

LEGISLATURE REJECTS THE AMENDMENT

Advocating Increase in Stumpage and Adopts the Address As Moved.

LACK OF DECORUM IN THE PROCEEDINGS

Causes Mr. Speaker to Address the Members on the Matter, With a Request to Mend Their Ways.

Hon. Mr. Smith submitted the annual report of the Department of Lands and Mines.

Mr. Baxter introduced bills to amend the Act Relating to Trinity Church, St. John, and to provide police protection for the County of St. John. Mr. Campbell introduced a bill to enable the Municipality of St. John to secure sites for industrial purposes.

Mr. Potts introduced bills relating to rates and taxes in the Parish of Lancaster and to the valuation for assessment purposes of the Porcupine Company, Ltd.

Mr. Smith (Charlotte) introduced a bill to authorize the Milltown Town Council to fix the valuation of the property of the Canadian Cottons, Ltd., for assessment purposes.

Mr. Burchill introduced bills relating to the Barnaby River Boom Company and to amend the act relating to the Northwest Boom Company.

The Business of the House.

Hon. Mr. Speaker said that there had been some criticism made to the effect that the proceedings of the House during the present session had been more or less irregular. He was aware that the Hon. Premier in his address had discussed matters apart from the amendment to which, under the rules of the House, he should have confined himself. He (the Speaker) had felt that by allowing some latitude it would be the means of saving the time of the House. It was not his intention to show any favors, as one member after another had been a good plan for them to read the name. It was impossible for the Speaker to maintain the dignity of the House unless members were conversant with him. Were they to deprive it of its dignity the proceedings would be more in the nature of a country fair. He proposed to discharge his duty fairly and would not knowingly show partiality to any man. But to do that he must insist on better order being observed. He would endeavor to suppress the practice of heckling and interrupting speakers would cease. Interruption should only be made with the consent of the member assigned to the House, but that rule was frequently violated. He did not wish to be arbitrary, but he did wish the proceedings of the House to be carried on in a dignified manner, and trusted all hon. members would give him their assistance.

The debate on the address was resumed by Hon. Mr. Veniot, who was followed by Mr. B. F. Smith.

At the close of the latter's remarks Mr. Peck asked Hon. Mr. Speaker for a ruling as to whether Crown Land licenses could vote on the amendment under rule 28.

Hon. Mr. Speaker—"You have a right to vote."

The amendment was put and a division called for. The amendment was declared lost on the following vote:

Yeas—Messrs. Young, Thibault, Murray (Kings), Baxter, Smith (Charlotte), Campbell, Potts, Crockett, Pinder, Sutton, Smith (Charlotte), Jones, Carson, Hunter—14.

Nays—Hon. Mr. Foster, Hon. Mr. Byrne, Hon. Mr. Smith, Hon. Mr. Veniot, Hon. Mr. Murray, Hon. Mr. Tweeddale, Hon. Mr. Robinson, Hon. Mr. Dugal, Messrs. Magee, Burchill, McGrath, Dyer, Leblanc, Michaud, Legere (Gloucester), King, Messers. Smith (Sunbury), Melanson, Borsara, Robitaille, Legere (Westmorland), Peck, Smith (Albert)—24.

The address was adopted on the same vote, except that Messrs. Smith and Peck, who voted against the amendment, made the yeas 22, nays 16.

Mr. Speaker named Mr. Magee, Mr. Melanson and Hon. Mr. Tweeddale a committee to present the address to His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor. The House adjourned at 6:05.

KAPP'S REIGN HAS COME TO AN END

The Junker Attempt to Regain Control of Affairs Has Ended in Complete Failure.

Berlin, March 17.—(By the Associated Press.)—After holding the reins of power for less than a year, Dr. Wolfgang Kapp, the self-appointed chancellor and dictator, has retired from office and control. He resigned today, and an official communication explained that the Chancellor considered his mission fulfilled when the old government decided to meet the most essential demands addressed to it. He was also moved to this action by the extreme necessity of the Fatherland, which demanded union against the dangers of Bolshevism.

The real circumstances of Kapp's retirement are still shrouded in mystery. An important factor undoubtedly is to be found in the deliberations of the under secretaries and imperial council yesterday, when Major General Von Luetwitz attended.

The views of this conference were that both Kapp and Von Luetwitz withdraw in order to terminate an intolerable position.

Von Luetwitz agreed to this, but when he returned to the Chancellor he allowed himself to be persuaded to change his mind and retain office. To him has been delegated the executive power by the former revolutionary chancellor and it is difficult to say what will happen now that Von Luetwitz remains the military dictator at Berlin.

