, like his father, has seen service in the army, and has also served his country in a ministerial position. He was at one time a lieutenant in the Grenadier Guards, and later a captain in the 10th Hussars, and was twice mentioned in despatches. He was financial secretary to the War Office from 1900 to 1902 and was later promoted to the rank of major-general in 1905. He was married in 1889 to Lady Alice Montagu, daughter of the seventh Earl of Manchester, and had three sons and two daughters. He has a younger son, Lord Stanley, who is a captain in the 10th Hussars, and a daughter, Lady Stanley, who is married to the Hon. George Stanley, who is a captain in the 10th Hussars, and is the son of the late Lord Stanley of Preston.

LEWISTON HAS BAD FIRE

LEWISTON, Me., June 16.—Fire which started tonight in the basement of Fogg and Merrick, harness and shoe store, has done a damage to the extent of $15,000. There is partial insurance. Other losers were F. H. White and J. F. Boothby, who owned the building which was badly gutted. A. H. Mears, confectionery store, and Mrs. E. A. Shelton, boarding house, were also considerably damaged. The fire is believed to have started from a defective gas jet.

MAN MAY HOVER LIKE THE EAGLE

PARIS, June 16.—Prof. Marie Depreux, in a paper which he read before the Academy of Sciences, announced that he had solved the problem of the stationary hovering in the air of a body perfectly free and heavier than air, thus imitating the power of eagles, vultures and other birds, which are able to remain in the air and ascend and descend without beating their wings. Depreux offered to repeat the experiment whenever anyone wanted to see it.

AUSTRALIA'S WEALTH IN SHEEP

The greatest industry of Australia is also the most important. It is the raising of the wool, but also in part of course for the meat. Australia now ranks second among the great sheep raising countries. Argentina being first with 92,000,000 sheep, Australia second with 72,000,000, and Russia third, with 70,000,000. But a few years ago Australia was first, possessing no less than 105,260,000 head of sheep. That was in 1883. Prolonged drought has since caused the destruction of many millions of Australian sheep, but since 1902 there has been an annual gain. Yet these sheep were not indigenous to Australia. They were first introduced in 1797, being of the Spanish merino species.

THE RIVALRY

"My work," remarked the bald-headed dentist, "is so painful that my patients often fall asleep in the chair while I am operating."

"Hum! That's nothing," retorted his rival. "My patients nearly all insist on having their pictures taken while I am at work in order to catch the expression of delight on their faces."—London Express.

Mary Emerson and Her Company.
Mary Emerson and her company repeated the successful performance of their play, "The Old Maid," at the Grand Opera House last night before a large audience, and an audience that was most enthusiastic in its reception of the play. The performance of the play, with her engaging personality and fine voice as portrayed by Miss Emerson, with her many different roles of the part, has been most elaborate and the production and costumes have been most elaborate and the attention to detail has been particularly gratifying. Beginning with tonight's performance, another of Miss Emerson's plays, "The Old Maid," will be presented. Like "The Old Maid," it is a romantic comedy play, with the scenes laid in England. A PURITY MOVEMENT TO CLEAN UP CHICAGO

Chicago Being Carried on Against Disorderly Resorts and Liquor Selling.

CHICAGO, June 16.—A campaign is being waged against the liquor traffic in Chicago, and the city is being carried on against disorderly resorts, and ultimately to drive these places out of Chicago, was the program of the purity movement. The league has investigated ninety-five or thirty of the keepest, returned by the grand jury today. Two indictments are sought against each proprietor, one for the illegal sale of liquor and one for maintaining a disorderly house. The evidence against these places, some of which are in the segregated district, was secured by detectives of the Law and Order League. The grand jury returned twenty-five indictments against twenty-five or thirty of the keepest, returned by the grand jury today. Beautiful Scenery at Nickel

The rain yesterday played havoc with the Nickel's afternoon's attendance, but at night large crowds of ladies and gentlemen attended the big house and enjoyed the lengthy programme to the full. Today a list of pictures, especially of this first act, figured later in the evening. The scenery was shown, including "An Athletic Woman," a whole reel of pathé film, which is the day's routine of physical exercises of a fair Parisienne who believes the shortest road to beauty and robust health is in the fresh air. Aside from the vein of pure social comedy running through the picture, some most exquisite natural scenery at the Riviera, Malo, Marseilles and in the Pyrenees chain of mountains between France and Spain are shown. Anti-Hair Power are comedies that will tickle the laughables of the most sedate onlooker. Mr. Chalmers will tonight deliver the song "By the Old Oaken Bucket, Louise," and Miss Wren will sing "Trading Smiles" for the last time. New songs Thursday.

Crowds at the Princess

Despite the bad weather last night the Princess Theatre was crowded from the opening hour until the commencement of the last show, and every one went away satisfied. For today and Thursday they have an exceptionally strong bill to place before the public. Where is My Prisoner, one big long laugh, a burglar being caught in the act of stealing some valuables hidden in a trunk, the owner of the house, three 1899 should be adjusted, and I recommend the adoption of the following plan: The adoption of a new rate of entry for such portion of the members, the rate to be a combination of the present rates of premium for insurance carried by such members as the amount the member has been paying would pay for on a basis of the present rate, with the present rate for attained age for the balance of insurance now carried by such member.

EARLY NORTHWEST VOYAGES

Beginning with the American discovery of John Cabot in 1497, the search for the Northwest passage was for many years the object of rival expeditions from Denmark, England, France and Portugal. It was Frobenius, however, who in 1578 first gave a distinct national character to the quest. John Davis, of Davis strait, followed in 1585, and then, in 1612, came the illustrious and hapless Henry Hudson, whose motto was that explorers should "achieve what they had undertaken or else give reasons wherefore it would not be." The search for the Atlantic side coast for two centuries was with the voyage of a great seaman, William Baffin, who in a tiny boat of fifty-five tons, with a misadventured equipment, his unadorned heart, attained in 1616 the highest north in the western hemisphere, 77 degrees 45 minutes N., and discovered three radiating sounds, Jones, Smith and Lancaster, the last being the eastern strait in the log south, passage—A. W. Greely in 1857.

Married and Forsaken at the Unique

Telling of how a young girl is persuaded to go on the stage against her father's wishes by a young man who falls violently in love with her, and whose afterword secretly marries her, is the story of the Unique. All goes well until the groom's love suddenly cools and the young wife is forced to go into the streets begging. Her strength failing her, she finally wanders near her father's home, where she falls exhausted in the snow and where she is found and forgiven by her parents.
