PROVINCIAL LAW CHANGES

After all the fuss and fury of an almost record-breaking session of the Ontario Legislature the average man on the street remains to a surprising extent unaffected as a result of almost three months of legislating. If he commits B.O.T.A. he can, as a result of a last session enactment, appeal to a County Court, instead of a High Court Judge; if he wants to get married he will have to get his license from a municipal clerk instead of a jeweller; if he has children they can not, as a result of the Legislature's verdict, work in a factory until the age of 16, and if he has a daughter working in a factory she must now, under certain conditions, be supplied with seating accommodation. He was, for a few days, intensely interested in a proposal to see that he was fairly treated with regard to the rent that he was to pay in future, but, somehow, that particular item did not "pan out." The session opened on January 25th and closed Saturday morning at 5 o'clock after a session of 18 hours.

The dying hours of the session were charged with more interest than has been packed into any day's sittings throughout the fourteen weeks preceding. Right on top of the fight over the Burnaby matter the House ran into a two-hour debate on rural hydro distribution, and just at the end when the members were locking their desks the Premier precipitated a twenty-minute fight by announcing a decision of the Government to withhold all timber licenses from the Shevlin-Clarke Company until the company agreed to the terms set down by the Government.

There were 262 bills introduced to the House. Of all the items of legislation probably that relating to rural hydro extension most widely affects the interests of the people of Ontario. Under its terms the Province, in an effort to get power to the farms, will pay one-third of the previously prohibitory cost of constructing transmission lines into rural sections.

SPRAYING OF POTATOES

Absolutely Necessary to Prevent Blight and Rot.

How to Fight These Fungus Enemies
—Directions for Spraying—Must Be Timely and Be Thoroughly Done.

(Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)

Potatoes are sprayed to prevent such fungus diseases as Early Blight and Late Blight and Rot. Efficient spraying depends upon an understanding and appreciation of what fungus diseases are.

Fungus diseases are caused by plants known as fungi. These plants, unlike ordinary flowering plants, have no green coloring matter (chlorophyll), and are unable therefore to manufacture their own food. All their nourishment must be obtained from decaying animal or vegetable remains or from living animals or plants. Those fungi which derive their nourishment from living plants injure them in so doing in various ways, and thus give rise to what are known as fungus diseases.

Late Blight and Rot is the most destructive disease of potatoes in Ontario. In wet seasons it frequently destroys a very large proportion of the crop and causes a loss of many thousands of dollars to the farmers of the province. This is to a large extent a needless loss, for Late Blight and Rot can be prevented by timely, thorough and intelligent spraying with Bordeaux mixture. This has been proven by numerous field experiments both in this country and the United States. Spraying every year is an insurance. Can you afford to neglect it?

Directions for Spraying.—Spray with Bordeaux mixture, strength 4 to 6 pounds of copper sulphate (blue-stone) and 4 pounds of lime to 40 gallons (imperial) of water. Commence spraying with Bordeaux throughout the season. Forty to 100 gallons of the Bordeaux mixture will be required for each application, the amount to be used depending upon the size of the plants. Take special care to see that the spraying is very thoroughly done if the weather is at all damp about the 15th of July, as Blight often begins at this time. Add a poison when necessary for Potato Beetles—arsenate of lead paste 3½ pounds to each 40 gallons of the liquid spray or Paris green 2 pounds to 40 gallons or a mixture of 2 pounds of arsenate of lead paste and 1 pound of Paris green to 40 gallons. From three to seven applications should be made, depending upon the season; the wetter the weather the larger the number. Do not put off spraying because it looks like rain. If the spray is on the plants half an hour before the rain comes it will be dry and sufficient of it will stick to prevent infection, which takes place during or soon after rain. Spraying as described above should prevent not only Late Blight and Rot but also Early Blight and Potato Beetles. For Late Blight and Rot it is not necessary to commence spraying until about the 10th of July, but in Ontario it is usually advisable to spray for all three.

A hand pump barrel sprayer can be used for small lots of potatoes. Most men who grow a considerable acreage of potatoes consider that a power potato sprayer is a good investment. The best results from spraying are obtained with machines fitted with joint attachments so as to insure covering both surfaces of the leaves at each spraying. Efficient spraying of potatoes depends:

1. Upon the use of the proper fungicide. Bordeaux mixture has so far proved to be the only satisfactory spray mixture for potato diseases.

2. Upon timely and repeated spraying. Spraying should be commenced when the plants are from six to eight inches high, and repeated at intervals of from a week to ten days throughout the growing season. From three to seven applications will be the number depending upon the weather, the wetter the weather the more frequent the spraying.

3. Upon the liberal use of Bordeaux mixture. Thorough spraying can only be done when sufficient of the spray mixture is used. From 50 to 150 gallons of Bordeaux mixture should be used per acre at each application. When the plants are large not less than 100 gallons per acre should be applied.

4. Upon thorough spraying, which means the covering of every portion of the plant.

5. Upon spraying before rather than after prolonged rainy periods. Infection of the plants takes place during or soon after rain. Therefore it is of the utmost importance to have the spray mixture on the plants when the rain comes. If the spraying is completed half an hour before rain sufficient of the Bordeaux will stick to prevent infection. If the spraying is left until after prolonged rain infection will take place before the Bordeaux can be applied to the plants. Putting off spraying because it looks like rain is one of the most frequent causes of failure to obtain results from potato spraying.—J. E. Howitt, O. A. College, Guelph.

Dig out borers from trunks of peach trees. Spray underside of rose leaves with nicotine sulphate to kill Leaf-Hoppers.

Grass, clover, alfalfa, or fall sown rye, are usually ready for pasture now.

Watch carefully pear trees and young apple trees for Blossom Blight. Break off infested part. Repeat every second day till danger is past. Disinfect tools and any cuts made.