In conference with the Foreign correspondents yesterday Kapp's press chief made play with the Bolshevist danger. In a second conference, an attempt was made to conceal the fact that the Berlin Government was likely to be of only short duration.

No Political Prestige.

Although the general strike dealt this government a mortal blow, the decisive fact is that Kapp and his supporters had no political prestige, their government being built only on machine guns. The statement made at this conference gave a strange impression and caused a suspicion that the return of the old government was preliminary to the announcement of retreat.

The chief of the press bureau warned the correspondents against showing themselves in the streets, as a communist revolt was expected hourly. That any kind of compromise is out of the question now is undoubted.

That the government is strongly entrenched at Stuttgart, where, according to semi-official advice, the council of the Empire met, is a fact which has not been denied.

Frightened Berliners last night were asking: "The white or red terror, which?" This was in consequence of an official announcement that the Reds were planning rising and calling upon the people to save the country from Bolshevism.

Government officials said to the Associated Press: "We fear bloodshed tonight; it is difficult for us to hold the Reichstag."

In preparation for the expected rising officials camped in their offices all night.

An influential member of the government talking with the correspondent Tuesday, insisted upon the urgency of suppressing the strike movement and communist opposition. He added: "This is on the side of the Communists and every hour and we let slip means strong opposition."

Kapp's Resignation.

Berlin, March 17.—(By the Associated Press.)—The resignation of Chancellor Kapp and his chief officials is confirmed by the following official announcement: "General provisional government has retired from office. The object of bringing about internal peace, the resignation of which on Saturday, led to the establishment of the Kapp government, has been fulfilled and retired, resigning the executive power again into the hands of the military commander in chief."

In this he is moved by the conviction of the extreme necessity of the Fatherland, which demands solid union of all against the annihilating dangers of Bolshevism."

To Be Arrested.

Paris, March 17.—Orders for the arrest of Wolfgang Kapp, who assumed control of German governmental affairs in Berlin last Saturday; General Von Luetwitz, his military lieutenant and other leaders in the reactionary revolt, were issued by Gustav Noske, Minister of Defense of the Ebert Government last night, according to a Zurich dispatch to the "Petit Parisien."

Committed for Trial

Toronto, Ont., Mar. 17.—Frank Larson, farmer of Cooksville, Ont., this afternoon at Cooksville, was charged with the murder of his brother-in-law, James Davidson, on March 3rd last, and committed for trial. He was taken back to the jail at Brampton, where he had been in custody since the tragedy.

The widow of James Davidson testified to the request that, so far as she knew, there was no quarrel between her husband and Frank Larson.

A Joke on "Doc."

The Red Cross doctor was examining a doghouse who had been badly wounded in both hands.

The boy surveyed his injured members ruefully.

"Do you think I'll be able to play the piano when I get well?" he asked.

"Certainly you'll be able to play the piano," said the doctor emphatically.

"That's funny," remarked the soldier. "I never could play one before."

Street Improvement Committee Session

Members and Other Citizens Favorable to the Abutters' Tax Assembled Last Evening—Invite Committee of Those Opposed to Attend Meeting on Saturday.

A meeting was called last evening in the Board of Trade rooms of the members of the Street Improvement Committee, and all citizens favorable to the Abutters' Tax. It was the general opinion of those present that the public had been misled as to the committee of seventeen, and a wrong impression produced. They wished it known that they were not a "self-appointed" body, nor was it the desire of the "Abutters' Tax" to run the town. They came into being at a joint meeting of the Board of Trade and Rotary Club which was attended by members of the Commercial Club, and they were appointed by the bodies to work with the mayor in support of the bill, such action was supported by a standing vote of the meeting with but three dissenting voices, and all three were residents of Douglas avenue.

When the meeting was called to order the proposed paying bill to be introduced and discussed by section. Several sections came in for criticism and it was suggested that some alterations be made.

W. P. Burditt was of the opinion that the bill should be presented with a clause stating that it should not be made law until a plebiscite was first taken.

Miles Agar said that he had expected opposition from the first from those who knew that the paving of the streets which they were in favor of for this season. In view of the stand they were taking he felt that a plebiscite should be taken.

G. J. Waverly suggested that a committee of those opposed to the bill be appointed to meet those in favor of the bill and by discussion a compromise might be effected.

R. E. Armstrong was of the opinion that the majority of those opposed to the bill were unaware that the abutters tax factored in the leading cities of Canada and the United States.

Miles Agar said he thought a great many opposed to the tax did not understand it clearly, if a pavement was laid on a street, the cost of the surface of fifteen years would be paid for by the abutters.

Dr. Spangher told of a house with a frontage of three hundred feet, two hundred of which he bought to prevent a modern apartment house being built in his neighborhood. The man was vigorously opposed to the tax.

