Particulars of Sad Drowning of St. John People at Florida Boat Had Capsized.

Particulars of the drowning of Captain G. W. Peck, his wife and daughter at Dry Tortugas (Fla.), on Saturday last are to the effect that the captain and his family, in company with several American naval men, went for a boat sail. A sudden squall struck the boat, which at once capsized.

SURVEY ON STEAMER FLORENCE IS HELD.

Another and More Complete Examination Will Be Made Today.

The furnace line steamer Florence, which arrived in port Wednesday night with her fore peak full of water, having run ashore on the Yellow Ledges off Grand Manan Island, was placed in Rodney's slip Thursday for examination by the port-wardens, Capt. Kennedy and Capt. Kennedy.

The survey showed that A and B plates were bent and broken on both sides of the steamer. For a better examination the ship will, early this morning, be taken to the Kennedy slip near the I. C. R. pier.

It is stated that the ship's fore foot and about fifteen feet of the keel is under water. The plates are broken clear, and while Mr. Thomson, the agent, thinks that repairs may be made at this port so that the steamer can resume her voyage to London, it is thought that probably the ship may yet have to go on the Halifax dry dock for repairs. Final arrangements will not be made, however, until after the survey today and matters regarding the loading of the steamer are delayed until it is ascertained whether the ship can be repaired here or not.

Those on board the ship at the time of the accident say that the Florence was only fouling her way through a dense fog when she bumped on to the rocks. The rocks caught the ship hard about the fore foot and held her as if she was anchored, so the engines' work at full speed astern were fruitless. It was about three-quarters of an hour before the flood tide floated the steamer enough to get her clear of the rocks, and then with the fore peak full of water she steamed along her voyage to St. John.

SUDDEN DEATH.

Charles A. Ganong, of Springfield, Kings county, died very suddenly early Wednesday evening at the residence of his brother, S. H. Ganong, Adelaide road. About 2:30 o'clock he reached the city, having driven in from Springfield, and went directly to his brother's home. He appeared to be in his usual good health. He had dinner, and after conversing for a short time went over to the city. A few hours later he was carried into the house in a dying condition.

Monstiasis of the brain was the cause of death, and Dr. Roberts, who was summoned, said that never in his experience of the disease had he seen such an example of swift development. Mr. Ganong was taken ill while returning by street car to the North End. He was helped into N. C. Scott's store, but so sudden was the attack that even then he was practically in a dying state.

Mr. Ganong is survived by his wife and six children. The sons are Frank, of Boston, and Arthur, of Springfield (N. B.). There are three daughters also dwelling at home, and another daughter is a resident of Hampton.

Boulah Camp Grounds Open Till Sept. 1.

Boulah Camp, July 12—The camp meetings are over. The executive have requested Rev. J. H. Coy, of Woodstock, to remain on the grounds until Sept. 1. The dormitory rooms will be open to rent to suitable persons until that date. A large number of cottagers are on the grounds. Services will continue on the Sabbath every morning and evening, and twice during the week. The grounds are exceedingly beautiful, and it is a good place for rest of body and mind.

ORANGEMEN OBSERVE THE 12TH IN GOOD STYLE

Great Crowd Went from Here to Gagetown, But Got Fogbound on Return Trip.

Westernport County L. O. A. Turnout Big at Dorchester—Charlotte County Men Observe the Day at St. Andrews.

A thoroughly tired-out crowd landed from the Victoria at Indiantown at 5 o'clock yesterday morning. They had been on Grand Bay since midnight and had suffered all the inconveniences arising from that situation. Everyone, however, was good natured. One of the chief features of the night was the lack of drinking water, which with so many women and children added, was serious enough. A lady with a five-year-old girl asked a gentleman if he could provide some water for a little one and he tried all the faucets, but in vain. The members of the committee who must be said, left no stone unturned to get some water for a little one and he tried all the faucets, but in vain.

The members of the committee who had the arrangements in charge were T. W. Morrison, H. Kilpatrick, Robert Hamilton, H. Sillit, T. J. Corbett, J. McCallum, of Dominion No. 14; James H. Peck, R. F. Goodrich, W. B. Wallace, E. S. Henniger, George Barle, James Shill, George Jenkins, District Lodge; C. E. Belys, S. Ferguson, True Blue, Charlton; George Jenkins, D. M. chairman; H. Sillit, secretary; R. F. Goodrich, treasurer.

