

INSPECTOR DEW'S EVIDENCE... BELLE ELMORE... CRIPPEN INQUEST... Evidence Which Has Already Been Accumulated Against Crippen—London Newspaper's Report of Testimony Given by Witness at Inquest on July 18.

The London Standard publishes the following report of the inquest in the Crippen case, held in London on July 18th.

The inquest was opened at the Inslington Coroner's Court yesterday on the remains which were found on July 13 in the cellar at 39 Hilldrop Crescent, and are believed to be those of Mrs. Crippen, otherwise known as Belle Elmore.

The coroner said that he had not a great deal of evidence to place before the jury, but so far the husband had not been arrested. The inquest would probably have to be adjourned in order to ascertain if there was any trace of poisoning.

Suspects of Mrs. Crippen's Friends. The first witness called was Mr. John Edward Nash, theatrical manager of Parkmansons, Vauxhall Park, who said that he and his wife, Miss Lil Hawthorne, were great friends of Belle Elmore.

The coroner.—When did you see her last?—They had dinner at our house on January 13. That was the last time I saw her alive.

At Hilldrop Crescent. "He readily agreed and said I was quite welcome to go to the house. We proceeded to 39 Hilldrop Crescent and before I went into the house...

The coroner.—Did he give particulars of the death?—He gave it out at first that she died in Los Angeles. When I questioned him he said: "Oh, no; she died in some little town near San Francisco."

The coroner.—His answers were unsatisfactory?—Yes—when a man can't tell where his wife had died, made up my mind to visit Scotland Yard at once.

Chief Inspector Walter Dew, of New Scotland Yard, was the next witness. He said: "On June 30 last I saw Mr. Nash with Sergeant Mitchell, and he then made a statement to me which was put in writing, with Sergeant Mitchell I then made exhaustive inman flesh. We had to cease our labor for a time on account of the horrible smell. On digging further we came across another portion, and so we went further. I sent for the divisional sergeant, Dr. Marshall, and let him see them. I procured other officers from the nearest police station, Kentish Town, and caused the hole to be dug right under this place. We found a large quantity of human flesh.

The witness went on to say that no head was found and no hands or feet. There was a quantity of hair, mixed with the mould and clay. He drew the deduction that the idea was to destroy the whole of the identity of the person murdered. He continued: "I found also a portion of female hair."

Dr. Thomas Marshall, divisional police surgeon, who was next called, said he went to the house on Wednesday evening and saw the human remains. They were without bones.

Inspector Dew added that the police would be glad of any assistance. Police Surgeon's Evidence. Dr. Thomas Marshall, divisional police surgeon, who was next called, said he went to the house on Wednesday evening and saw the human remains.

Crippen and the Typist. Mr. Paul Martinetti, described as a retired theatrical artist, living at King Edward's Mansions, Shaftesbury Avenue, said he had known Dr. and Mrs. Crippen for about one year.

The letter being produced, the coroner said that it was from Crippen to a friend, and that he was writing to him about the furniture.

The inspector to the witness.—You say me on Monday morning when I called at Albion House and gave me this letter. At that time you said nothing about buying a suit of clothes on Saturday.

On the Wednesday, when we were examining the floor in the passage leading to the cellar, I said: "We will have a more minute examination of this cellar." Sergeant Mitchell and I accordingly cleared all the dust off the cellar floor, which was brick, and got some small iron instruments.

The Remains Discovered. "On the Wednesday, when we were examining the floor in the passage leading to the cellar, I said: "We will have a more minute examination of this cellar." Sergeant Mitchell and I accordingly cleared all the dust off the cellar floor, which was brick, and got some small iron instruments.

Slight Fire on St. James Street. A fire alarm was rung in from box 46 about 6.30 o'clock last night for a small blaze in the wooden house 202-204 St. James street, owned by Mrs. Stubbs and the family of Wm. Wetmore, who are at present in the city.

FIVE BANDS READY FOR MONDAY'S CONCERT... Plans for Big Musical Evening for Campbellton Fire Sufferers Well Under Way—Committees in Charge.

The Polymorphians were busy all yesterday getting things ready to hold their monster band concert and musical evening in King Square next Monday night, a big success. At last evening's committee meeting in the Victoria Bowling Academy, good reports of progress were given by all the committees.

The following are the members of the committees which are planning the affair: Band Committee.—C. Nevins, Wm. Wallace, R. J. Wilkins, with representatives from each of the performing bands.

Press Committee.—Mayor Frink, E. B. Stockford, G. A. Ross, C. Nevins, R. J. Armstrong, and representatives from each of the city papers.

ALL MANUFACTURERS ASKED TO BE PRESENT... Meeting Will be Held in Board of Trade Rooms This Afternoon to Gather Data for Technical Commission.

The following self explanatory letter is being sent out by the secretary of the board of trade to local manufacturers.

Dear Sir:—One of your greatest difficulties today as a manufacturer in St. John, is that you cannot get your skilled labor you require for your business.

NEW BRUNSWICK MAN WON SUCCESS ABROAD. Returning from Denver, Colorado, to spend his vacation at his former home near Norton, one of New Brunswick's successful young men in the person of G. E. Sherwood, M. A., passed through the city last evening.

Terms of Sale.—The purchaser shall be required to deposit with the Receiver of Taxes, at time of sale, a sum of money equal to the amount of the Taxes and Water Rates for which the said Real Estate is advertised to be sold.

change to form an idea of the country, but what I have seen of Canada is not so bad. Mr. Henderson is an American who has tired of Uncle Sam and wishes to test his chances in New Brunswick.

Notice of Sale of Real Estate. PUBLIC NOTICE is hereby given, that the parcels of real estate hereinafter mentioned, and more particularly described in a schedule filed in my office, on the first day of August, 1910, will be sold by me at City Hall in the City of Saint John, on Thursday, the first day of September, 1910, at 10.30 o'clock in the forenoon, upon a claim by the City of Saint John for taxes and assessments due, as detailed in such schedule.

Table with columns: Schedule No., Ward No., Part Lot No., Assessment or Taxed Present, Amount Claim, Nature of Claim. Lists various properties and owners for sale.

change to form an idea of the country, but what I have seen of Canada is not so bad. Mr. Henderson is an American who has tired of Uncle Sam and wishes to test his chances in New Brunswick.