W. P. Burditt said that speaking of Douglas avenue as a trunk road for the city was a mistake. Here they had a place of streets, it was fine thread laid, fitting the body, tightly, giving emphasis thus to the soft fullness below.

Another example of this is in gray satin, with black bands at the bottom, the sides also being fitted. A collar that buttons high, close to the neck, with sequined or beaded trim, and a lace-trimmed blouse of camel-colored chiffon. The manner in which the four-piece suit below the waist is styled is characteristic of the future, gathered, tucked in place, by which the fullness is often gained.

The entire waist, except for the bottom, is in place of sleeves, is of fine thread lace, fitting the body, tightly, giving emphasis thus to the soft fullness below.

Black and white embroidery at sides.

Some of the up-to-date decorations conceal the heating radiators in rooms, now, with decorative grills and lattices that are painted to match the woodwork, whether that be white, cream, or some of the new green, blue, or yellow, much in evidence with up-to-date color schemes.

For the children's room nursery rhyme cretunes are new for upholstered furniture.

A new fad for color schemes in bedrooms is to select a flower and carry out the colors of the different parts of the flower. A charming effect for example, can be secured by founding a color scheme on a red ragged robin. The colors used in such a room would be red, white, yellow, the red crimson, the yellow of the center and the green of the leaves. Other pretty effects can be worked out from such flowers as the violet, daisy, water lily or black-eyed Susan. Flowered cretunes will help out a great deal.

Rush are not seen glided. Any home woman who likes to paint can glaze here to be in the latest style.

Hand blocked English cretunes and prints are used both for draperies and upholstery pieces of period furniture.

Copies of antique trinket boxes are the most up-to-date bric-a-brac for the drawing room just now.

Telephone sets now include a stand and a low backed Windsor chair.

Batik, Chinese, Oriental and futuristic designs are seen on cretunes, over print and shadow print draperies.

W. C. T. U. PARLOR MEETING

A parlor meeting of the W. C. T. U. was held last evening at the home of the president, Mrs. David Hipwell, King street, East. Mrs. Joseph Seymour was in charge of the program which included Scripture Readings by Mrs. Seymour, prayer led by Mrs. W. H. Humphrey, reading, Mrs. Christie, solos, Miss Stella Bards, readings, Norman Macmillan, piano solo, Stella Fox, reading, Mrs. Foxham, reading, Mrs. W. H. BLOUSES OVER BELT LINE OF THE SKIRT

Ribbon Trimmings in Again After French Style, Ornamented With Knots.

EMBROIDERY AT THE SIDE

Rose a Favorite Color in Cottons—Cream Lace Chiffon Make up a Very Beautiful Blouse.

In a recent display of new blouses from leading designers, many of the models still came down over the belt-line of the skirt, with none of them of any great length. The models also wore sleeves that are short, though there are numbers in which they fall as in "old times" to the wrist. They have a tendency to flare below the waistline, although as yet it is not a definite feature. The models are gathered at the change from crinoline to heathered flounces on the French dresses.

Colors and fabrics are still varied, including crepe de chine, satin, Georgette, chiffon and some attractive numbers in cotton voile.

Rose is the color exploited in the cottons. A pale rose voile, for example, is interesting because of its double arched collar, which is a collarless square neck, as well as for the panel of blue embroidery in mercedized thread, down the back and down the shoulder line of the sleeves, which, incidentally, are set in.

Ribbon Trimmings Again.

Another combines white with the rose, the dark color in a fold about the bottom. It is repeated in crepe de chine, folded in flat-pressed ribbon-like streamers, after the French penchant for ribbon trimming, which finds expression in other models. Here they run downwards from the shoulders, with groups of little loops at the bottom in the midst of French knot embroidery.

Some blouses with sheer chiffon both in pale flesh, make an attractive tuck-in blouse, the ribbons running upward from the waistline between two layers of chiffon. One is called black to Toronto. Mr. Kerr spoke on the same of the Grand Lodge, Councillor Golding then proposed the Grand L. O. B. A. coupled with Mrs. Akers' name and "For she's a jolly good fellow" was sung. Mrs. Akers told of the Provincial Memorial Home for Children and asked for support in this undertaking which she said is a duty.

"The Provincial L. O. A." was proposed by Mrs. Hayes of Moncton, responded to by Mrs. Miles Flinders of Fredericton. "Our Guests," proposed by Mrs. C. E. Belyea of Fairville, was responded to by Dr. James Manning, President of the Provincial Memorial Home for Children.

Mrs. Whyte of Moncton, proposed "Our Hostesses" and Rev. W. R. Robinson thanked the friends for assistance and asked all present to spread news of the work of the Memorial Home throughout the Province.