The excursion. There were about 600 people on the Victoria when she left her wharf at Indiantown Tuesday morning for Gagetown with the united Orange outing. The weather then was foggy, but as the boat went up the river it gradually cleared, till when Gagetown was reached the sun was shining brightly. The Boys' Brigade band played selections at intervals and the steamer's piano was kept going the whole time on the way up. Contingents from the Orange Lodges of Kingston and Westfield boarded the boat.

Gagetown was reached about 1 o'clock and the brethren formed in line, the home lodges forming up in single file on each side as a guard of honor to the visitors. There were about 50 men in line and they marched to the Court House, the inspiring strains of the "Protestant Boys," furnished by the Boys' Brigade band.

John R. Dunn, P. G. M., of Quebec county, very briefly addressed the visitors, welcoming them to Gagetown in the name of the home lodges and expressing the hope they would be kept going the whole and most enjoyable they had had so far. A first-class dinner was then partaken of in the Court House.

After the dinner was partaken of long after the Orange men returned to their homes. The parade was rather funny. A party of men from St. John tried to set up a wheel of fortune, and the Sheriff, of Queens county, and the Sheriff, of Kings county, and the men were rather derisive at his expense, insisting on their purpose and laughing at him. A threat of arrest, however, soon put an end to the matter, as they had no license.

Graves Dug. Shortly after 3 o'clock the parade again left and marched to the churchyard, where the graves of Hon. H. Gilbert, M. P., grand master of New Brunswick, P. P., grand master of New Brunswick, who died in 1894, and James F. Fleming, a few other brethren, who are buried there, were decorated with flowers.

The service was a very impressive one, the band playing "The Church's Last Call," while the Orangemen stood round the graves with bare heads. The following was the order of the procession, which was marshaled by H. Sillit: Band. Royal Black Knights. Grand Lodges. Grand Lodges. District Lodges. United Empire Lodge No. 112. Nerepis Heroes No. 4. No Surrender Lodge No. 18.

After the decoration of the graves there was a short parade through the village. On returning to the grounds James Barrett photographed the members of the order in different groups. In the Court House there was not a great deal of speaking indulged in, but the fact that Queens county had a large number of Orangemen was noted and on the highly successful manner in which the programme had been carried out. He referred to the merits of the Orange order insisting that what the members demanded for themselves they were equally ready to demand for others. O. M., of Queens county. The chairman very briefly thanked the audience for their attention, after which a plentiful supper was served.

Coming Home. The return from Gagetown was not made till 9 o'clock, and in the interval the Boys' Brigade Band gave an excellent concert on the wharf. The program was generally expressed among the excursionists that for so young an organization the band is an excellent one.

The fog which had been hanging over the river increased to such an extent that when South Bay was reached about midnight the captain found it necessary to anchor till daylight. Everyone passed the time away as best he could; some sang, while others played the piano and the members of the band tuned up their instruments to pleasing airs. The greater part of the excursion, however, were tired out and wanted to sleep, and soon every place where one could stretch out was occupied. A great many slept crumpled on the chairs and sofas, and some were lying on the ground.

THE PRINCESS ROYAL GOLD MINES (LIMITED)

Company's Mineral Areas on Princess Royal Island, British Columbia, Consisting of 83.9 Acres—Crown Granted.

STOCK FOR SALE--DIVIDENDS GUARANTEED

There are two remarkably fine ledges or veins, parallel to one another, a distance of 200 feet apart, running right through all the Company's mineral claims. The larger vein, from six to eight feet in width, carries ore running from $15 to $20 per ton. The smaller vein from which the shipments have been made has an average of from two to three feet, and is very much richer—THE ORE RUNNING FROM $60 to $82 PER TON. Both are well defined, true fissure veins, and of evidence of great continuity.

The shipments of ore from the smaller, or high grade ledge, have averaged slightly OVER $100 TO THE TON, of gold, silver and copper—principally gold. The reports of the mining engineers who have examined the Princess Royal property, testifying to the unusually high gold values in the ore, and the remarkable evidence of great continuity.
